IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

BRING EVOLUTION FIGHT TO CABARRUS COUNTY

Dr. T. T. Martin to Speak in County Wide Fight. The anti-evolution forces, with headquarters in Charlotte, are making Cabarrus county part of their battle-field at present. This is probably due in part to the fact that Dr. J. R. Pentuff, one of the leaders in the movement to ban the teaching of evolution in tax-supported schools, is a local pastor. Another factor is the proximity of Concord to Charlotte, where for the present at least the foes of evolution are being centered. Announcement is made today that Dr. T. T. Martin, field director for the Anti-Evolution League of America, will speak at the following places during the week: Kannapolis Tuesday night; China Grove Thursday night, and Mt. Pleasant Friday night. Dr. Martin spoke in the court house here last Tuesday night and on Monday night of last week another member of the speakers' bureau of the anti was heard here. Dr. Martin also spoke in the high school here several days ago but at that time he did not discuss evolution. Dr. Martin and Dr. Pentuff are two of the incorporators of the company recently chartered in the state to publish an anti-evolution newspaper. Dr. Pentuff will be editor of the paper but Dr. Martin is expected to be one of its principal contributors. Just when the publication will make its debut to North Carolina newspapers is not known.

SEANLY GIRL WINS THE SPELLING PRIZE

Louise Eford Wins $100 and Free Trip to Washington. Louise Eford, representing Stanly county, was last night victorious over 80 other contestants in the Charlotte Observer's spelling bee at the city auditorium and was acclaimed state champion. She won the match from Charis G. Griffin, representing Bertie county, when she correctly spelled the word "crystalline." Louise Eford, who is 13 years of age, and who is in the eighth grade in the Albemarle high school, will be given a trip to Washington where she will compete with the state champions from the other states of the union as North Carolina's representative. In addition to this she was awarded a $100 prize. Charles Griffin was presented with $50 as runner-up and Ruth Cobb, of Polk county, was awarded $25 for taking third place. Last night's contest was heard by more than 1,000 people, who sat through the three hours and displayed a lively interest in the entire procedure. The following was the order in which the contestants misspelled words and the words they were unable to spell: Elizabeth Jackson, of Pennington county, on "assure," Frances McDowell, of Edgecombe county, on "renewal," Billie Sloan, of Macon county, on "capacity," Lena Ray, of Robeson county, on "alfalfa," Augusta Kata, of Burke, on "excellent," Stella Keckie, of Caldwell, on "succeeded," Dora Reece, of Gaston, on "association," Josephine Deal, of Catawba, on "correspond," Edith Robbick, of Avery, on "advisable," Halbert Cochran, of Surry, and Audrey James, of Scotland, both sat down on the word "assessment," Jean Cromitie, of Bladen, on "quantities," Leona Johnson, of Anson, on "client," Fannie Whitlowe, of Iredell, on "scourteous," Sarah Hurwitz, of Moore, on "equipped," Mattie Parsons, of Wilkes, on "candidacy," Edward Todd, of Rowan, on "zealously." The last thirteen, standing at the conclusion of the second period, sat down in the order as follows: Alice Armfield, of Cabarrus, on "persuade," Lorena Rutledge, of Davie, on "Mottos," Agnes Harrell, of Cleveland, on "metropolis," Alvan McLean, of Charlotte, on "rummage," Edie Baker, of Union, on "counselled," Rosanelle Cash, of Forsyth, on "cherical," Mary Alice Long, of Mecklenburg, on "susceptibility," Perry Parks, of Richmond, on "abhor," Mary Washington, of Granville, on "continuously," Ruth Cobb, of Polk, on "stupified," Charles R. Griffin, of Bertie, on "Crystalline." Five farms, comprising seventy-two acres, are still in existence on Manhattan Island.

SIXTEEN NEW PATIENTS AT ORTHOPAEDIC CLINIC

Forty-Two Persons Examined at the Meeting of Monthly Clinic Here Saturday. That interest in the orthopaedic clinic being held here once each month is on the increase is demonstrated by the fact that forty-two crippled persons were examined at the meeting of the clinic here Saturday, and that of the total sixteen were new cases. This is the largest number of new cases since the clinic was started, at the county health department, started this morning and the total for the day was about as large as at any other session of the clinic. Dr. Alonso Myers, of Charlotte, was director of the clinic again Saturday. He told a number of the patients that marked improvement is being made by them and encouragement was given by him to each of the sixteen new patients. Braces were fitted for a number of the patients, others were given casts and still others given treatment. COUNTY T. B. CLINIC GETS UNDERWAY TODAY. Dr. S. E. Lee Will Conduct Clinic Which Started at Kannapolis Saturday. The county-wide tuberculosis clinic to be conducted by Dr. S. E. Lee, got underway at the Y. M. C. A. in Kannapolis today. Quite a number of persons already have made appointments with Dr. Lee but all of his time is not taken so far and others who wish to be examined are advised by Dr. S. E. Buchanan, county health officer, to make appointments now. The examinations are made without cost. Cabarrus Man Dies in Winston-Salem. WHEAT AND OATS DOING FINE IN COUNTY NOW

Indications Are That Crops Will Be Best in Several Years—Vetch and Barley on Increase. Farm people in Concord last Saturday were almost unanimous in the opinion that the wheat and oat crops in the county this year will be the best in several years. The season has been especially good for them and indications now are for bumper crops. "The fields of wheat and oats are especially beautifully at this time," one farmer stated, "and it does one good to get out in the country and see them. The season has been unusually good and the crops should be heavy." Several of the farmers mentioned the increased acreage of vetch and barley in the county, adding that this should be a very fine thing for the county. While vetch and barley have always been grown in the county, it was stated, they received little attention until within the past several years when more farmers are devoting acreage to them. The barley crop is harvested several months earlier than the corn crop and for that reason should prove of value while the corn is maturing, it was stated. The wheat crop will be ready for harvest about June 1st, it is said, with the oats being harvested just a little earlier than that in most sections of the county.

Others who wish to get an estimate on timber to be cut should notify Mr. Goodman at once and if possible Mr. Graeber will visit their farms while in the county Friday. The meeting at the Moose farm will begin at 2 p. m. and all interested in the care of forests are invited to be present.

Case of Hydrophobia in Union County

W. L. Black, of No. 10 township, brought to the city news of a case of hydrophobia from Unionville, in this county. It seems that three sons of Cyrus Presser, of that place, were bitten by a mad dog a little over two weeks ago. The dog was their own, and the boys were bitten by the dog just after he had returned home from an absence of several days. All the boys were given the Pasteur treatment, but yesterday the youngest one, who is ten years old, developed hydrophobia, having several convulsions. He was at once taken to a Charlotte hospital for treatment.

Be Sure to See the Dwarfs in the Operetta Tuesday Night

Those who saw the dress rehearsal of "Snow-White and the Seven Dwarfs" on Saturday morning are most enthusiastic in their praise of the performance. It would be difficult to select the individuals who performed their part best; however, the Dwarfs add variety to the program and are sure to gain favor with the audience. The doors of the High school auditorium will be opened at 7:30 Tuesday night and the opening chorus of the Operetta will begin promptly at 8 o'clock. NEW DE MILLE FILM REVEALS BEBE AS COOK

"Splendid Crime," Thrills With Fast Action and Rare Comedy. "The Splendid Crime," which comes to the Star Theatre today and Tuesday for a two days' run, offers the rare combination of an unusually interesting story and a popular star. It was written as well as produced by William de Mille, the noted Paramount director, who turned author again after a lapse of several years, and serves as a starring vehicle for Bebe Daniels. As the title suggests, the plot has a crook theme, but Mr. de Mille is said to have treated it from a serio-comic angle so that the picture is a fifty-fifty affair, in which action and comedy vie with drama and suspense. Miss Daniels' role is that of a quaint, self-reliant girl, who has been brought up in an environment of poverty and crime. An unpleasant encounter with the police leads her to reflect on the advantages of honesty, and she announces her intention to go straight. However, her two companions, her foster foster and his crook accomplices, persuade her to help them pull off just one more job in a house on Park Avenue.

If Cost Asheville Jay Walker $18.90

Asheville police have begun to enforce the city's laws with regard to jay walking for the first time in police annals and a man has been arrested, tried, convicted and fined $18.90 for traveling while it was the turn of the automobiles. Sometime ago the city installed an electric traffic system and announced that jay walkers would be prosecuted, but the arrest of William Hobaska, of Philadelphia, was the first evidence that the law would be enforced.
