IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

CHOOSE SITE FOR MT. PLEASANT HIGH SCHOOL

Building Will Be Erected at Cross Roads Just North of Town—Will Be Completed in August

The Cabarrus County Board of Education, meeting here Saturday, decided on the location for the new high school building at Mt. Pleasant, it is learned today.

The building will be located at the cross roads just north of Mt. Pleasant and will serve all of the northeast section of the county which comprises townships Nos. 6, 7 and 8 and part of townships Nos. 9, 11 and 5.

This school will serve for high school graduates from 18 elementary schools, the building to contain 18 class rooms, an office and a large auditorium. Four of the rooms will be devoted to general science, domestic science, home economics and a library.

Tentative plans already have been drafted for the building and final plans will be finished within a few days, it is reported. The board plans to let the contract for the building at an early date.

The campus of the school will contain 20 acres, the property having been donated by persons living in the vicinity of the chosen site.

With the completion of this project, together with the two other high schools now in process of erection, plus the larger high school already in use, the county will be fully equipped with high school buildings to put on a county-wide program of high school work where the organization and equipment will be adequate for efficient work in this department. It was planned by the board in the beginning of the organization to effect a system of schools for the county that will meet not only the minimum requirements for standard high schools but districts large enough to afford high school training equal to the best.

ANOTHER DOG KILLED HERE FOR EXAMINATION

Dog Bit One Boy and Scratched Another—Head Sent to Raleigh

Another dog, acting as though he were mad, has been killed here and his head forwarded to Raleigh for examination.

The dog was owned by a Mr. Thompson, who lives on East Depot street. Monday afternoon the dog started biting at everything that came before him, yet at the same time he seemed anxious to make friends with every one he met. Albert Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Cook, of East Depot street, was scratched on the arm by the dog and while the skin was not broken Mr. Cook states that he will give the boy the rabies serum should an examination show the dog was mad.

Robert Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moore, was also bitten by the dog and he too will be given the treatment if necessary.

After it became known that the dog had snapped at the children he was killed and his head shipped by express to Raleigh. The result of the examination probably will be known tomorrow.

DAIRY MEETING HERE ON NEXT THURSDAY NIGHT

Comedy Sketch Will Take Place of Lecture at Court House

"We are assured of the dairy meeting we have been expecting for some weeks," said W. T. Wall this morning. "The meeting is being billed for the 6th."

The correspondence which Mr. Wall has had with W. T. Magruder, of St. Louis, informs him that in place of the contemplated lecture there will be substituted a play, "Joe Guess Wins $1,000." The purpose of the play is identical with that of a lecture, namely, to arouse an interest in better feeding methods among the farmers and dairymen and to show each dairyman how he can produce milk at a lower rate per gallon.

But the facts are dressed into an interesting form with plenty of sketches of comedy to make it really an evening of entertainment as well as information.

Mr. Magruder will take the part of Bob Profit, the leading character in the play. The other characters are Joe Guess, Bill Know and Mr. Shaw, the banker. Joe Guess, the dairyman who does not believe in better dairy methods, is the chief comedian with his laughable comments each time Know and Profit attempt to show him better methods.

The play is given here under the management of the Cash Feed Store. The performance is free. 4-31-c.

wrapped with dry paper for insulation. The wires are arranged in layers and covered with a lead sheath. They provide more than 250 telephone circuits and over 500 telegraph messages can be sent at the same time as the telephone messages. The line was recently completed at a cost of $25,000,000.

HIGH PRAISE FOR THE CAROLINA PLAYMAKERS

What the President of the Carnegie Corporation Says in Scribner's Magazine

Frederick P. Keppel, President of the Carnegie Corporation, has the following to say of the Carolina Playmakers, which will present "The First Year" at the Concord High School auditorium tonight at 8:15:

"Not so long ago, nothing was more local in its influence than a college play. Today the performances at Iowa City and Berkeley, at Cornell, and at Chapel Hill, and a score of other places, are news in New York.

A most interesting and significant element in the whole movement is what has already become the tradition in certain institutions, namely, to encourage original plays written by students and with local settings. These 'folk plays' as they are usually called, include not only one-act pieces but full-size dramas. The University of North Dakota gives plays of this character, dealing with pioneer life, in its open air theatre, formed by an ox-bow in the small river that runs through Grand Forks. Since their professor of dramatics, Frederick Koch, migrated from North Dakota to North Carolina, the university at Chapel Hill has put on a number of plays, written and performed by students, and some of them of extraordinary merit, dealing with present-day mountain life or with local historical traditions. Georgia and South Carolina have followed their northern neighbor, and one of Professor Koch's pupils has carried the idea to the State University of Wyoming and thence to Arizona, thereby adding two new centers of local tradition, that of the Rockies and that of the Southwest border. The movement has been vital enough to impel two Chinese undergraduates in American colleges to write folk plays of their own land, and one of these has been deemed worthy of publication in full in 'The Golden Book'."

NATIONAL BABY WEEK

MAY 3rd TO 8th

National Baby Week this year will be observed in Parks-Belk Company's beginning today—May 3rd, through Saturday, May 8th.

Basic principles of service underlie our plans for this great and important even and each co-worker in our Children's Department appreciates the fact that the observance of this week involves the development in practice of these principles. The fundamentals of our service plans are as follows:

- (1) Weighing babies who are brought into the department during the week
- (2) Co-operation with mothers in the distribution of literature relating to motherhood, babyhood and childhood. Literature prepared by the American Child Health Association, written by doctors of the best authority, will be given without cost to all who come in during the week. This literature will be found interesting and instructive by all mothers.

Vanta Baby Garments

The pinless, buttonless garment so highly recommended by doctors—the garments you have seen advertised in the Ladies' Home Journal and other leading periodicals.

There are five reasons why Vanta Garments are best for the little ones:

- (1) They enable mothers to dress baby without a pin or a button.
- (2) They enable mothers to dress baby without once turning him over—experienced mothers realize the importance of this.
- (3) All garments can be slipped on over the feet with least possible annoyance to baby.
- (4) Vanta Baby Garments tend to keep baby square shouldered, owing to the point of suspension which makes the center back muscles carry weight of clothing, instead of dragging down the undeveloped shoulders.
- (5) Vanta Baby Garments are guaranteed not-shrinkable.

William Hayes Windley, of Belhaven, N. C. This tall and dashing freshman might easily be mistaken for the late Wallace Reid. As Dick Loring in the Playmakers production of "The First Year," he has caused many to point to him as the most promising juvenile yet discovered by the Carolina Playmakers. He is a member of the Zeta Psi Fraternity.
