

FROM ALLENSVILLE.

On Thursday the 2nd day of Nov. Richard and Mrs. Richard and all of the little Richards were invited to take supper and enjoy a musical at the home of Mr. Willie Yancey, and of course Richard and Miss Richard went, Mrs. Richard not feeling good did not attend. After supper we were entertained by the Allensville string band, composed of Charlie Slaughter, Glover Slaughter, Jeff and Tinnie O'Brian. They made some rare music, such as they used to have forty years ago in Shake Rag and such men as Thad Jones and Richard were in attendance. And while I never was much on a dance, to listen to such music does seem to make one's joints get a little loose and causes him to think of his younger days and those beautiful girls he used to meet, many of whom have already gone to another shore, others are old and care worn. Richard, when he listens to such music as this and thinks of those gone on before and we, who must soon follow, whether the music of Heaven will be more charming or the girls more beautiful than those we have seen here. The preachers tell us we will know no difference between men and women when we get to Heaven, but it will just be one happy band of people, but Richard don't know about this, as it always takes both sex here to run a big meeting or do anything worth while. But the preachers can make their claim and Richard will make his for neither knows just how it will be.

Mr. Yancey is preparing to leave us and perhaps go back to Ohio to work in the rubber trade. It was sad luck to Mr. Gus Slaughter to get his car stolen at the fair. But that is all that Richard can see in these fairs—to gather together a lot of shrewd rogues and lewd women to rob the unsuspecting hard working farmer of his money and the young men of their morals. It is true it may pay the managers of the fair but it most certainly takes more money from the County than it brings in, and no doubt leaves a train of diseases which will pay the doctors for years to come, but so far as the public is concerned I feel they are always the loser.

Mr. Joe Hughes is on the sick list and there seems to be little improvement.

The farmers are now very busy getting in their corn. The crop is large and the quality excellent. POOR RICHARD.

A SURPRISE BIRTHDAY.

On Nov. 5th, 1922, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. S. Wrenn presented Mr. Wrenn of Roxboro with a surprise birthday dinner. At 10 o'clock the children began to come in and in a short while all of the children and grandchildren had arrived. They then spread the table and it was full to overflowing. They then chatted awhile until they thought Bro. R. E. White had had time to get there from service at the Baptist church. Mr. White never came, but he missed a real treat, and we sure would have appreciated his presence.

Mr. Wrenn has six children and they were all there with twenty-two grandchildren, one grandson was absent, Samuel Wrenn. Just before serving dinner we had J. T. Yarboro to present a few presents which were given to Mr. Wrenn and to tell just what we were there for, to celebrate his 62nd birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Ed White were with the guests.

We hope some day to repeat this occasion, but that is the sad part, with six children, with husband and wives, and twenty-two grandchildren, may all never meet at father's and mother's house again. May God bless each one present and let Papa and mama stay here many more years is my prayer.

MR. MURRAY GETS PEETICAL.

We all have a duty that we should not shirk, But now the election is over let's get down to work.

We are glad that on the 7th everything went nice.

There was not a single person who tried to vote twice.

When the votes were counted there was a great cheer.

For all of the Democrats name's were there.

We give it to our opponents, they made a good fight.

But when politics get wrong we have to get them right.

We are glad the day has come when money won't elect a man.

For a brave and true country is where we all should stand.

Let's ask the Lord for a bountiful blessing.

For Person County it has learned a lesson.

—S. M. Murray.

"AN ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Palmer Stone Works of Albemarle, N. C. who are Wholesale and Retail builders of Fine Monuments and Art Memorials wish to take this opportunity to thank their patrons for the excellent number of orders given them this year, that is, more than $500.00 worth daily.

In order to meet this increased demand, we have added more than one hundred feet to our factory, and are adding additional machinery and mechanics to bring our production to $1,000.00 worth daily.

Our slogan is: Such complete satisfaction as to compel you to tell your neighbors and friends about us.

This has brought us in fifteen years, from one man's shop to the gigantic proportions we now assume. If you are interested in the purchase of a memorial, we shall be glad to have you write us for fuller information.

Look for the Palmer Stone Works monuments, they are built better.

Eminent 19th, the Gold Medal Jersey Bull of the North Carolina Experiment Station, died as a result of exposure when being shipped to the State Fair. He was 16 years old and has a number of gold and silver medal daughters.

Scrub stock on waste land is a poor investment but pure bred animals on good pasture are still paying good returns.

Pasture, fencing and livestock come in the order named. Its poor business to start backwards.
