GENERAL ASSEMBLY ENDS TUESDAY NIGHT

SESSION WENT OVER TIME LIMIT THREE DAYS

Raleigh, March 10.—The general assembly of North Carolina adjourned its 1925 session sine die at 11:22 tonight.

Shortly before the hour for adjournment was reached and the calendars in both houses had been cleared, the doors of both chambers were opened so that Speaker Pharr and Lieutenant Governor Long might see each other. The gavels in the two chambers fell simultaneously.

The general assembly had been in session for 63 days, three more than the constitutional length prescribed. Clocks in the two houses were turned forward eight minutes to bring the hands point to 11:30 as a joint resolution had already been passed calling for closing at that hour.

As the hour of adjournment approached, the center aisles of the senate and house were crowded with members and visitors anxious to see the formalities attendant upon the occasion.

The sergeants at arms turned forward the clocks at 11:22 o'clock so that the hands pointed to the half hour. Then Speaker Pharr and President Long raised their gavels in the air.

"By virtue of my authority as president of the senate I do now pronounce this body adjourned sine die," declared Mr. Long.

"I do now pronounce this house adjourned sine die," declared Mr. Pharr. The gavels fell in unison and the 1925 session of the general assembly had passed into history.

TO THE HONORABLE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS FOR PERSON COUNTY

I hereby make application for the position of Treasurer for Person County. If you see fit to favor me with this position I will serve the County to the best of my ability, keep all records as the County may suggest and duly and faithfully care for the funds of the County without any salary whatsoever.

Respectfully,
FRANK H. WILLSON.

B. and L. STOCKHOLDERS MET SATURDAY.

The Stockholders of the Roxboro Building and Loan Association held their annual meeting last Saturday at 11 o'clock in the offices of the Secretary. The Secretary rendered his report which showed the Association to be in very healthy condition. This report was accepted and approved without change. The election of directors resulted in the re-election of all the old directors, who in a short meeting later re-elected all the present officers.

This Association, though comparatively young, has made fine progress and bids fair to become one of the most useful of Roxboro's organizations.

Attention of the stockholders was called to the next series of stock, which is to be issued beginning April 1st. The Secretary and other officers are anxious that a large number of shares be subscribed for in this series.

MR. R. I. SATTERFIELD HONORED

The friends of Mr. R. I. Satterfield will be interested to know that he was among the members received in to the Chi Tau national fraternity at the initiation of the Eta chapter of the organization in Columbia University, New York City last week. The Eta chapter at Columbia was secured primarily through the efforts of Mr. Satterfield, it is understood here. Chi Tau has chapters at Duke University, State College, University of North Carolina, Wake Forest, Presbyterian College, Clinton S. C. and will install a chapter at the University of California on March 14.

Mr. Satterfield was graduated from Duke University in the class of 1922, winning a number of student honors at that institution. The next two years he taught school, and he is now at Columbia completing work for his master's degree in education. That he is making good in his work in the New York institution is shown from the fact that he has been elected to membership in Phi Delta Kappa, the leading educational fraternity in the United States. Only students showing considerable promise are invited to join this organization. The membership is limited to 15 per cent of the graduate class in education.

SOMETHING GOOD

It was a meeting of the Concord Missionary Society at the home of Mrs. John H. Hester last Thursday afternoon. The regular program consisted of songs and prayers, reading and discussions about both our home and foreign fields. It was so interesting that it did not take an hour and a half long to fly by. After this splendid session, led by Mrs. J. D. Winstead, the very efficient president, the party was invited to the rear of the building where were set two tables, one small table for the children and one large table for eight couples. The tables were not supplied with cards for Boston rook or set back, but with a typical Person County dinner. Oh, such ham and turkey and salads and cakes and—Well, we didn't eat it all. The people at my end of the table agreed that Mrs. I. G. Stephens won the first prize and Mrs. J. A. Paylor the second prize. Many thanks to Mrs. Hester and her daughters.—Onne Who Was There.

CALIFORNIA WIENIE AND LIGHT LUNCH TO OPEN

A new light lunch establishment will open soon on Court Street, in the building occupied by Mr. Simpson as a meat market for a number of years. This new business will be under the style of the California Wienie and Light Lunch, and will be under the same management as the Royal Hotel and Cafe. The Royal Hotel and Cafe has been wonderfully successful, and they attribute their success to the fact that they serve the very best the market affords, to their sanitary conditions and utter hatred for anything akin to dirt. This policy assures the success of the California from the day they first open.

HOW THE VOCATIONAL TEACHER SERVES THE COMMUNITY.

The Vocational Agricultural Teacher serves his school community not just for the school term, but for the year around. He is in constant touch with the boys project work throughout the summer with the exception of a short time off for professional improvement at the State College and a short vacation.

By the agricultural teachers contact with the farm boys through their project work he comes in contact with the boys father and other members of the family, discusses the most approved methods and practices in agriculture with the men.

After the vocational teacher has been in the community for some time he probably knows the community as well or better than any other person, the farm, the homes and their needs.

The agricultural teacher's main work is with the farm boys but he renders valuable assistance to the farmers in controlling disease of plants and animals and the cooperative buying of seed, lime, fertilizer, Pure bred livestock etc. He also assists and demonstrates in pruning, grafting, spraying, feeds, feeding and numerous other things.

During the month of January and February a short course is held at the school for the benefit of the adult farmers of the community. Experts from the state extension division are brought in by the vocational teacher and detailed discussion is carried on concerning certain phases of farming which is most important to the farmers.

In many cases the agricultural teacher lives on the school grounds and helps take care of school property. He takes an active and important part in the organizations of the community.—G. W. Smith

SHERIFF BROOKS AND POSSE HAVE LIVELY TIME

Last Tuesday Sheriff Brooks got information that a still was in full blast, down near Christie, Va. With deputy Gentry and Mr. Sam Oliver he went down to investigate. They found the still, which was still warm from a recent run, but no whisky. Having reason to believe that one H. E. Jones, who runs a small store near, was doing the stilling, he carried along a search warrant, and went up to the house to search. They found Jones in bed, not feeling well, he said, but failed to find any moonshine, but upon making a thorough investigation they finally located about 11 gallons near the store. When they came back having seen Jones go back into the house, they arrested him and started, with him in their cars, when Mrs. Jones came out with a gun, which she levelled on the Sheriff, telling him they were not going to take her husband anywhere. Deputy Gentry slipped around back of Mrs. Jones and caught her, taking her gun from her. Sheriff says the bore in that gun looked larger to him than any he had ever looked into before.

They brought Jones to town and after a hearing he was bound over to court under a $500 bond, which he gave.

Mr. Hurdle was 59 years old and leaves a wife, two sons and one daughter. He had been in declining health for a long time, but his death came suddenly, as he had not been seriously ill at all. The immediate cause of death was heart trouble. In the death of Mr. Hurdle his community loses a splendid citizen and his friends deeply sympathize with the wife and children.

MRS. WRENN DROPS DEAD

The community was shocked Monday morning when it learned that Mrs. J. S. Wrenn dropped dead at the home of her husband, Mr. J. S. Wrenn. Mr. Wrenn had gone out to his farm, and Mrs. Wrenn was about her household duties when she was stricken. Mrs. Wrenn was a member of Roxboro Baptist Church, and was a most earnest Christian woman.

SOME FINE CHICKENS

Last Saturday we drove out to the farm of Dr. B. A. Thaxton and took a look at his pen of Rhode Island Reds. He has 46 hens and 6 roosters, and a prettier lot of birds we have never seen. But why shouldn't they be fine? He bought a setting of eggs from some high sounding name for which he paid $1.00 an egg. But judging from his birds, they were worth it. He says his best record is 42 eggs from 46 hens in one day.
