CHARLOTTE PLANS NO GENERAL CELEBRATION

151st Anniversary of Signing of Declaration of Independence to Pass Quietly.—Other Charlotte News.
Charlotte, May 18.—Thursday May 20, the 151st anniversary of the signing of the Mecklenburg declaration of independence will pass very quietly here this year, according to present indications.
The only public exercise marking the day will be the unveiling of a marker and boulder on West Trade street to the memory of Captain James Jack, who carried the news of the signing of the Mecklenburg declaration of independence to Philadelphia, making the trip on horseback.
The marker is the result of work done by the local chapter of the Children of the American Revolution. It will be placed in front of Statten's store on West Trade street, the site of Captain Jack's home. The five D. A. R. Chapters will take part in the program at the unveiling exercise.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

CABARRUS COUNTY AGAIN BLUE RIBBON WINNER

One of Three Counties in State To Make 100 Per Cent. Rating in Sunday School Work.
Cabarrus county again has been graded perfect by the State Sunday School Association and for this excellence has been awarded a "Blue Ribbon." Two other counties in the State, Rowan and Davie, also were awarded ribbons.
Some of the most interesting facts about the work of the State Sunday School Association are contained in a recent report sent out by D. W. Sims, general superintendent. These facts include:
All of the one hundred counties are now organized into county Sunday School Associations, and all held county conventions during the convention year.
In the one hundred county conventions held during the year a total of 1,541 Sunday Schools were represented. The attendance records show that at these conventions there were 400 pastors, 760 superintendents, and 3,790 teachers. The estimated total attendance was 24,950 people, or an average of 243 at each of these one hundred County Conventions.

ADD STAR CAST NO VAIN

Ray Branch Novel Electrified With Names of Note in Acting Group.
The term, "all-star cast," often means a no star cast, but in Clarence Brown's production of Rex Beach's famous murder mystery, "The Green Woman," a "Universal Jewel," which is coming to the "Eastman Theatre" Wednesday and Thursday, this is not true.
An admirable assemblage of motion picture talent was cast under direction of one of the screen's most successful directors.
Jack Pickford, Louise Dresser, Constance Bennett, Spotswood Aitkin, George Cooper, Gustav Van Seyferitz, George Nichols and March MacDermott are the members who play the various roles.

TUBERCULOSIS CLINIC OFF TO GOOD START

Fifteen Persons Examined at Clinic Which Opened Monday in Kannapolis.
The tuberculosis clinic being conducted in the county got off to a good start Monday when fifteen persons were examined. The clinic this week is being conducted in Kannapolis.
Dr. S. E. Lee is conducting the clinic and examined six persons Monday morning. In the afternoon nine others were examined and a number of others who called were unable to get appointments. They will be examined later.
The clinic will continue in the Kannapolis Y until Friday when it will be moved to the Cabarrus Y. Next week it will be conducted in Concord with the exception of Friday when it will be held at Mt. Pleasant.

WOMEN TO MEET AT MT. OLIVET CHURCH TOMORROW

Representatives from all of the minority societies of the Methodist churches in the county are expected to attend the meeting at Mt. Olivet Church tomorrow when a county federation will be perfected.
Mrs. C. C. Weaver, conference president of the Woman's Missionary Society, and Mrs. W. C. Houston, district secretary, will be present to assist in the organization of the federation.

CAVS CRASH ON MARSH STREET

A Chevrolet, a truck and a Ford were in a wreck on Marsh street Monday morning.
The Ford, parked in front of the home of T. T. Smith, had a bumper knocked off; the Chevrolet, occupied by several high school students, was badly damaged, and the truck, owned by the Gibson Manufacturing Co., was slightly damaged.
The accident occurred, it is said, when the truck and Chevrolet tried to pass between the parked Ford and the parking on the other side of the street.
No one was seriously hurt, it is said, although the driver of the truck and one of the occupants of the Chevrolet received minor injuries.

RECHARGE ROAD BRING

County Road Forces Making Highway of Road Leading to Good County.
The Bethpage road, important link in the route from Cabarrus to Iredell counties, is being modernized and the county road forces.
The Bethpage road is to be improved as far as a Coddle Creek at present. It is estimated that the forces will be in the present locality for the greater part of the summer. However, the policy of sending parts of the force and equipment to other parts of the county where work is needed will be followed so that as many sections of the county as possible will be worked during the summer season.
