VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION.

One of our pleasures is in meeting and discussing with the various men connected with the different phases of welfare work in this State. One day last week Mr. Paul J. Ranson, asst. supervisor of Vocational Rehabilitation, favored us with a call, and we were greatly interested in the work his board is doing. He was here for the purpose of seeing what could be done for some four or five boys who are crippled and diseased, and are at present a great care and charge on their families. He told us of many cases where this board had taken men and boys of this class—some of them charges upon their county, and made self supporting. It is a wonderful work.

Few of our people know anything about this phase of work and we are giving a short synopsis of what it is doing. Read it:

I. Its Purpose

It is the purpose of Vocational Rehabilitation to render physically handicapped persons fit to engage in occupations which will make them self-supporting, thereby creating happiness and contentment among those individuals and families affected, reducing the number of those seeking charity, lowering county and state expenses for public charges, and checking social agitation and distress through proper social and economic methods.

II. Methods of Work

Vocational Rehabilitation consists of three phases—advisement, training, and placement. The disabled person is counseled in the selection of a desirable vocation; then given training for the occupation selected and agreed upon in such a manner that the trainee may later use the information gained to follow his chosen vocation; and upon the completion of his training every effort is made to place the rehabilitant in satisfactory employment. The placement in employment is followed up with careful systematic regard for the ultimate success of the rehabilitation program.

III. Who Are Eligible

To be eligible for rehabilitation one must:

1. Have a physical defect or infirmity, whether constitutional or acquired by accident, injury, or disease.
2. Be totally partially incapacitated for remunerative occupation.
3. Reasonably be expected to be fit to engage in a remunerative occupation after completing a rehabilitation course.
4. Be sixteen years of age or over. There is no upper age limit so long as rehabilitation is feasible.
5. Have been a bona fide resident of the State of North Carolina at the time the disability was incurred, or have lived in the State at least one year prior to time of making application for aid.

The disabled person may be male or female, and of any race.

V. How You May Help

You can materially aid this great movement by reporting any disabled man or woman in your community to Supervisor of Vocational Rehabilitation, Raleigh, N. C.

"Meanin' o' no harm" we just rise to remark that we wish Judge Sinclair could hold all of the courts in this County for a few years. He is not cruel but he believes in justice, and when any one is convicted in his court they get justice—which often means the roads. He does not believe in licensing blind tigers and block-headers, as many on the bench do, but hands them out road sentences, and those sentences stick, too.

So there will be no primary in this State on the presidential question, as Mr. McAdoo gets it by default, being the only candidate to file. At the last moment Mr. Underwood's campaign manager decided it good politics to leave it to Mr. McAdoo.

EVERFAST FABRICS

CAN BE BOILED WITHOUT CHANGING THEIR COLOR.

Wash Fabrics can no longer be called "strictly fast color" unless they can be boiled without losing their original color, or even their look of fresh, sparkling newness.

This is a vital part of the new standard of color fastness set by Everfast Wash Fabrics.

Here are fabrics which can be treated exactly as you treat white materials. You can forget entirely about the color because Everfast colors are proof against washing with strong soaps and soda—washing by steam laundries—indefinite exposure to hot sunshine—perspiration and all kinds of weather.

Not one of the many dangers that threaten the colors of ordinary wash clothes can touch Everfast fabrics.

We have complete lines of colors of Everfast Gingham, Everfast Suiting, Everfast Crepe and Everfast Voiles. You will not find genuine Everfast in any other store in Roxboro. All colors of all Everfast fabrics absolutely guaranteed. Buy Everfast Fabrics.
