Bobbed hair is like some other modern conveniences. It isn't the initial cost. It's the upkeep. A real friend is one who will help you without looking as if he thinks you are so ignorant. Saunders Tells How It Feels To Be In Valley Of Shadow

Elizabeth City, March 23.—W. A. Saunderson, editor of the Elizabeth City Independent and writer for Collier's and other national journals, is able to return to his editorial duties after weeks of critical illness, culminating in a severe attack of pneumonia. For several days it was not believed he would recover. What is a man's thoughts when the valley of the shadow of death is near? Writing of his illness and recovery, Editor Saunderson says:

"I have ventured far into the Valley of the Shadow of Death within the past three weeks. It has been a wonderful adventure and I am back to testify that there is nothing in that valley to fear.

"I did not believe that I could survive an attack of pneumonia. For more than three years I have been fighting a diabetic tendency that has been quite enough for a fellow to cope with. In this time I have been advised by physicians to avoid colds for fear that a cold might develop into a fatal case of pneumonia.

"And when they sent for a trained nurse, when I knew that my fever was around 104, when I saw the worried look of my physicians when they held the stethoscope to my back and chest, and when I saw my spurt tinged with blood, I knew that I had pneumonia and I expected to die.

"I worried a bit because I had never made a will; I found myself making a careful inventory of all my physical assets and liabilities. I decided that with my insurance, my family would not be so badly provided for.

"Black night settled upon me; in the darkness there were hurrying forms and the whisperings of frightened voices. I wished the voices would quit whispering and I wondered why they seemed so full of fright. And then a new presence came to me out of the chill and blackness; the frightened little voices ceased their whispering. A great peace settled upon me.

Then the doctors, the nurse and my family had their troubles: nothing bothered me.

"More than ten years ago a German physician proposed a new treatment for pneumonia. Instead of the administration of quinine hydrochloride, he proposed the use of Numoquin Base. Numoquin Base is a derivative of Cinchona, the same as quinine; but it is sixteen times more powerful in its pneumococidal properties than any other treatment ever found for pneumonia. That is to say it will kill the pneumonia germs sixteen times more effectively than anything else ever discovered.

"It was more than ten years ago that Numoquin Base was proposed for the treatment of pneumonia; but the medical profession is slow to adopt new ideas. Numoquin Base had never been used in Elizabeth City. But I was fortunate in having a physician who had heard of it and who had just supplied himself with the drug. I am convinced that Numoquin Base, the new treatment for pneumonia, saved my life. It brought down my fever in three days. My good wife insists that prayer saved my life. The prayers of thousands went up for me. I had never dreamed that so many cared for me.

"I believe in prayer. I believe that the vibrations of human minds and hearts going up in behalf of one in illness and in pain will register upon the heart and mind of that suffering one and soothe and sustain him as surely as the vibrations of radio reach over space and make themselves heard wherever there is a receiver to catch them.

"And I know that the prayers of my friends comforted and reassured my wife and loved ones as nothing else could do. And God was near me throughout my illness because God and the goodness and greatness of humanity are one."

Ford advertisement featuring the Ford logo and text: 'When You Trade Your Car— Ford owners are continually being approached by automobile salesmen who wish to "accept" Fords as part payment on more expensive cars. It is logical that automobile dealers should be eager to trade with Ford owners. No other used car is so easy to sell as a used Ford—because everyone has confidence in Ford quality. And it is not expensive to recondition, since Ford replacement parts are lowest in price. Most automobiles carry greater discounts to dealers than the Ford—another reason why other dealers may offer the Ford owner a larger trade-in allowance. But, bear these facts in mind: The amount of the trade-in allowance you can get is not the most important thing for you to consider. The big thing is the difference you have to pay. And remember, that the higher priced car will not be so easy to dispose of when you come to trade it in. If you wish to trade your Ford for a new automobile, stick to the car that you know to be dependable, useful and economical. Go to your Ford dealer! He will give you a fair and liberal allowance for your present Ford and will gladly arrange payment of the balance to suit your convenience.
