MRS. JAMES MCCLINTOCK DIED SUDDENLY SUNDAY

Death Occurred at Home on Church Street—Funeral Services Here This Afternoon.

Miss Ida Estelle McClintock, wife of James E. McClintock, Concord merchant, died suddenly yesterday morning at her home in this city, a broken blood vessel causing her death. The blood vessel was ruptured during a coughing spell which seized Mrs. McClintock about 11 o'clock, death following in a few minutes.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church, of which the deceased was a member. The services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. M. R. Gibson, and interment will be made in Oakwood cemetery.

Mrs. McClintock was 56 years of age, having been born in Abbeville county, South Carolina, on April 20, 1868. She was a daughter of the late John A. and Agnes I. Devlin. She resided in South Carolina until about three years ago when she moved with her family to Concord.

During her residence here Mrs. McClintock made many friends and

KANNAPOLIS KEEPS UP MARRIAGE LICENSE RECORD

Of Six Couples Licensed to Wed Here Saturday, Four Were From That Town.

Records made public several days ago showed that more marriage licenses were issued to Kannapolis couples last year than to Concord couples.

Residents of the Towel Town seem determined to keep the record again this year. Six couples received licenses to wed here Saturday and four of them gave Kannapolis as their home. One couple lives in Concord and the other at the Roberts Mill.

The Kannapolis couples follow: John E. Nunn and Miss Maudie Deaton. Justine Troutman and Miss Maggie McCloud. John Lewis Canup and Miss Blanche Heber. David K. Anderson and Miss Callie J. Holloway.

The Concord couple is Robert W. Arnett and Miss Clara Weekins, and the couple from Roberts is George H. Morris and Miss Mary Dulin.

WATER LINE TO THE TRAINING SCHOOL OPEN

Three Mile Line Was Opened on March 13th and School Has Abundance of Water.

Students at the Jackson Training School are no longer dependent on wells for their water supply. The wells have served the school well in the past but with 400 students in the school now a more adequate supply had to be secured.

This supply is being secured from the city of Concord. Under an agreement reached between the school and city officials some time ago, an eight-inch pipe line was laid from Concord to the school, a distance of three miles.

The line was completed on March 13th and on that day the new system was put in operation for the first time. It is believed by officials of the school that the city will always be in position to supply the water needs of the schools, which of necessity grow as the personnel of the school grows.

The well water which supplied the school in the past was very fine, coming from the rock beds which infest the Rocky Ridge section, but with 400 students to be cared for, it was practically impossible to get a sufficient supply from the wells except at great cost.

Death of Mrs. Belinda Furr.

On last Saturday, March 13th, about 1 o'clock p. m. the spirit of Mrs. Belinda Furr, widow of the late James A. Furr, passed over the river of death and is now basking in the sunlight of God's eternal love.

She was 67 years, 11 months and 5 days old and had been a member of the Baptist church here for 44 years. She was devoted to her church, interested in every phase of the work and was always present at every service so long as she was able to go, but for many years had been confined to her bed a greater part of the time.

She was the possessor of rare Christian virtues, was a good neighbor, a devoted companion and mother. This devotion was reciprocated by the children and neighbors during her illness, for every kindness and attention were given that loving hands could administer. Her pastor, Rev. A. A. Hatchcock, who conducted the funeral service, Sunday afternoon from the Baptist Church paid her many beautiful tributes, mentioning the different graces she possessed, speaking especially of her patience during her illness and her faith in her Lord. Often when not talking with the family or friends she might be heard communing with the Father.

She was never ashamed to hold up Christ and her last exhortation to one of her grandsons was to stand firmly for the right.

The services at the church and the grave were impressive. Two special quartets were sung at the grave, viz.: "Where the Soul Never Dies," and "I'll Live On."

The deceased is survived by five daughters, two sons, three brothers and a number of grandchildren. P.

Got 3,817 Feet of Square Lumber From One Tree.

H. M. Johnson, of No. 3 township, tells us that he saw recently a popular tree from Thomas White's place at Caldwell & Bradwood's store a popular tree which yielded 3,817 feet of square lumber. The stump measured five feet and three inches across, and the stump yielded 19 cuts, ranging from ten to twelve feet long. He asks Venus if he can beat this to trot out his tree.

REVIVAL SERVICES

Were Begun in Forest Hill and Central Methodist Church Here Yesterday.

The revival at Central Methodist Church had an auspicious beginning yesterday. The attendance at each of the services was very gratifying. The sermon at the 11 o'clock hour was on the text, "Who Is On the Lord's Side?" and was an appeal for a very definite stand on the side of God and the right. At the close of the sermon a large part of the congregation went forward and openly declared their purpose to rededicate themselves to the service of God. At the evening service the pastor preached a heart-searching sermon on "Examine Yourselves Whether Ye Be In the Faith."

The first of the week-day morning services was held at 8 o'clock this morning. The attendance was good and the indications are that these are going to be very interesting and helpful services. The early morning scenes in the life of Jesus are being used as the basis for the discourses for the morning hour.

Rev. R. M. Courtney, the pastor, will preach each evening at 7:30 and each morning at 8. The music is under the direction of Prof. Price Doyle, the choir director, with Mrs. Victor Means at the organ.

Forest Hill Revival.

The meeting started yesterday with very good interest. Mr. and Mrs. Roy T. Touts seemed to please the crowd. They are consecrated workers going with them. The choir was well organized, with a booster choir of primaries and juniors that was very striking for the first day of a special meeting.

Mr. Heuts preached two sermons which were to the point, touching the needs of churches here and elsewhere.

The sermon Sunday morning was preached on the 14th verse of the 7th chapter of II Chronicles. The subject, "How to Have a Revival at Forest Hill."

I.—The conditions—

1. Humble themselves.
2. Pray.
3. Seek God's face.
4. Continue to look for God and good.
5. Turn from wickedness.

II.—God's promise—

Will hear us and bless us when we do our part.

The evening sermon was on the "Call and Work of Gideon." The faithful 300 he said, are like many churches today, they had it all to do. The cowardly went back home. The indifferent also went back, but the faithful 300 did the job well.

He paid his tributes to the crowd who want to find fault and criticize and can never be persuaded to do anything. He said any fool could criticize but it took brains, courage and the grace of God to do a piece of constructive work.

The services for the week are as follows: At 7:30 each evening, 9:00 a. m. Young people meeting each evening at 7 o'clock.

Tuesday night—Sunday School night.

Wednesday night—Home night.

Thursday night—Law and Order night.

Friday night—Young People's night.

You are cordially welcomed to these services. We desire the co-operation and help from the other churches that the work may help all our churches and work. It is not a narrow denominational viewpoint that we work for up here, but it is for human beings. Join us. PASTOR.

Death of Mrs. E. L. Laughlin.

Mrs. E. L. Laughlin, of Thomasville, formerly Miss Onie Griffin, of Concord, died Saturday, March 20th. She had been in declining health for over a year. She was a faithful member of the First Baptist Church of Concord and was loved by all who knew her, and leaves a wide circle of friends both in Thomasville and Concord. She was brought home for burial and services were conducted by Rev. C. Herman Trueblood at the home of her mother Sunday afternoon at three-thirty. Interment was made in Oakwood cemetery. She is survived by her husband, Mr. E. L. Laughlin and little son, Edward Lewis, aged 15 months, her mother, Mrs. J. T. Griffin, one sister, Mrs. J. L. Baker, one brother, Mr. H. D. Griffin, all of Concord.

Ping Pong Tourney Starts Tonight.

The Ping Pong tourney at the Y. M. C. A. will be started tonight.

Boys over 16 years of age will open the tournament, with boys under sixteen to play later.

It is believed the groups of older boys can finish their play by Wednesday night, and at that time the younger players will begin. There are so many players in this group that it has been decided to allow the older boys to finish before the youngsters begin.

Prizes will be offered to the winners in the two groups.

The Sunday World.

Beginning Sunday, April 4th, the editors of sixteen leading fiction publishing magazines were asked to name the ten stories which each liked best of those accepted during the past year. A final selection was made by a committee of newspaper editors. The result is the superlative collection of sixteen American short-story masterpieces which will appear consecutively in The World magazine, one complete in each issue, beginning April 4th. "Thea Zell," by Booth Tarkington, will inaugurate the series. Follow these stories in The World.

is won for the truth," the communication stated. The house vote on it was 46 for and 63 against the measure.

Durham people have shown but little concern in evolution and have not been inclined to worry their minds regarding the truth or fallacy of the Darwinian theory. This, from reports heard from some sections of the state, might not hold good. The article indicates, however, that a campaign will be waged in the state to bring about the passage of a legislative act barring the teaching of evolution in the public schools of the state and the legislature will, very likely, turn out to be an active and interesting one.

In the communication received from Mr. Poole the measure which he presented to the legislature was explained, it being a resolution restricting the teaching of Darwinism, as stated before, in the public schools.

An alderman in borough council in London stated that it took one bricklayer a minute and twelve seconds to lay a brick. When he refused to withdraw his remark the union ordered out forty bricklayers.
