New Tennis Cap

Here's the latest in tennis caps. It's being introduced on California courts by Eleanor Tennant, prominent society girl of Los Angeles. As you may suspect, the new cap is of French design. Miss Tennant, by the way, will take charge of the net pastime at the exclusive Beverly Hills and Huntington courts on the coast.

B. F. BRITAIN HERE TO DISCUSS CAMPAIGN

Asheboro Man Enters Race Against Zeb V. Long and is Here to Get Acquainted.

Politics seem to be warming up some. The fireworks are not being furnished by Cabarrus people but just the same one begins to hear more and more about the Democratic primary in June.

This matter has been brought to the attention of Concord and Cabarrus people this week by the appearance in Concord of Zeb V. Long and B. F. Britain, the two candidates for the Democratic nomination for solicitor of the fifteenth district. Mr. Long is representing the State at the trial of criminal cases in Cabarrus Superior Court and Mr. Britain was here today to get acquainted and make friends.

Mr. Britain in talking with a news reporter stated that he was confident he would make things interesting for Mr. Long. He stated that he expected to get the biggest part of 7,000 votes in Randolph and Montgomery counties, hoped to get some votes in Cabarrus and expected to get half of the votes cast in Rowan. He indicated that Rowan would be real battle field.

WAR MOTHERS OF STATE WILL MEET IN CITY

Call For Annual State Convention Issued Here Monday by Acting War Mother.

Mrs. W. D. Pemberton, acting State War Mother, issued from her home here Monday the following call for a State convention of the Mothers:

"The Seventh Annual State Convention of the American War Mothers will be held in Concord May the 5th and 6th.

"Convening Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock the convention will last through Thursday, with the meetings at Central Methodist Church. A number of business discussions of importance and social events of interest have been planned for the days."

It was explained by Mrs. Pemberton that the program had not yet been drafted.

Post and Flagg's Cotton Letter.

New York, April 19.—Trading has been rather evenly balanced with practically nothing fresh in the news. Persistent talk of curtailment by mills if orders do not increase in volume but that is offset to some extent by advice of a better trade in local goods market inspired perhaps by some apprehension that as mills have few goods on hand it may become increasingly difficult to cover requirements satisfactorily when and if production is reduced.

Present prices discount much that is bullish in the situation and would look cheap on real reverse causing genuine anxiety as to the supply next year.

They will play in Boston New York and several other large cities meeting some of the best players in this country. Fernie is shown above getting in shape for the season.

DR. WIEST DISCUSSES PROBLEMS OF CHURCH

Call of God and Does Not Respond To It.

"Do you know that there has been organized an atheistic society, and that it has been chartered by the State of New York?" Dr. E. F. Wiest asked the congregation at Trinity Reformed Church Monday night. Then Dr. Wiest read the principles and objectives, as set forth by the society itself. It is to destroy Christianity, root and branch. The society acknowledges that it will find its strongest opposition in the South. "That is to your credit," said Dr. Wiest in his comment. "What will it do? It will wake up the church. It will arouse the indifferent church members. It will cause the careless to be aroused to a fighting spirit." Dr. Wiest spoke on the text: 1 Corinthians 2:14. "The natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God. . . because they are spiritually judged." Though the attendance was somewhat diminished, those present were blessed in spiritual fellowship, and went away with a message that will cause them to think on these things.

"Why is it that there are so many people upon whom the church cannot find a response to their invitations, people who seem to hear no call from the Spirit of God? You invite them and they respond yes, but they do not come. They will tell you they know it is their duty as well as privilege and yet they do not give themselves to the Lord. There are so many of those who are members who are seldom in the house of God. You have talked to many who seem to be so constituted that you make no impression. Paul in the text gives the answer—they are after the natural man and therefore cannot know."

"We can meet these people with reason, in prayer, and give our testimony. It is a scientific fact that they do not know, and they cannot know because they have no spiritual capacity. Their natural capacity is not sufficient. To see the diamond as it really is you need the microscope. The natural eye cannot detect the flaw. To see the stars you need the telescope. The natural eye cannot see the stars in all their beauty, yet many cannot be seen at all with the natural eye. To locate the rich fields of iron ore you need the magnetic needle. You cannot see it hidden under the surface of the earth. To know the real condition of the heart, the physician uses the stethoscope. The natural ear can not hear the human heart."

"It is also true that to appreciate art you must have the artistic sense of appreciation. To know music you must be able to know the difference between Old Hundred and Dixie. So also to know the spiritual things we must have the sense of spiritual perception. There is the spiritual faculty. If we have so long neglected to use what we have by right of creation, the time will come that we will lose the powers and the capacity to receive the things of the Spirit of God. The man with the one talent lost his talent because he failed to use it. That is the law. And the law is inevitable. Darwin, the scientist, told how he became so engrossed in crass materialism that he lost all appreciation of art, literature, and those good things which lift up the mind and the soul. But it was too late. He had spent his life."

"Now, that spiritual faculty is faith. By faith we know. By faith we see. By faith we enter into the joys of God. By faith we are one in Jesus Christ. By faith we have personal attachment with God. And that attachment is not attained in a moment. It is the by-product of persistent education, a long experience. So the older we grow, the more like God we become."

"If you have wandered far from God, listen to the call of God. It may be a mother's prayer. It may be the cradle song of childhood. It may be the lessons you learned when a child. It may be the thoughts of a stained mother, father, teacher. Just listen to the call of God. And in your soul, answer the Spirit."

The Ringtail Circus En Route to Concord.

Rumble Brothers Ringtail Circus is fast approaching Concord for its showing here on Saturday, the 1st of May. This famous circus is now passing through several states. The very latest state it has passed through being the State of Indiana. Performing for the crowned heads of Europe and the bald heads of Kansas on many different occasions. Many of the heads before which it has performed were not crowned but sadly in need of that coronation. Europe was simply appalled at the wonderful performances given by Rumble Brothers. Lloyd George had nothing on the advance man for Rumble Bros. as a press agent for Europe. As a result of having harbored Rumble Bros. on the European continent for almost a year, Europe was known as never before. Europe knows more than ever now how to appreciate good entertainment.

CHORAL ART CLUB IS HEARD WITH PLEASURE

Greensboro Artists Please Audience at Concord Theatre in First Appearance Here.

The Greensboro Choral Art Club made its Concord debut Monday evening in the New Concord Theatre, presenting an ambitious program in a most pleasing manner. Under the direction of Charles Troxell, and with Miss Lydia Daniel accompanist, the club presented a program including French and German masterpieces, English folk songs, and negro spirituals, the program being so arranged that the various numbers were presented in a manner to keep the audience delighted at all times.

Piano solos by Helena Troxell proved among the most noted of the numbers. The child played with a touch and sense of technique that was most unusual in one of her age, and she was forced to respond with eulogies to generous applause.

The program for the entertainment was as follows:

- 1. Tenebrae factae sunt (Darkness obscured the earth)—Michael Hayden (1762-1806).
- 2. Passionsweg—Gustav Schreck.
- 3. Amidst the myrtles—Jonathan Battishill (1738-1801)—The Club.
- 4. Prophet Bird—Schumann.
- 5. Cradle Song—Schubert.
- 6. Waltz in C sharp minor—Chopin—Helena Troxell.
- 7. O mer, ouvre toi (O thou cruel sea)—Leo Delibes.
- 8. Through the silent night—Serge Rachmaninoff.
- 9. Somebody's knocking at your door (spiritual)—R. Nathaniel Dett (With tenor solo by Dr. T. Edgar Sikes)—Women's Chorus.
- 10. Elsa's Dream (Lohengrin)—Wagner—Mrs. Heymann Hagedorn.
- 11. Serenade—Edward Elgar.
- 12. Brigg Fair (Folk-song from Lincolnshire)—Percy Grainger. (Tenor solo by Bynum Clapp).
- 13. The Lee Shore—S. Coleridge-Taylor—The Club.
- 14. 6. Passetje—Delibes.
- 15. Gallowog's Cake-walk—Debussy.
- 16. Arabesque—Debussy—Helena Troxell.
- 17. Summer lullaby (Old Finish Folk-song) (Tenor solo by Robert Bunsch)—Selm Palmgren.
- 18. Finish lullaby (Folk-song)—Selm Palmgren.
- 19. I must down to the seas again (Bass solo by H. R. Heesh)—John H. Denmore—Men's Chorus.
- 20. A spring fancy—John H. Denmore.
- 21. Homing—Teresa del Riego—Mrs. Heymann Hagedorn.
- 22. Father Abraham (negro spiritual)—Harry T. Burling.
- 23. Every time I feel the spirit (Negro spiritual)—Carl B. Diton.
- 24. O holy Lord (Negro spiritual)—R. Nathaniel Dett—The Club.
