department, this arrangement giving him easy access to the press room where the papers are printed. An exhibit at the south end of the building makes it possible for the papers to be taken from the office without going through any other part of the building.
No changes were made to the press room which houses the Goss Comet on which regular editions of The Tribune and The Times are printed. The Babcock press which is used for page ad, circulars, and surplus supplies of news print.

THE TRAVELING LIBRARIES

There Are 57 in the State, and These Are Doing a Great Work

Tribune Bureau
Sir Walter Hotel
Raleigh, May 18.—Transformation of halls into places of recreation and intellectual betterment and communities from places of mental stagnation into ones of enlightenment is being accomplished by the State library commission through its work with its traveling libraries and book lending service.
At Weldon, in Halifax county, a public library has been started as the result of the library commission's work in what formerly was the old city jail. The building had long been in disuse and when a location for a library was needed, it was turned over to the commission. It has been repaired and now is an attractive, though small library, where hundreds of children and older folk, too, go for wholesome recreation.

WORLD'S OF NEW FROCKS

For Summer Days

And that is just what we hope and want to make it, said Miss Petty. "We want the people over the state to feel that each one of these 36,000 books in our collection is theirs for the asking and that we are here to serve them. We want to make the department in fact the "North Carolina Public Library."
In addition to the lending of books to individuals and the traveling libraries, the commission maintains a special debates and easy reference service library, special picture collections, of special objects. In fact, it tries to adapt itself to the needs of the people it can best serve, and is really doing that, under the able and capable direction of Mrs. Lillian B. Griggs, secretary of the library commission.

Ghosts Worry Illinois Convicts; Cringe at Shadows in Their Cells

By RALPH A. HULL
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Chicago, May 19.—Materialists do scoff at the idea of ghosts, but they do exist—in the minds at least of 805 convicts in Illinois penal institutions.
When the evening shadows fall and the lights are extinguished or turned low in the prisons at Joliet and Chester, Ill., one in every five prisoners is haunted by the shadow of his victim flitting along the dim corridor outside his cell. The ghost cannot be observed by anybody else, but some of the most hardened criminals have been seen to cringe as the silhouettes of a guard, marching between the cell and one of the infrequent lights, is outlined on the wall.
Just what the convict, bearing the brand of Cain, sees, only he knows. Perhaps he pictures the living, breathing form of the person whose life he took; perhaps he sees the wraith of one departed, a nemesis which will pursue him while he expires, insofar as he can, the crime he has committed; perhaps he sees the wraith of a man who knows.

EIGHTEEN DOGS KILLED IN CONCORD TUESDAY

Police Shoot Dogs Found Wandering Around Without Vaccines of License Tags.
The war against dogs which have not been vaccinated against rabies was begun by Concord police officers Tuesday and eighteen casualties were reported on the first day.
A majority of the dogs killed Tuesday were found in open settlements, and they carried no license or vaccine tags. More than a dozen of the dogs killed were found in Ward 4.
A recent ordinance here requires owners of dogs to have them vaccinated. A number of persons have been bitten recently by mad dogs and the police are going to kill all dogs found wandering about the city unless such dogs carry tags showing they have been vaccinated against rabies.

SUBURBAN DWELLERS PAY HIGHER RATES FOR WATER

Persons Tapping in on Line to Jackson Training School Pay 50 Per Cent. More Than City Users.
The new water line which feeds the Jackson Training School is also being utilized by persons living along the line, it is announced by officials of the water and light department. The line is sufficient to care for the needs of the Training School and private homes too, it is said.
Persons living outside the city pay a higher rate for their water, however, it is said, the rate for them being 30 per cent. higher than for the man who lives in the city. This is the rate usually charged for such service, it is said.

FILLING IN CAR TRACK ON SOUTH UNION STREET

Amesite Being Used on Street in Business Section.—To Remove Tracks at Square.
Amesite is being used now by the city to fill in the space between the street car tracks on South Union street in the business district.
This work will be carried out from a point near the square at Cornish street. Amesite was first used here on West Depot street and it is holding up so well there that it is being generally used to repair the streets.
It is announced by city officials that within the next several days the street car tracks at the square will be removed and the street repaired. All of the tracks on the curve will be removed.

WANT MERCHANTS TO MEET HERE IN 1927

Local Delegates to Merchants' Association Meeting Authorized to Extend Invitation.
Concord will be one of the cities extending an invitation to the State Merchants' Association for its 1927 meeting.
Chamber of Commerce officials Tuesday sent a telegram to C. M. Ivey and J. E. Davis, local delegates to the 1926 convention, directing them to extend the invitation from Concord. The association is meeting this week in Goldsboro.
Now that Concord has a hotel of fitting facilities needed by such conventions, it is planned to make bids for many conventions in the future.

O. B. Jones Leaves Farm Life School

Salisbury Post.
Mr. O. B. Jones, for the past seven years principal of the China Grove Farm Life School, is completing his last year's work at the Howard county institution, and leaves soon after commencement to become head of the Weaverville, N. C., schools, and to push a strong building program in this community.
It is with regret that China Grove and Rowan county give up Mr. Jones because of the splendid work he has done there in building up the high school; but his many friends wish him success in his new field.
Beginning with a single building at China Grove, Mr. Jones has expanded the plant until now three modern buildings, well equipped and of ample size to carry on the work, are kept in constant use. The student body numbered 17 pupils when he took charge of the plant, and today 225 are enrolled. During his stay as head of the school, 200 pupils have been graduated; 250 boys and 500 men have been in direct contact with the school through its agricultural department and over 400 girls have received direct benefit from the home economics course. The school is doing splendid work, and is in the best of condition.
To succeed Principal Jones, Professor Johnson, now with the Lincoln school, has been selected by the county board of education and will take up his duties there this fall.

KEEP LEGION OUT OF POLITICS

Raleigh News and Observer.
Legion men resent trying to make them a part of a primary fight—News and Observer editorial, Sunday, May 16th.
That statement was made with reference to a publication by a dozen men in this paper seeking to line up the Legion men for a certain candidate. This paper does not assume to speak for the Legion, but it made that statement after hearing expressions of objection by good members of the Legion. That this paper was correctly interpreting the Legion sentiment is confirmed by Henry L. Stevens, Jr., Department Commander of the American Legion of North Carolina.
"If a man has no other qualifications for office than that he is a Legionnaire, he had better stay out of the race, and if any man tries to use the American Legion to further or secure his political advancement then he, too, is in for great disappointment."

A Crowded House Greeted Grammar School Artists

The High School Auditorium was filled to overflowing with an enthusiastic audience Tuesday evening when the Central Grammar School pupils presented the well known fairy tale, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." The young actresses and actors are to be congratulated on their rendition of the lovely operetta.
One hundred and five dollars was realized from the ticket sale, and is to be used for the Constance Cline Memorial Library Fund.

When Ladies of the Court Complained that the smoke and fumes were ruining their complexions, King Henry IV of England prohibited the use of coal. Later, coal burning was made a capital offense, and one user was actually hanged.

The historic Bell in the Capitol at Rome, silent since the Pope's loss of temporal power fifty-six years ago, was sounded again during a recent religious celebration.
