TOBACCO CASE ON YESTERDAY.

New York, Oct. 30.—The hearings of the plans submitted by the tobacco trust for dissolution and reorganization under the decree of the United States supreme court began before United States Circuit Judge Lacombe, Noyes, Holt and Ward today. The epoch-making court marshalled a third and the largest array of legal talent that has been brought together in a court room in New York at one time in many years. The government's forces were headed by Attorney General Wickersham, assisted by Special Deputy Attorney Joseph C. Reynolds, who compiled and prosecuted the suit against the great tobacco combination.

Many of the most distinguished corporation lawyers in the United States appeared for the trust. Joseph H. Choate entered the list as counsel for the four per cent bondholders of the company. He characterized his clients as "innocent investors." Louis C. Krauthoff, chief counsel of the beef trust, appeared for clients whom he denominated "the poor holders of five thousand share of common stock." Morgan O'Brien, a former judge of the supreme court, also put in a plea for other innocent investors, the same being holders of six per cent bonds to the extent of millions.

The trust forces proper were headed by Louis Case Ledyard.

DeLancey Nicoll, W. W. Fuller, Junius B. Parker and S. Stouck, opposed to them directly and representing various organizations and interests of independent tobacco dealers, manufacturers and producers were Louis D. Brandeis, of Boston, who put the railroad to their knees on their united request for an increase of freight rates; John W. Yerkes, of Kentucky, formerly internal revenue commissioner; Henry H. Hunter and Felix H. Levy, of New York; E. J. Justice, of North Carolina, and the attorneys general of North Carolina, Virginia and South Carolina, Kentucky and New York, Attorney General Carmody, who was represented by Deputy Gray, intervened in behalf of the tobacco manufacturers and dealers of New York in spite of the public avowal of Governor Dix that he was opposed to the program of trust prosecution under the Sherman law.

Attorney General Wickersham filed with the court a carefully prepared bill of objection to the plan. Two of the lawyers of the independents insisted that the government should resort to the supreme court's alternative of receivership proceedings. Attorney General Wickersham's petition prescribed fourteen conditions with which the plans must comply before the government will be satisfied.

Democracy Will Win—The Way The Wind is Blowing.

By Clyde H. Taverner

Washington, Oct. 30.—The democrats, according to even Republican newspapers, ought to win in 1912.

All they have to do is to organize and pull together. The republican party can not defeat the democratic candidate for the presidency. The only possible thing that can prevent the election of a democratic president in 1912 is the Democrats themselves. The opportunity is here, and from all parts of the country reports are reaching headquarters that the democrats realize it and are already laying plans for a campaign that will result in the democrats sweeping the country in 1912.

There seems to be no way for the republicans to avoid defeat if the democrats get together and work, as they are now starting out to do. If Mr. Taft is re-nominated the insurgents will slash him, and if Senator La Follette is nominated the "old guard" will slash him.

INDIANA WILL GO DEMOCRATIC.

The Philadelphia North American, republican, sent its Washington correspondent, Angus McSweeney, to Indiana to report impartially on conditions there. This is a part of the report he sent back to his paper:

"Indiana is hopelessly lost to President Taft and the Republicans. From no indications is it possible to reason that they will be as strong as they were in the last election, when they lost every congressional district but one, and control of the legislature. Since then rapid development of progressive republican sentiment into an open hostility to the Taft administration, and the reactionary policies which he advocates, make it obvious that with Taft as the Republican candidate again, the vote against him in this state will be overwhelming."

THE WAY THE WIND IS BLOWING

A canvas of Green county, Iowa, made by mail, may be accepted as a thermometer showing how the political wind is blowing in that section. One hundred and twenty letters were sent out to Republicans only, and ninety-seven answers received. Some of the questions presented and the answers received are as follows:

If Taft should be nominated, will you support him? Yes, 21; no, 64; blank, 12.

Do you approve of the Payne-Aldrich bill? Yes, 12; no, 85.

Do you approve of Taft's action in the Ballinger matter? Yes, 2; no, 91.

Do you approve of the attack of Dr. Wiley? Yes, 3; no, 81.

Do you approve of Taft's veto of the woolen schedule as passed by the last Congress? Yes, 18; no, 70.

Do you believe the Taft administration favors the farmer and laborer or the trusts? Farmers, 6; trusts, 58.

A Tribute of Love.

It is with a sad, sad heart that I attempt to announce the death of my dear Aunt, Mrs. Addie Pointer Williams. Which occurred at her home in Roxboro, N. C., Oct. 19, 1911. Her illness was of short duration, two weeks only. And she was relieved of further suffering by the angel of death who bore her sweet spirit to the glory world, having all that was mortal for loving hands to consign to the mother earth. Her body was laid to rest in the family burying ground, near Ceppo, Person County, N. C., where husband and daughter waited her welcome approach.

The funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. E. M. Snipes. The attending physician pronounced her disease typhoid fever. The family have the sympathy of a large circle of relations and friends, for to know her was to love her. She was the sunshine of the home loved and grief stricken children bear their trouble with so much patience and marked christian fortitude. But in many human bosoms an ocean of trouble is rolling and tossing its billows in fiercest fury, forcing its spray out at times through the eyelids in brimmiest tears. Therefore Christ will not leave His people comfortless in the worries and cares of life. At the very hour at which they most need Him, He will come to them. When the shadows begin to open and the clouds gather, then Christ comes to cheer and comfort.

Little did I think when I bade her goodbye one month previous to her death, that it would be the last time, that she would ever visit us, or that we would never again see her alive. Her death has cast a gloom over the community that can never be forgotten. But it is a blessed thought to know that she is free from her sufferings and is at rest with her dear Saviour, no care can ever befall her, no more burning fever, but all is love, joy, peace and happiness.

I believe that God will give a sweet surprise to tear-stained, saddened eyes. And that His heaven will be most glad, most tided through with joy for you and me. As we have suffered most. God never made Spirit for Spirit, an swering shade for shade, and placed them side by side so wrought in one, Though separate mystified and meant to break, The quivering threads between. When we shall wake, I am sure we will be very glad. That for a little while we were so sad.
