

Uncle Johns' John

EMILY FRANCIS CLAYTON.

Thursday September 1922, was an eventful and momentous day in the home life of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clayton.

Emily was so loving that her parents and grandparents built air castles for her day by day, hope was built upon hope that all would be well and that the frail little body would become strong and that she would grow to splendid girlhood and womanhood.

On June 20th, 1923, the funeral services were held from the home after which she was tenderly laid to rest in the family burying ground beneath banks of beautiful floral offerings.

CLAPPERS OF THE FRIGHTFUL FIFTIES

Everybody knows that young people's manners were never so atrocious as today. Dismay Atherton's "Black Oxen" comprehensive fulminations against the painting, immediate dressing, drinking, and unchaperoned parties of the new generation.

But is it? Devout believes in the Alcott. Trowbridge traditions should pursue the chapter of John D. Long's newly published diary, "America of Yesterday" describing his preceptorship in a Massachusetts academy, 1857-58.

GREEN LAWNS FOR ALL SUMMER Raleigh, N. C., July 4.—"Lawns will not remain green during the hot mid-summer," says F. E. McCall, Garden Specialist for the North Carolina State College and Department of Agriculture.

Tomato plants will grow eight to ten feet high if tied to a stake and the suckers removed weekly. This is the best way to train them says extension horticulturist R. F. Payne.

stern old Puritan fathers would say if he should hear such sounds and see such sights? Thirty-five years later he had a chance to learn from Charles Francis Adams' study of town life in Old New England that Puritan society itself had a seamy side.

LAWLESSNESS.

I saw a very interesting article in your issue of June 6th, copied from The Manufacturers Record which read, reread and read again, and expect to read yet more, and I hope the readers of The Courier read, considered and will act upon the great truths contained in said article.

Perhaps no law of our country has been more violated or as little respected and regarded as our prohibition laws. And why should this be, when it was brought about mostly by the direct vote of the people—but little legislation about it, is my understanding.

The writer of said article uses some plain strong language, saying the buyer of the bootleggers whiskey is equally guilty with the seller and his influence for evil is vastly greater, for he is sowing the seed of moral rotteness in the hearts of his own children, and all of the young people who know of his law violation.

Where the blockader doing business flourishes the character of the people goes down, property depreciates, vice flourishes and there is confusion and every evil works. Dear people, I am not writing to create any envy, hatred or ill will, I have no desire to offend any one, but I wish something could be done to get people to think and consider seriously on what will be the result of the life they are living.

Improvements in feeding and caring for swine must originate in the mind of the owner, if he thinks it not worth while—then it isn't says

Lawns can be green throughout the year if the soil is properly prepared. Mr. McCall says that an ideal soil is one moderately moist and containing considerable clay; a soil that holds moisture well and has a tendency to be heavy and compact rather than loose and sandy.

Mr. McCall gives the following formula for the preparation of the lawn on one fourth acre. Well rotted stable manure or leaf mold 10 loads.

Lime 250 lbs. Ground bone (fine) 200 lbs. Fertilizer (3 percent nitrogen 6- 8 percent Phosphoric acid 8 percent potash) 100 lbs.

"A lawn" states Mr. McCall "in which the major element is Bermuda Grass will be most likely to succeed under our extremely hot conditions while Italian rye grass makes a splendid winter lawn.

FARMER REFUSES TO VACINATE, LOSES HOGS

Dunn, N. C., July 3.—Due to the prevalence of hog cholera in Hertford County, County Agent H. A. Edge decided to put on a campaign to vaccinate the hogs of the county and called on Dr. F. D. Owen who has charge of this work for the State College and Department of Agriculture to help him out.

Each of the hogs were worth $20 at the time of being attacked with the disease. Thus $5 would have saved $80 or more if the hogs were vaccinated in terms of meat this fall and winter.

Dr. Owens says that the serum treatment is a preventative agent and is not a curative agent and so it is wise to lock the door before the horse is stolen—not afterwards. It seems that he is right.

If you want to know the facts about farm credit in North Carolina write the editor of the extension service at Raleigh for a copy of the May 1923, Bulletin of the Department of Agriculture. Its title is "Farm Credit in North Carolina."

DON'T WAIT Take Advantage of a Roxboro Citizen's Experience.

When the back begins to ache, Don't wait until backache becomes chronic; Till kidney troubles develop; Till urinary troubles destroy night's rest.

Profit by a Roxboro citizen's experience. Otis C. Hamlet, millwright, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a fine kidney medicine. My kidneys were out of order and bothered me a good deal by their sluggish action.

FROM ALLENVILLE.

Crops in this section are extremely late, corn looks fairly well, but tobacco is uncommonly sorry for this time of the year—late, uneven and poor stand and still dying. It looks now like we will necessarily have a very inferior crop.

We had a childrens day at Allensville yesterday, June 24th, had a nice attendance and a very enjoyable morning, and while we were holding and while we were holding service at Allensville the colored people were holding an all day service at Vernon Hill, so a delegation composed of some of the leading men from Allensville and Rock Grove went down in the afternoon to hear these worthy colored people worship God.

I believe you could not find any. The youngest Richard of the fam- where. And such singing we heard, it was a real treat. I wish Mrs. Richard for the Big 4 of Roxboro and ard, Miss Richard and all the other both old and young Richard will appreciate which were left behind appreciate it very much if the mer- could have heard this singing. But chants of the County will assist him I hear they will soon sing again at in unloading any very heavy stuff he Cedar Grove, and as this is real near may stop at your door with; he is Allensville it may be all the Rich- very willing but hot very strong.— ards will be there. Poor Richard.
