Buried Gold Discovered.
(By International News Service)
Demopolis, Ala., June 11.—Discovery of buried gold on the Whitfield plantation near here several days ago, has started the countryside digging and tongues to wagging. Other stories of the finding of buried treasure ratched in the vicinity of Shady Grove Swamp continue to leak out.

It was rumored here today that two men had unearthed another pot of gold coin at the root of an ancient oak tree on land other than that owned by the Whitfields.

C. Gaius Whitfield, scion of the Alabama Whitfields, who now lives at Middlesboro, Ky., discovered gold coins of pre-war vintage estimated to be worth several thousand dollars near Shady Grove. The gold was located through an old map left by his father, Boaz Whitfield.

NO MAN WITHOUT HOPE

So Thinks George Ross Pou, Superintendent of the State Prison.

Raleigh, June 11.—(AP)—The man without hope—does he exist? George Ross Pou, superintendent of State prison, appears to believe not. And he probably has as good an opportunity to find such a man, if he exists, as any many in North Carolina.

"Do you find that the men sentenced to life imprisonment are hard to control and of little value to the State, since they apparently have little to hope for?" Mr. Pou was asked.

The questioner's tone implied that an affirmative reply was taken for granted. But Mr. Pou replied: "It is a singular thing but our life-termers are among the best prisoners we have."

Of about fifty men in the State's prison under life sentences, a number have so conducted themselves as to become honor prisoners, or "trusties," he explained. The life-termers, however, are not allowed to go to the honor camps, he added, but are kept at the prison here in Raleigh.

With the single exception of those sentenced to death and to life terms, all prisoners given more than minor sentences are now sentenced for an indeterminate period, a minimum and maximum time being fixed by the trial judge. Their conduct determines how soon they are given their freedom.

When Governor Morrison, by blanket order, placed all prisoners in the State prison under an indeterminate sentence, even he, as strongly as he favored the indeterminate sentence method, excepted the life-termers from the order.

But, Mr. Pou says, the life-termers without exception hope for ultimate freedom, and, as a result, make model prisoners as a rule.

"Hope springs eternal", it would seem, even in the breasts of life-termers.

TWO YOUNG MEN UNDER ARREST

Were Members of Wild Party That Resulted in Girl's Death.

Winston-Salem, June 10.—Upon information secured from Sheriff Moxley of Yadkin county local officers have placed under arrest William Parish and Carl Cooper, two of three young white men who were riding in the car Sunday morning which overturned on the Yadkinville road, resulting in the death of Miss Dora Cheek and the injury to Miss Ruby Wrenn. Parrish surrendered to the local officers when he learned that there was a warrant out for his arrest and Cooper was arrested, it is stated, on Trade street.

Both young men were today taken back to Yadkin county for trial. Tom Bullard, the other young man, said to have been in the car, has not been apprehended, although there is a warrant out for his arrest on the same charge as the other two young men. It is stated that Bullard was driving the car when the accident occurred.

Miss Ruby Wrenn, who is in a local hospital suffering from injuries sustained in the wreck, is getting along as well as could be expected and will be able, it is thought to leave the institution in a few days. It is stated that Miss Wrenn told officers that all the other members of the party with the exception of herself had been drinking fluid from a quart bottle and from a hot water bottle. Parrish, however, denied the charge when arrested. He claims that he saw none of the members of the party take a drink, stating that it was correct that a party was on but that no one of the party was helplessly drunk.

Electric Flash Starts Auto Horn Blowing.
(By International News Service)
Orangeburg, S. C., June 11.—During an electrical storm here the horn of a parked automobile suddenly began blowing. The car was unoccupied, and after investigation, it was decided that a flash of lightning started the horn to blowing.

Old Dr. Robinson! He likes to take the halt and the lame and the blind and the weak and make them over better than new. He deals mostly in mental tonics and his pills are largely sugar-coated. His "office" is the dugout at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, and his dispensary the playing enclosure. Here, he works his miracles in the broad day light, where all may see and admire. Thousands do so daily, which is only one of the reasons old Dr. Robinson is one of the most valuable employees in all baseball.

TEN HENS LAID 274 EGGS IN MONTH OF MAY

Showing Made by Birds Belonging to Eugene W. Brown, of Rich Square.

Raleigh, June 11.—(AP)—Poultrymen in North Carolina are elated over the showing being made by a pen of ten birds belonging to Eugene W. Brown, of Rich Square, which is entered in the southeastern egg laying contest at McCormick, S. C., according to advices reaching the poultry department of State College.

These birds have been leading the entire list of entries for the past few months. The contest was begun on November 1, 1925, and will close on October 24th of this year.

Mr. Brown entered his pen at the beginning, and though some of his pullets were immature at the time of entry, they have been gaining steadily on the other pens and have now taken a lead that will be hard to displace, declare poultry experts.

During January these birds won three certificates, one for the highest producing pen in the contest, one for the highest producing pen for the breed, and one for having the highest individual hen in the contest. Each month the pen has received at least one certificate.

Mr. Brown's ten birds laid 274 eggs during the month of May, according to the latest report—nearly one egg per day per hen. This is the highest record made by any pen so far.

Mr. Brown's flock of birds is of the Tanager strain of White Leghorns, and have been carefully bred and cared for, say State College officials.

Firing Squad Failed in Its Duty.
Knoxville, Tenn., June 11.—Knoxville's police firing squad has shirked its duty.

Its victim was not only spared death, but, to the contrary, given every encouragement to live.

The firing squad was summoned to put to death Dick, a speckled bull pup who was ailing. But the squad showed tender hearts, and, after escorting the animal off, supposedly to its execution, they spirited Dick away to police headquarters.

Under their watchful eyes, Dick is recovering his health. But he's dead so far as his former owner is concerned, the squad declares.

THIN, NERVOUS

Virginia Lady Tells of Taking Cardui and Says She Has Since Recovered Perfect Health.

Lynchburg, Va.—"I have taken Cardui several times for a run-down condition and have found it perfectly splendid," says Mrs. Lee T. Marsh, 715 First Street, this city.

"About ten years ago," she explains, "I became so weak I could not go about. I looked like a skeleton and... was dreadfully worried about myself. A friend suggested Cardui and I decided to try it. I kept up the medicine until I had taken six bottles. It regulated and built me up. I improved greatly. Last year we drove up here through the country from Florida. I was exposed to the weather and must have taken cold, for I became ill... I got run-down, lost flesh, could not sleep and had no appetite at all. I was so nervous that I did not know what to do.

"I thought of Cardui. I began to take it regularly and it was not long before I began to feel better. I took six bottles, one after another, and at the finish of the last one was perfectly well again. Since then I have continued gaining in weight and all winter have been in perfect health."
