

A young motion in whom the shopping instinct was strong, asked a German butcher the price of hamburger steak.

"Twenty-five cents a pound," he replied.

"But," she said, "the price at the grocery store is only 12 cents."

"Well," asked Otto, "try you don't buy it down there?"

"They haven't any," she explained.

"Oh, I see," replied the butcher.

"Ven I don't have it I sell it for 10 cents."

Two Feet of Snow in East; Trains Stalled; Autos Buried

New York, Feb. 10.—Northwestern United States, the chosen battleground for the elements, tonight lay under two feet of snow as a result of the second blizzard within a week.

Roaring down on the wings of northeast gales which piled up huge drifts on land and rolled up mountainous waves at sea, the storm laid a fresh covering ranging from 10 to 15 inches over the snow blanket left by last Thursday's blizzard. The drifts ranged from six to 10 feet in height.

Nine Deaths.

Nine deaths resulting from the storm were reported. Three of them were in the wreck of the fishing schooner Ralph Brown near Gloucester, Mass., two in Connecticut, one in New York city, two in Boston and one in Philadelphia. Scores of persons received minor injuries in street accidents. Railroads were crippled, motor and street traffic was suspended or demoralized. Property damage was great, and the millions of dollars expended in removing the snow of last week from streets and highways went for naught.

The storm raged through Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and tonight was roaring up the Atlantic coast toward northern New England. A survey of the area showed:

Trains Stalled.

A score of railway trains stalled in New England and on Long Island; all schools in New York and Rhode Island, and many in other States closed; County courts on Long Island closed; factories and business houses everywhere closing hours earlier than usual; mail deliveries suspended and trains, where running at all, seriously delayed.

The air mail service, for the second time since its inauguration was suspended. All pilots between New York and Chicago remained at the hangars at which the start of the storm found them.

H. B. Smith Returns Home; Tells Story of Wanderings.

Salisbury, Feb. 10.—H. B. Smith, of Yadkin, five miles north of Salisbury, world war veteran, who was gassed while in action and who disappeared in this city Monday, February 1, turned up at his home this week. He told a disconnected story of riding in an automobile with two men, drinking a soft drink and then his mind failing him and he next found himself in a wood and made his way to Lexington, returning home later. He has been taken to a Charlotte hospital for treatment.

Modernism Again.

"It seems like a waste of money to keep up the expenses of a home these days," growled the first married man. "Still, the wife and kids have to have some place to go away from," replied the second ditto.
