EXPULSED FOR MUTINY.

Refusal of Student Body to Obey Order for Extra Work Followed by Expulsion Order.

Greensboro, Oct. 21.—The entire student-body of the State Agricultural and Mechanical College for the negro race offered rebellion to a faculty rule requiring Saturday classes this morning and President James B. Dudley was forced to call upon the police to enforce his ultimatum. No violence was offered, though tonight the difficulty between faculty and students remained unsettled.

There was no intimation of trouble until today. This morning not one of the two hundred students reported for class. Suspected of being leaders of the mutiny, the senior class was summoned before the faculty and upon the refusal to report at once for work, the entire class was ordered to pack their trunks and depart. President Dudley gave notice that all found on the campus after four hours would be arrested for trespass. Under this threat the students moved their headquarters up town and announced that unless the faculty rule of six days work was modified, the class as a whole, together with practically all of the remaining one hundred and sixty students, would go home.

President Dudley says the rebellion of the students is because of an edict from the faculty "providing for more of the practical in the educational courses of the college to the consequent curtailment of the theoretical.

Cold Weather All Over Country.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Low temperatures will prevail over practically the entire country this week, according to a bulletin issued by the weather bureau tonight. Frosts are predicted for the interior of the Gulf States and the Ohio valley and there is a probability of snow in the Great Lake region.

"An area of low barometric pressure of great magnitude of the British Isles will move eastward and cause stormy weather over Europe during the next several days."

"In the United States the temperature during the week will average low from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic coast and there will be frosts on Monday in the interior of the Gulf states and in the Ohio valley and by Tuesday or Wednesday in the middle Atlantic and elevated regions in the South Atlantic states."

Don't forget that for good accommodations, for yourself and stock, the Winstead Warehouse can not be excelled. So load for Roxboro and drive for headquarters, where Thaxton & Burch will see that every pile sells well.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Tariff Not Only Issue Republicans Are Afraid of.

From our Special Correspondent
Washington, Oct. 23.—Tariff isn't the only thing the Republicans are afraid of in the coming campaign. There is another item that is giving them worry. They are wondering how they are to give an answer to the charges of corruption, incompetency and maladministration that have been brought out and proven by the various Democratic investigating committees.

Republican leaders realize that this problem is going to present exceptional difficulties by the fact that when the Democrats started investigating they the Republicans, shouted in derision of such tactics, declaring there was nothing to investigate; that under the Republican rule the affairs of government had been conducted in the only perfect manner, and that the whole purpose of the Democrats was to make political thunder.

That there was really need of some investigating in and around Washington was amply proven before the probes of Republican rule had well begun, and despite all of the revelations of extravagance and maladministration that have come to light, many of the investigating committees are just getting ready to go to work. So far they have but scratched the surface.

The Moss committee brought to light the shameful manner in which the plotters in the pure food bureau had stripped Dr. Wiley of all power, and made a farce of the law designed to protect the public from the greed of unscrupulous food dopers.

The Stanley committee learned that the steel trust for years paid tremendous profits on a capitalization represented largely by water and blue air, and that the trust gobbled up the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company, its principal rival, with the aid and connivance of a republican administration, ostensibly to prevent a panic, but actually to stifle its main competitor. It was further brought out that men were acting as council for the steel trust while receiving money from the government as special "trust buster."

The probe of the state department revealed that money was expended for one thing, and charged to another, while the committee on expenditures in the navy department discovered that more than $3,000,000 worth of supplies had been taken from the Washington navy yard without an accounting, and that the bookkeeping system in use there is absolutely ridiculous.

Mr. Wickersham Again.

"I am surprised," says Attorney General Wickersham, "that the business men of this country have not taken more advantage of that section of the law which permits the collection of threefold damages when they have been injured by a trust. That section is a powerful lever, and would make those illegally organized have more respect for the law."

Likewise, the people are surprised that Mr. Wickersham as attorney general does not take advantage of the law which makes it possible to send guilty trust magnates to jail. They believe it would be an even still more "powerful lever."

THE INDEPENDENTS STILL FIGHTING.

Virginia and North Carolina Also Protest That the Plan Submitted Does Not Break Monopoly.

New York, Oct. 23.—Henry H. Hunter, of the counsel for the six hundred independent industries in the United States who are opposing the approval by the United States circuit court the plan of dissolution, forwarded a letter to Governor Dix tonight requesting that the attorney general of New York do as the attorneys general of South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia have done in filing objections to the plans.

Messrs. Bickett, Williams and Lyon, attorneys general of North Carolina, Virginia and South Carolina, submitted to the circuit court their bill of objections to the trust plans upon which public hearing will be begun next Monday. The bill represents that the states named are among the largest tobacco growers in the union and the growers "feel that they are in a state of financial servitude" to the trust, by reason of the fact it has been practically the only purchaser of their tobacco, and has arbitrarily fixed the prices. "To the consumer it is a luxury, but to them it is a necessity."

The bill further states that the proposed plan does not possess the merits of even looking like the monopoly and "we earnestly protest that the plan is in no sense a compliance with the judgement of the supreme court of the United States."

It is plain that the company has taken advantage of the clause in the judgement about the rule of reason and that the plan is a bold attempt to nullify the judgement of the court.

Wickersham Busy Preparing Brief in Tobacco Case.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Attorney General Wickersham preparing the brief on behalf of the government in connection with the segregation plans proposed by the American Tobacco Company. It is Mr. Wickersham's intention to file the document with the end of the week.

Until announced by the court at the public hearings which are to begin in New York Monday, the Attorney General's attitude toward the reorganization plans will not be made public. Department of Justice officials, however, point out that the position of the government is naturally a defensive one and that it is probable the Attorney General may not agree with certain features of the plan as now outlined.

Felix Levy, an attorney representing tobacco manufacturers who oppose the plan, and the officials of several independent tobacco companies had a lengthy conference with Attorney General Wickersham today, and immediately at its close Mr. Wickersham began preparing the statement of his position.
