DEATH OF MR. A. M. STANFIELD.

On last Tuesday morning Mr. A. M. Stanfield of Brookdale passed away. He, with his daughter, Miss Anna, had lived at Brookdale for the past several years, and no one has ever been heard to say a word other than complimentary to this good man. He reached a ripe old age, being 77 years old. The funeral services were conducted at Allensville church, his former home, and his old friends and neighbors gathered in large numbers to pay their last respects.

Rarely has it been our pleasure to talk with any one who delighted more to talk about the Bible and the things pertaining to religion, and best of all, he lived as he talked. Of this world's goods, he possessed little, but in yonder world whither we all are traveling, he will be among the wealthiest, for he will most surely have many stars in his crown. Truly we can exclaim with the Psalmist, "Behold the man."

YOUNG MAN SERIOUSLY HURT.

Monday morning Mr. Robert Lynch, a young man connected with a lumber company operating out at Hurdle Mills, was seriously hurt. It seems that something had gone wrong with the engine of the truck on which he was riding, and reaching over was attempting to adjust the barometer when the machine struck a root and he pitched forward, striking his head against a bolt. He was unconscious for some time, and was carried to the hospital in Durham for treatment. His injury is not thought to be critical.

DEATH OF MRS. BOWES.

Mrs. Clifton Bowes, of route one, died at the home of her husband on Monday night, February 25th, and was buried at Clements church on Wednesday morning. Mrs. Bowes had been in bad health for the past several years and her death was no surprise. She was possessed of a loving disposition and her friends will greatly miss her kind and loving ways.
