

Today Last Big Demonstration Perfection Oil Stoves

Mr. Boggan in Charge

Every housewife in Cabarrus County who is interested in better cooked food, a saving in time and fuel bills, and a Cooler Kitchen in summer, should attend this demonstration.

We have the Perfection Stove that the Six Famous Cooks recommended so enthusiastically, but you don't have to take their word for it. Let us show you why a Perfection in your kitchen means better cooking and greater convenience.

Perfection owners also are invited to inspect the new 1926 models.

HANGS HIMSELF TO THE HEAD OF HIS BED

E. H. Sterrett, of Hendersonville, had suffered breakdown months ago. Hendersonville, June 13.—E. H. Sterrett, traveling salesman, who came here from Spartanburg, S. C., about a year ago, was found dead in his bed with his neck tied to the head piece with a belt, when his daughter Edith entered his room this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

bert Beck decided that Sterrett, who was 57 years old, came to his death by his own hand. Members of his family stated that he suffered some months ago nervous breakdown and underwent treatment in a Philadelphia hospital.

Hay-fever victims will find no solace in higher apartments of skyscraper structures, scientists declare. As much pollen exists in the air at the top of a thirty-two-story building as on the ground.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Come boldly—Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.—Hebrews 4:16.

LOCAL MENTION

One case of diphtheria, and several cases of whooping cough were reported to the office of the County Health Department on Saturday.

G. P. Williams, of Ohio, will be in the county Saturday to confer with farmers about the purchase of their wool.

J. M. Hendrix returned to his home here Sunday from a Charlotte hospital where he underwent treatment for several weeks. His condition is reported as much improved.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A., Conrad Hill was elected to the board to complete the unexpired term of the late T. D. Maness.

A young alligator, 33 inches in length, is on display at the Correll jewelry store. The alligator was sent to A. N. Lentz by his brother, Ray Lentz, of Wauchula, Fla., and is living now in a tin tub.

Seventy-five boys from the Jackson Training School were swimming pool guests of the Y. M. C. A. Saturday afternoon. Throughout the summer a group of deserving boys from the Training School will be accorded the privilege of using the pool on Saturday afternoons.

The Y. M. C. A. is in receipt of a number of complimentary letters from various parts of the country on the "Y" edition of the Concord Daily Tribune that was printed and distributed a little more than a month ago.

Reservations continue to come in from members of the State Building and Loan League who will meet in Concord June 22, 23, and 24, according to reports from the Chamber of Commerce. Almost two hundred members are expected to attend.

W. M. Sherrill, associate editor, is deeply indebted to R. D. Goodman, county farm agent, for some delicious "Never-Miss" peaches. The fruit is unusually fine, showing the high quality of staff that Cabarrus can produce.

Marriage licenses were issued Saturday to the following couples by Register of Deeds Elliott: Roy Edsell, of Concord, and Miss Branche Cress, of Concord Route 4, and Curtis Black and Miss Mackie Roberts, both of Kannapolis.

E. J. Berry, of Charlotte, contractor for the new high school at Mt. Pleasant, is spending the day here and in Mt. Pleasant. Mr. Berry plans to start work on the school in the near future and plans for the work are being discussed by him and school officials during the day.

Concord sweltered over the weekend. With the mercury higher than 90 during Saturday and Sunday the city was unable to get any real relief from the terrific heat of the past several days. All signs of rain Saturday afternoon and Sunday night failed.

Lieut. Pat Ritchie, of the local national guard company, states that headquarters for the company will be moved on July first from the Allison building to the Cori building on West Depot street. These quarters are those formerly occupied by the American Legion.

Only six defendants are to be tried in recorder's court this afternoon, police officers report. Four are charged with speeding, one with being intoxicated and one with possessing liquor and having it for sale. This is the lightest Monday docket in several weeks.

Rain fell in several adjoining counties Sunday but taken as a whole Cabarrus remained about as dry as ever. Charlotte had a shower that came in for several hours and some rain fell in Newell, according to reports brought here. Every sign of rain in evidence here about 8 p. m. failed to bring a shower.
