Miss Eastabrook to Visit County. Miss Helen Eastabrook, of Raleigh, State Clothing Specialist, will visit Cabarrus county on May 7th and 8th, and while here will be the guest of Miss Cooley, county home demonstration agent.

On Friday, May 7th, Miss Eastabrook will meet with representatives of each home demonstration club in the county and give her second clothing lesson. This will consist of cutting dresses with set-in sleeves without a pattern. The first lesson was given last year when Miss Eastabrook first came to the county.

On Saturday, May 8th, Miss Eastabrook will meet with members of the Junior County Council and give the first lesson to the girl members. This lesson demonstrates the cutting of dresses with butterfly sleeves, no pattern to be used.

Miss Cooley states that the meetings will be held at the Y, the hours to be announced later.

Miss Damsell to Be Heard Here.

Miss Theresa Damsell, head of the Department of Education of the North Carolina Tuberculosis Society, will spend April 30th in Concord as the guest of Miss Mary King.

Miss Damsell is a speaker and organizer of note. She is the author of several Health Books of wide circulation.

Miss Damsell's work in North Carolina has caused much favorable comment and has caused North Carolina to step into the forward ranks of Health Education.

Ellen Pemberton Class Meets.

The Ellen Pemberton Class of Central Methodist Church held a most delightful meeting Tuesday evening with Mrs. W. D. Pemberton, the leader and organizer.

About thirty members were present and enjoyed the social hour together. No business was transacted.

A Bible story contest was the biggest feature of the evening. Misses Adele and Mary Phifer Pemberton, served a delectable salad course to the class members.

Hi-Y Clubs Enjoy Picnic.

One of the most enjoyable of the many social events staged during the year by the senior Hi-Y Clubs of the Y. M. C. A., was the picnic held on Tuesday evening in a beautiful grove on the old Concord-Salisbury road.

Thirty-five members of the clubs and their guests were present. After a supper served in picnic style various games and contests claimed the attention of those present for several hours.

Study Club Meets Tomorrow.

The Study Club will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 with Mrs. W. W. Flowe, at her home on Grove street.

Louisiana: Francis Xavier Martin, W. C. S. Claiborne, John Sidell, P. G. T. Beaugard, Francis T. Nicholas.

Thumb-nail sketches of the five North Carolinians in the list are given herewith:

Davidson, William (1746-1781), of North Carolina, was born in Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, removed to North Carolina with his father in 1750, was educated at Queen's Museum, afterwards Liberty Hall, in Charlotte.

At the beginning of the Revolution he was appointed a Major in one of the first regiments raised in North Carolina and took the field a few weeks later with the rank of Brigadier General. He was killed at the battle of Cowan's Ford, N. C., on February 1, 1781. Davidson College in North Carolina is named in his honor.

Hoke, Robert Frederick, (1837-1912) of North Carolina, was born at Lincoln, North Carolina, was educated at the Kentucky Military Institute and in 1861 was commissioned a Lieutenant in the First North Carolina Regiment, Confederate States Army, rising to rank of Major General in 1864. After the war he lived in Raleigh.

Morehead, John Motley (1796-1866) of North Carolina, was born in Pittsylvania county, Virginia, removed to North Carolina, was educated at the University of North Carolina, studied law and acquired a large practice. He served in the North Carolina legislature and was Governor of the State 1841-45. In 1848 he was president of the National Whig Convention that nominated Gen. Zachary Taylor for president. He died at Rockbridge Alum Springs, Virginia.

Ruffin, Thomas (1787-1870), was born in King and Queen county, Virginia, was educated at Princeton University, studied law and removed to Hillsboro, North Carolina in 1807. He served in the North Carolina legislature in 1813-16, was judge of the State Supreme Court, 1816-18, and Chief Justice of that court, 1820-52 and 1856-58. He died in Hillsboro.

Vance, Zebulon Baird (1801-1894) was born in Buncombe county, North Carolina, was educated at the University of North Carolina, studied law, established himself at Asheville, N. C., was chosen county solicitor and in 1854 was elected to the legislature. He was elected to Congress in 1858. At the beginning of the War Between the States he was appointed Colonel of the 20th North Carolina Regiment. In 1862 he was elected Governor. When the United States troops occupied North Carolina he was arrested and for several weeks confined in a prison at Washington.

In 1870 he was elected United States Senator, but was not allowed to take his seat. He was elected Governor in 1876, and United States Senator in 1879, serving until 1884, when he died in Washington.

The Worst Sinner That Ever Was This was Rev. Mr. Fry's subject Tuesday night at Kerr Street Baptist Church, using for a text Mark 5:19. "Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee."

The house was filled, and the Spirit of God was present. The quartet sang "Kneeling at the Cross." Mr. Fry said in part:

I want to describe a poor sinner—it may be your father, it may be your mother, or it may be your son or daughter, but every sinner tonight is in an awful condition. Oh, you say you are going to describe the extremity of sin, but let me say that every one that is in sin tonight is in an awful condition.

First, I want you to notice where sin is located, and where it leads the sinner. Out yonder in the graveyard this man was in the grave yard among the stones. When you go out yonder and stand in the grave yard you are in the midst of sin for you brought death into the world. When the death angel came into your home and took your loved one that was the fruit of sin.

Second, he was also out away from home and friends. And, Oh, listen to the cry of sin. He was crying and cutting himself on the stones. Oh, the agony of that cry of sin, but he sees Jesus and ran to him and fell down at his feet and cried out to Jesus for mercy. Then it was that Jesus said "Come out of him," and the evil spirit came out. Jesus then sent him out to be a home missionary. He said "Go tell your friends how great things the Lord hath done for you." But people in that country were more interested in hogs than in the souls of men. People today are more interested in the things of this world than the souls of men.

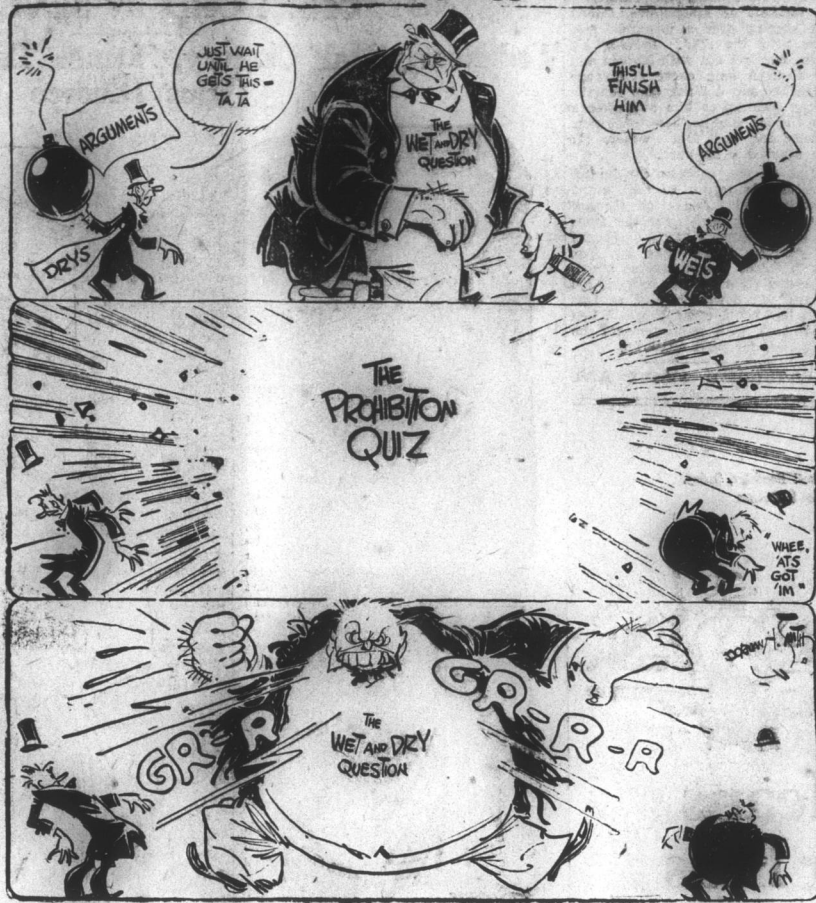

Third, what are some of the great things that Jesus had done for this man? It was a great thing that this man had come in contact with Jesus. The greatest thing that any one has ever done is to come to Jesus. Then Jesus brought him to his right mind. There are people who are intelligent in many ways who are ignorant when it comes to the Bible and religion. Then after he came to Jesus he had a home to go to. No home is a real home without Jesus. This man went home in his right mind, loving Jesus, and he had friends when he came to his right mind. Listen, sinners, Jesus and all Christian people are your friends. Then Jesus commissioned this man to be a home missionary, and tell others what Jesus had done for him. Every child of God is telling for Jesus in some way if only by their lives.

Service tonight at 7:30. The preacher's subject will be "The Price of a Soul." The souls of men will be sold tonight. Come and make a bid. Your soul will be sold. What will you bid for it? PASTOR.

DUKE FOUNDATION WILL DISTRIBUTE $210,255.75

Many Hospitals and Orphanages in the Carolinas Will Benefit By It. Charlotte, April 27.—Immediate distribution to hospitals and orphanages in North and South Carolina of the sum of $210,255.75 was authorized by the board of trustees of the Duke foundation at a business meeting here this afternoon. Of this sum the board authorized $162,583.75 for hospitals in the two Carolinas and $47,670 for orphanages. Announcement following the board meeting said that other than this there was little business transacted besides that of a routine nature. Hospitals in practically every section of the state will benefit by the action of the trustees here this afternoon. No announcement was made as to the amount of money to be received by each institution. Among the hospitals to share in the distribution is the Guilford County Tuberculosis hospital at Jamestown; City Memorial Hospital, Winston-Salem; St. Leo's Hospital, Greensboro; Forsyth County Tuberculosis Sanatorium; Anson Sanatorium, Wadesboro; Lincoln Hospital, Durham; Baptist Hospital, Winston-Salem; Grace Hospital, Morganton; Rutherford Hospital, Rutherfordton; Shelby Hospital, Shelby; Rex Hospital, Raleigh, and a large number of other institutions in North and South Carolina.

Included in the orphanages to get a share of the money ordered distributed at today's meeting is the Christian Orphanage, Elon College; Children's Home, Winston-Salem; Methodist Orphanage, Raleigh; Methodist Protestant Orphanage, High Point; Oxford Orphanage, Oxford; Baptist Orphanage, Thomasville; Barium Springs Orphanage, Pythian Home, Clayton, and a number of others. This was the first distribution of money ordered by the board. The meeting today was attended by George G. Allen, Alexander H. Sands, Jr., and Andrew D. Biddle, of New York; W. S. Lee, E. C. Marshall, C. I. Burkholder, Norman A. Cooke, and Dr. W. S. Rankin, of Charlotte, and B. D. Greer, of Greenville, S. C. Hagerstown, Md., is believed to be the first city in America to fix a speed limit for its automobile fire apparatus in responding to calls.
