

TO BOOST COUNTY DAIRYING

WILL MAKE FIRST SHIPMENT OF CREAM SEPT. 11

Every Farmer With Two Or More Cows Should Be Interested In This Movement

From time to time someone has suggested that a creamery be established in Roxboro. This would require capital, equipment and experienced people. There seems a much easier solution of our question of surplus cream.

On Wednesday of last week Mr. Heitz, of the Division of Markets, Raleigh, and Mr. Mendenhall, of the North State Creamery of Burlington, came to Roxboro to look over the situation with a view to establishing a cream-shipping station here. An invitation to meet these men was extended to several merchants, bankers and business men, and a small group met in the First National Bank.

It has been decided that we will make a trial shipment of cream on Friday, September 11th, 1925. Cream will be shipped from three points: Wooddale, Roxboro and Helena. Mr. Mendenhall will visit all three stations, test the cream, and pay you cash for what you bring.

If you are interested in this, you can begin saving cream about Monday or Tuesday. Place your sweet milk in some place where it will be very cool. As soon as the cream rises skim it off with a cup or saucer, or in any way that seems best to you. Try to get just pure cream. Put this in a jar and keep in a cool place, adding each day's cream until you are ready to bring it in for shipment on Friday. Keep in a cool place, and you need not be afraid it will be too sour. The acid that causes milk to sour and turn is contained in the milk, and not in the cream. Cream has to go through a process of ripening, anyway, so even though you may think it is sour, please bring it to Mr. Mendenhall and let him explain any questions you wish to ask. He will furnish cans and take care of the transportation to Burlington. He will pay the best market price. The price of butterfat varies from season to season.

The cream stations and those in charge are as follows:

Wooddale, Prof. G. W. Smith. Helena, Prof. B. D. Satterfield. Roxboro, Miss Bessie H. Daniel.

Those who bring cream to Roxboro will please deliver it to J. Y. Blanks or Sergeant and Clayton.

If you wish any further information on this subject, please ask any one named in the foregoing paragraph, or Mr. J. W. Noell, or Mr. R. A. Burch. They were present at the meeting last Wednesday and can tell you what Mr. Mendenhall said.

This is only a trial shipment. If it falls through for lack of patronage, then the shipments will be discontinued; but if there is enough cream to justify the undertaking, shipments will be made once or twice a week hereafter.—H.

Their new place is adjoining Hotel Jones, and they invite all of their old customers and any one who is looking for the best in laundry to favor them with a visit.

ROTARIANS MET AT CUNINGHAM

More than 500 Witnessed the Ball Game

Roxboro Rotary Club held its last meeting with the good people of Cunningham, where a crowd well over 500 were present to witness the ball game, which resulted disastrously for the Rotarians, the score being 16 to 6 in favor of Cunningham.

After the ball game a goodly number went over to Franklin Springs where some contests were pulled off. After these supper was served on the grounds in real picnic fashion.

This will probably be the last meeting held in the country for this year, the club having visited several sections of the County and held most enjoyable meetings. It has been a real pleasure to the members of the Club, and we believe the sections visited have enjoyed these get-together meetings.

EASTERN TOBACCO WAREHOUSES FULL ON OPENING DAY

Raleigh, Sept. 1.—Approximately 8,000,000 pounds of tobacco was sold on the tobacco markets of eastern North Carolina today at an average estimated at 16 cents per pound. These figures were based on reports from warehouse men, who state that the record for opening day sales was broken in many of the larger markets. The average price is from three to five cents under the opening figures of last year.

Wilson, the largest tobacco market in the state, led in the sales with 1,700,000 pounds which sold for an estimated average of 15 cents per pound. Kinston, Wilson, Rocky Mount and Greenville reported enormous sales, and in many instances there was more tobacco than could be sold during the day, despite the fact that triple sales were in progress.

LOG ROLLING OF WOODMEN OF THE WORLD

In the city of Roxboro, N. C., on Sept. 19th, will be a day of enjoyment. On that day the Woodmen Camp of Person County, and adjoining counties, will hold a Log Rolling here. A nice shady grove has been selected for this purpose and the principal exercises will be held here. The Log Rolling will begin with a parade consisting of Woodmen from various camps through the streets of the town, which will be led by the Jalong band. The parade will begin at the station at ten o'clock and will march to the grove. This will be followed by addresses by distinguished speakers, such as Gov. E. B. Lewis of Kinston, N. C., Gen. Royster of Oxford, Sov. Latham of Norfolk, Va., and our distinguished friend and speaker Mr. Will Merritt of Roxboro.

The morning program will close with a big picnic dinner served on the grounds. Arrangements have been made to serve this dinner from a common table in cafeteria style. Plates, cups and saucers will be furnished by the Woodmen committee.

The afternoon will be given to sports in which the ladies, boys and girls will take part. There will be tug-of-war contest among the men and foot races for the ladies, boys and girls, and a spoon and egg race for the ladies, and other contests for the amusement of the crowd. The athletics will close with a base ball game.

The gathering promises to be large, as there are quite a number of Woodmen in Person and adjoining counties. The committee invites the public to come and bring their baskets and help them to have a good time. Just bring your basket filled with something good to eat with your name on it and be one of us in the invitation that the Woodmen are extending to the public. Roxboro will welcome the great crowd that this Log Rolling will attract. We are preparing to give the Woodmen and the non-Woodmen a good time. CO-OPS PAY HIGH ADVANCE IN EAST

Cooperatives Are Ready For Good Season's 25 Markets

Twenty-five cooperative receiving points of the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association opened in as many Eastern North Carolina towns Tuesday morning with a first cash advance to growers of sixty five per cent. This is the highest advance ever made by any tobacco cooperative association in the country.

Association officials here Wednesday had not received reports on the delivery but they did not expect a heavy one. The growers in and out of the association were more inclined, according to what information has been received, to watch the "breaks" on the auction floors and make a studied comparison of the full price paid out in auction houses with the returns which the association advances will indicate.

Meantime, directors of the association in the three States were jubilant over the report from the South Carolina belt which showed that during the brief time, exactly four days, in which, under considerable pressure from loyal members of the association, books were opened to permit non-members to sign contracts, more than nine hundred growers had joined the pool.

Of this number, it was considered significant that one hundred and seventeen had been enrolled at Whitesville, in Columbus county, which is a comparatively young market and which, also, is the closest point in North Carolina to the Eastern Carolina belt. Since last December, 193 new members of the association have been signed up through the Whitesville receiving office.

The rallying in South Carolina, coupled with the good news that filters in from the old belt, is a great factor in stiffening the cooperative lines in Eastern Carolina. The promises that have come from the bright belt, through channels unfriendly to the association or to orderly marketing, have been more or less gloomy. South Carolina results have had a marked effect in dispelling this gloom and stimulating the loyalists who are this year, more than ever before, convinced that but for cooperative marketing the bountiful crop which has been grown would be dumped on the market for a song.

The gradual increase in the price of the week is admitted by every fair minded economist to be due exclusively to the activity of the association. This is the fifth year in which there has been a stabilized market for tobacco. In no other period of agricultural history, where the cooperative movement was unknown, has the market remained firm and increasingly healthy.

No little credit for the success which has been so conspicuous in the South Carolina belt is due to the member growers. They have worked night and day to strengthen association lines and to get the best delivery possible this year. Fighting against greater odds in Eastern Carolina, they have carried to the struggle a determination no less positive and their efforts are expected to be apparent when a week has passed.

FIVE KILLED IN GRADE CROSSING

NONE ESCAPED

Every Occupant Of Automobile Hit By Train At Reidsville Dead

Reidsville, Aug. 30.—Five persons were killed at a grade crossing here about 7 o'clock tonight when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Southern passenger train No. 35. The dead are: Jack H. Carter, of Reidsville and New York; Mrs. Eugene Irvin, Reidsville; Mrs. Manton Oliver, wife of the publisher of the Reidsville Review; Mrs. John Oliver, widow of John Oliver, of Reidsville and Mrs. Mina Johnson Cone, of New York.

The five persons were the only occupants of the car. All but Mrs. John Oliver were instantly killed and she died 30 minutes after the accident while being taken to a hospital. The accident occurred on a curve and at the same spot where 2 years ago four members of a family named Pillar were killed.

Witnesses state that Mrs. Irwin was driving the car and that the party was enroute to Greensboro to see Mrs. Cone off on the train for New York. The car came to a full stop at the crossing, according to the spectators and the signal bells at the crossing were ringing.

The car was struck center and thrown a distance estimated at fifty yards. None of the occupants of the car were run over by the train and when those witnessing the accident reached the scene all were dead except Mrs. Lillian Oliver and Jack Carter, both of whom died a few minutes later.

A radio program had been put on to entertain the children, also a room had been prepared for the smaller girls who wished to play dolls. The other entertained themselves out on the porch and on the lawn, talking and enjoying themselves together until 8:30 then string music was made by Mr. Charlie Slaughter and Mr. Jeff O'Brien, after which Carrie Todd, Clara Gentry, Dewey Young and Eral Gentry sang a quartet, "In the Garden," accompanied by Mary E.
