GOING AFTER IT.

Very few things worth while come to any of us at this day and time without going after it, and going hard. For the past two seasons it has been a well-known fact that the Tobacco Growers Association was not receiving the amount of tobacco which should be delivered here, and we want to congratulate the officers of this Association who are making such strenuous efforts to bring tobacco to this delivery point. If they do not succeed it will not be because they have not made an earnest effort. We congratulate them for their work and believe the deliveries here this year will show the fruits of their efforts.

If the independent warehouses will only fall in line and make equally as untiring efforts we shall see this market show a great increase in number of pounds handled here, by both plans.

There should not be any fight between the two plans, for those who deliver to the Association can not sell the independent way, neither can the independent farmer—that is, the farmer who is not a member of the Association, sell with the co-op warehouse, for after the first day of delivery, September 23rd, you can not join the Association if you want to. We are all good citizens, looking to the prosperity of our own town and County, wanting to help build up the County religiously, morally and educationally, and the only way we can do this is to stick to home folks. So, whether you sell openly or deliver to the co-ops, bring your tobacco to Roxboro, deal with your friends and let's all forget those hard things each has said about the other—we be brethren.

USE GOOD JUDGMENT.

We wish we could impress upon every farmer in this County the necessity of showing good judgment in handling his money this year. Many, we regret to say, are very much in debt, have carried some of these debts over for two, or three, years, and the first duty you owe—after providing for the necessities of your family, is to pay something on these debts. Of course, we know, many are in debt through no negligence on their part, but owing to peculiar circumstances over which they had no control. It looks as if this was going to be a good crop year, both for tobacco and cotton, and from the way tobacco is selling in the Eastern part of the State it looks as if it will bring a good price. We see it stated in the papers this morning that it is averaging five cents a pound more on the Kinston market than it averaged a year ago. Cotton shows every sign of selling well.

But what will all of this mean to you, unless you use good judgment in spending your money. It matters not how much any one makes, so long as one spends more than his income, so long will that one be hard up, and it is only a question of time until the sheriff will sell him out, either for debts due some one or taxes due the county.

We want to see the farmer have just as many comforts and conveniences, and just as good automobiles as any one—for he deserves it, but good judgment just now says "pay your debts," and get out from under the thumb of your creditor, and then buy the luxuries.

Governor Morrison has opened up on his campaign for boats and terminals, but it looks as if he has an uphill road to travel. At a meeting of the Democratic bodies in Raleigh a few days since they decided it was not a party measure and all Democratic speakers out in the interest of the party will stay off of it. Unless all signs fail—and they do in dry weather, this pet measure of the Governor is going to be buried so deep it will be hard to awaken on the morning when Gabriel blows his horn.

We are amused at some of the silly stuff put out by both political parties along about this time of a campaign year. For instance the manager of President Coolidge's campaign says it is generally conceded, and known by leading Democrats, that Mr. Davis will run third in the presidential race, Mr. LaFollette being second. Of course, any one with a thimble full of brains, knows that Mr. LaFollette will not get as many votes in the entire Nation as Mr. Davis will get in the South.

"As Main goes, etc." All rot, Maine went Republican of course, and everybody expected it to do so.
