

TOMS-CARVER WEDDING

SOLEMNIZED SATURDAY

Memorial Methodist church was a scene of unusual beauty on Saturday evening, at eight o'clock, when a large throng gathered to witness the marriage of Miss Julia Carver and Edgar Shelton Toms.

The decoration of white and green was extremely artistic, and redolent of Spring. An avenue of lilies extended down the aisle, great clusters of the fragrant flowers being attached to the pews with tulle streamers.

In the chancel, against a background of white, a cascade of southern smilax and asparagus fern was unusually effective. Groups of palms, large candelabra gleaming with the light of many white candles, and tall baskets of lilies and bride roses completed the charming scene.

The wedding ceremony was preceded by an elaborate musical program. Following the rendition of "Liebestraum," by Mrs. Venable, an organist, Samuel Runk of Trinity college, played a violin solo, "The Waters of Minnetonka."

Gordon Carver, a cousin of the bride, sang "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," and "I love you," with Mrs. Cunningham as accompanist. The Mendelssohn wedding march was used as the processional with the Tannhauser march as the recessional.

William W. Flowers, of New York, William D. Carmichael, John A. Buchanan, Mallory Hackney, and John C. Michie, Jr., were ushers.

The groomsmen were: Henry Cole, of New York; William Branson, of Concord; William Carver, Arthur Carver, brothers of the bride; and Zack Toms, a brother of the groom.

Miss Carver's attractive bridesmaids were: Miss Ruth Early, of Louisville; Miss Laura Underwood, of Fayetteville; Miss Iva Jeannette, of Manteo; Miss Hunter Holloway, of Smithfield, Va.; Miss Mabel Westcott, of Lake Junaluska; and Miss Helen Lyon a cousin of the bride.

They wore chic frocks of peach georgette, made with a tight bodice and full, flared skirt, elaborately embroidered in gold, and edged with a band of marabou. Gold slippers and stockings completed these charming costumes.

The bride entered the church with her father, Hosa Lee Carver. She was radiant in an exquisite creation of white Dutchess satin, elaborately embroidered in crystal beads and Princess lace medallions. Her train, which fell from the shoulders, was beaded in crystal with inserts of Princess lace medallions, in the same pattern as her gown.

The Reverend Mr. Peele of Trinity Methodist church, and the Reverend Mr. Starns of the Rougemont Methodist church, were the officiating clergymen.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Carver entertained the members of the bridal party, their families, and the out-of-town guests, at the Forest Hills country club.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hosa Lee Carver of Rougemont. She is a graduate of Trinity college, and a member of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority. Her unusual attractiveness and charming personality have made her a very popular member of the younger set in Durham, and throughout the state.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton White Toms, of New York and Durham. After graduating with high honors at the famous Bell Buckle school in Tennessee, he attended Trinity college for three years, where he was a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity. He is a young man of marked ability and delightful personality.

He lives in Philadelphia where he is superintendent of the Ellis Branch of the Liggett and Myers Tobacco company, of which his father is vice-president.

Mr. and Mrs. Toms left at midnight, the bride wearing a smart model from Maybelle Manning, of the new rose-tan poiret twill, made with a one-piece sleeveless frock, and long coat edged with tiger. Her chic hat matched the suit.

After a fortnight's stay in Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Toms will be at home at 327 Wellesley Road, Philadelphia.
