LOCAL MENTION

Two new cases of measles were reported this morning to the county health department.
The regular movie program will be offered at the Y. M. C. A. tonight at 7 o'clock. In addition there will be a current events contest.

Master John Addison Crowell, who underwent a serious operation at the Concord Hospital Tuesday, is doing well and his physicians say that he will be able to return home in a few days.
Republicans of the county are holding a primary this afternoon to choose delegates to the county convention to be held here next Saturday. Voting began at the various county precincts at 2 o'clock.

Two groups of county teachers were in Concord today for regular meetings. In the morning the high school teachers met at the court house and this afternoon the colored teachers are in sessions.

Funeral services for George C. Heglar, prominent farmer who died early Friday in a Charlotte hospital, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at Cold Springs Church. Masons of Concord will have charge of the services at the grave.

Members of "Our Sunday Gang" will meet at the Y tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. An hour later they will attend a special service at Forest Hill Methodist Church at which time Rev. Roy T. Houts will preach to them.

W. B. Ward, J. W. Denny and twenty students of the Concord high school left yesterday afternoon for Beaver Dam where they will remain until late this afternoon. The party camped out last night and spent today fishing.

The local Bible story contest for Forest Hill Methodist Church will be held on Sunday, April 18th. Contests in other churches will also begin soon. Miss Hersperger, expression teacher, has agreed to coach any contestants without cost and any one desiring her aid should call 61.

G. A. Batte, manager of the Southern Power Company plant here, who suffered a stroke of apoplexy several days ago, is said to be resting very comfortably now. Mr. Batt's condition has shown much improvement during the past several days, it is said.

Two persons found guilty in recorder's court Friday of operating cars while intoxicated had their licenses revoked for two years. If they drive a car within that time they must serve chain gang sentences. For having liquor one man paid $50, another $15 for being intoxicated and another $10 for an affray.

Property on the Gold Hill road has been sold by John A. Cline to J. W. Cress for $100 and other valuable considerations, according to a deed filed here Friday. Another deed records the sale of property near Kannapolis by R. B. McCombs to Fannie Shaping Boston for $100 and other valuable considerations.

Peach trees in the sandhills are said to be in their greatest glory now. Persons who visited the orchards during the week found the trees in full bloom, a condition that is expected to continue for several days. Many Concord and Cabarrus county people expect to visit the orchards tomorrow.

Temperatures here dropped rather hurriedly Friday afternoon but no killing frost was reported this morning. Storm warnings issued in Washington Friday morning warned the public of the change in temperature and overcasts which had been laid aside during the several warm days of the week were brought back into service.

Plans for the annual Y circus are being made now, the event to be staged the latter part of April. It is planned to make the circus bigger and most interesting than ever before. Plans are also being made to open the Y pool soon and it is expected that 1,000 boys and girls will be taught to swim during the summer.

Better marry the girl and save money. Steak and potatoes don't cost as much as candy and flowers. Coffee will not keep you awake at night if you drink milk instead. The honeymoon ends when the life insurance agents begin. One tells us she is going to get married this summer even if she has to go swimming every day to do so. An auto tire seems to last longest when it is on a neighbor's car. Who says this isn't a fine country? Twenty millionaires saved eleven million by the tax cut. (Copyright, 1926, Nea Service, Inc.)

WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW. New York, March 26.—The cotton market has been comparatively quiet during the past week but prices have held fairly steady on a moderate demand. While it is still early in the season, reports of delays in coming crop preparations as a result of cold or wet weather seem to have emphasized the uncertainties of the coming crop start and checked selling in spite of the full ginning figures and continued complaints of a poor demand for cotton goods. At the same time remaining supplies of old crop cotton are considered large enough to suggest the probability of increased offerings in the south should price advance and the market, on the whole, would appear to have been waiting for further developments in the spot situation or for a nearer view of coming possibilities.

The report of the census bureau placing the total ginnings from the growth of 1925 at 16,103,586 running bales, or 16,085,905 bales of 500 pounds gross weight, may have been a shade above average expectations. It was not sufficiently so to cause a material change of sentiment as to the probable end season carry-over, however, and was without any pronounced effect on the immediate market. The report on the emergence of the boll weevil up to March 15 appeared to make rather a bearish impression on sentiment but upon reconsideration did not seem to be taken as a factor of serious importance by the general market while the cold rains over the south until late this afternoon. The party camped out last night and spent today fishing.

Palm Sunday at St. James Lutheran Church. Palm Sunday will be observed in St. James Lutheran Church tomorrow, March 28. Quite a large class of young people will be received into the church by confirmation. A number of others will be confirmed at the early service on Easter Sunday and more will be united by transfers. The choir will sing in the morning "Ride on, Ride on in Majesty," by John Farmer. Mrs. H. G. Gibson will sing a solo: "There is a Green Hill Far Away," by Gounod.

Palm Sunday is the last Sunday in Lent and the first day of Holy Week. It commemorates the triumphal entry of Jesus into Jerusalem when He was greeted by the multitude with the hosannas and the waving of palm branches. It is one of the oldest festivals of the church, dating back to the fifth century. In the Orient the day is elaborately observed, more so than in America. In the Lutheran Church it is used largely as the day of receiving new members into the congregation, preparatory to the Holy Communion administered on Easter Sunday. St. James of this city, welcome visitors to worship with the congregation on tomorrow. There will be special music at each service.

Plague of Seagulls. London, March 26.—Fishermen at Deal are complaining of the losses they sustain through seagulls. The birds follow outgoing sprat-fishing boats like a great cloud; they swoop down on the catches as they are being hauled in and devour the sprats by thousands. Then they will invade the boats themselves and not content with the sprats they size by thousands on the beach, follow the catches to the railway station and in many instances to the canning establishments.

Banishing Typists' Troubles. New York, March 26.—A device has been invented which, it is claimed, will relieve typists of eye-strain. It is a bar enamelled in nine colors, and clips over the typewriter space bar. The tints are arranged to form a strong contrast, and for typists accustomed to glance at the keyboard the invention is claimed to minimize the ill effects of glare.

The Tri-States Baseball League, with a circuit of six cities in Arkansas, Tennessee and Alabama, will open its second championship season May 3rd. The schedule calls for a split season, with August 31st as the closing date.
