

INTERESTING REPORTS FROM COUNTY AGENTS

More Clear Money From Six Cows Than From Eight Horse Cotton Crop

VETCH, OATS, BARLEY

Anson County, J. W. Cameron: Visited a number of farmers during the week who sowed vetch, oats and barley for hay crop last fall for the first time and were interested in cutting and curing it to the best advantage. Some of the farmers I visited state they will get more hay this year than they ever did before on account of having sown the mixture mentioned above last fall. Mr. D. B. Batten, a farmer I visited, who has been keeping six cows for three or four years and retailing milk in a nearby town, and who grows practically all of his grain feed and hay for his cows on his farm, stated that he had been getting an income of around $200 per month on an average from the six cows. He has a cotton farm on which he works from six to eight acres and is considered one of our best cotton farmers, but he states that his six dairy cows have been bringing him in possibly a little more clear money than his cotton farm during the last two years.

Union County, T. J. W. Broom:

Purchased 285 bushels of soybeans this week. Terraced 25 acres of land. We are urging the dairymen to plant soybeans for hay. All dairymen visited this week will do this. The harvesting of barley, vetch, and oats for hay is in full blast. The crop is very fine, and farmers are very proud of their crop.

I am getting invitations by mail to come and look at the crop before it is out. Some farmers report to me that they have more than they can use.

The 10,000 lbs. of vetch seed that was sown in the county last fall is in evidence on every road. The fields certainly look beautiful. Much of it will be allowed to ripen seed before being plowed down for hay. Much has already been turned under for cotton. Vetch, lespedeza and soybeans form a trip that is being adopted for soil-building by the progressive farmers.

FOR A LARGER AND BETTER ROXBORO

To the Editor of The Courier: "United we stand. Divided we fall."

To have the right spirit of citizenship we should patronize our own townsmen. Instead of going to some nearby city to buy cotton mill stock, deposit money in their banks, hire their men for our town officers, we should buy stock in our own cotton mills, deposit money in our own banks, sell our tobacco with our own warehousemen, buy from our own merchants, and give our own men a chance at our own offices.

Yours for a larger and better Roxboro,

C. H. HUNTER.

DEATH OF MRS. BRIGGS

Telegram was received here Saturday afternoon announcing the death of Mrs. John Briggs in Washington, D. C. Her husband, Dr. John Briggs, is a native of this County and has many relatives and friends here who will mourn with him in the loss of his good wife.

Mess. W. K. Moore, Arthur Whitfield, Tom Moore and Miss Katherine Moore left Sunday morning in Mr. Moore's car for Washington to attend the funeral of Mrs. Briggs.

ANNOUNCEMENT

There will be a Sunday school Day program rendered by the children at Oak Grove church next Sunday morning. Regular Sunday school at ten. Program at eleven.

Preaching at Concord at three thirty. Sunday school at two-thirty. Please be prompt.

J. W. BRADLEY.

D. W. Griffith's Supreme Achievement "The White Rose" With Neil Hamilton and Carol Dempster. A United Artists Production. Palace Theatre, Friday June 4th.

ROXBORO ROTARIANS DEFEAT OXFORD CLUB

Oxford Starts Off Well, But "Wind" Gives Out. Broadhead, Babe Ruth of Rox.

ROX. SWINGS WICKED BAT

Last Thursday afternoon the first game of the Rotary League was played here Oxford vs Roxboro. The first three innings looked like it was Oxford's day, but in the sixth frame the Oxford pitcher weakened and the Roxboro team piled up a lead of six runs, scoring eleven runs in that frame. The final score was 21 in favor of Roxboro and 9 for Oxford.

After the game lunch was served at the Crowell garage by the ladies of the Presbyterian church, and it was a "lunch" to please the heart, as well as the stomach, of the most fastidious.

One of the things not on the program was a stunt pulled off by Mr. Taylor of Oxford. He rapped on the table and called for order, announcing that he wanted every man around the tables who intended to vote for Cooper Hall to raise his hand, and we were glad to note that every hand went up.

About forty boy scouts, and fourteen prospective Camp Fire Girls were guests of the Rotary club, who had the pleasure of hearing Charlie Woods, the invited speaker for the occasion, after lunch. Mr. Woods is intensely interested in boys work, and his address was an inspiration to the young people.

Interesting Notes From Helena

Flower Garden of Mrs. G. H. Hauser Attractive With Beautiful Poppies

Mr. G. H. Hauser is in Winston-Salem this week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Howard of Durham spent last week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Reade. Miss Helen Lane is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. D. L. Eubank of Durham.

Miss Mary Ashley spent last week at Louisburg where she went to attend the commencement exercises of Louisburg College.

Mr. Hemp Harvey of Durham was in this neighborhood one day this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Terry and family visited relatives in Ba'dama last Sunday.

Mr. John Chambers made a trip to Norfolk recently.

Miss Mona Ashley is at home from Louisburg College where she graduated this spring. Miss Ashley expects to teach this fall.

Misses Pauline Jones, Helen Pearce and Sarah Moore visited friends in and near Chapel Hill last week.

Among those who attended the District conference of Chapel Hill from here last week were, Rev. H. E. Lance, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reade, Mrs. W. F. Timberlake, Mr. Geo. Moore, Prof. B. I. Satterfield, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jones and Misses Lucy Tillet, Elizabeth Timberlake and Blanche Gooch.

The flower garden of Mrs. G. H. Hauser has attracted a great deal of attention. She has the most magnificent display of Poppies the writer has ever seen, and her sweet peas are beautiful.

There was no Epworth League service at church here Sunday evening, instead the evening program was given in the Brookdale Methodist church before a large and appreciative audience.

Mrs. C. B. Blalock is sick at her home near here.

Misses Jay and Estelle Williams of Kittrell accompanied Miss Mona Ashley home from Louisburg last Sunday and will spend some time visiting friends here.

POULTRY INDUSTRY TOUCHES MORE PEOPLE

One Great Trouble Is, The Humble Hen Is Not Appreciated

FARMERS EYES OPENED

There is no one industry in the state of North Carolina that touches more people of the state whether on farms or in the towns and cities than the poultry industry.

Our great trouble even at the present time is the lack of appreciation of what the humble hen might do for the state. The good farm women are now the supporters of the industry because they know that should crops be poor they can get enough money from poultry to buy shoes and hats and keep their children in school.

But the men on the farms of North Carolina are having their eyes opened to poultry as a money crop and the merchants are waking up to the fact that a car of poultry moving from their town in one day brings quite a bit of cash behind. Nothing has opened the eyes of the men on the farm and those in the mercantile business more than the carlot shipping project that has been operating in this state for four years.

At first many merchants spurned the idea of shipping poultry in carlots and paying the farmers cash at the car door but those who are wide awake and can see what a cash crop handled every week in the year can see the effect that this money each week will have on the general business conditions of the section.

A Home Demonstration Agent, reports that she is getting installed in her county from 35-50 water works which she attributes entirely to the money secured from "Poultry Sale Days" and the farm women were encouraged to put the proceeds away for this purpose.

It looks this year as though the crop might have a big cotton crop for 1926 and an increase in tobacco acreage of from 5 to 7 per cent for North Carolina as taken from the North Carolina Crop Reporting Service.

To our poultry breeders and producers, I would have you remember that when cotton and tobacco falls low in price, our farmers look to poultry to help pay taxes and other bills.

Farmers have hesitated in the past to produce a few extra hogs, extra poultry and eggs, except as they felt that local markets could handle this surplus. That they now realize that their market is any place when a carload is available is evidenced when farmers of Eastern North Carolina shipped 21 cars of hogs to Richmond one week this spring receiving more than $30,000 for them, also that during one week 347,300 pounds of poultry worth $80,000.00 were shipped.

We appeal to bankers and business men as well as farmers to give hearty support to the campaigns this summer and fall for better housing, feeding and management of poultry and remember that the carlot marketing of poultry and eggs is here to stay and that it deserves your hearty support.

THE WORLD NEEDS JESUS

An editorial appearing in the Osaka Mainichi of Osaka, Japan, last Monday is very significant. The writer says "If Japan expects to absorb the benefits of western civilization, it will be necessary for her to welcome Christianity with open arms and harmonize the religion of the west with the national characteristics of the eastern empire."

Even the pagan nations are coming to realize that what the world needs is Jesus.

The First Baptist Church is earnestly seeking to make Jesus known to all the world.

Sunday School 9:45 A. M., R. L. Wilburn, Supt.

DURHAM DISTRICT MISSIONARY MEETING

The Durham District Missionary Meeting will be held at New Hope church, with Milton as joint hostess, June 12th. We expect to have Miss Alice Green of China with us. Let every president see that her society is well represented at this meeting. MRS. MAMIE MERRITT, Sec. Durham District.

ICE CREAM AND CAKE

The B. Y. P. U. of Roxboro First Baptist Church will serve ice cream and cake on the court house lawn on Saturday afternoon from 5 to 7:30. Every one is invited to give these young people, their patronage and help them in their worthy efforts to raise some much needed funds.

One of the Most Successful Years In The History Of The School

20 RECEIVED DIPLOMAS

The boys and girls of Roxboro and surrounding section have held sway here this week, it being the Commencement Exercises of the Roxboro High School. Sunday morning Rev. Hugh A. Ellis of Henderson preached the sermon in the First Baptist church. He was greeted by an overflow audience and those who were fortunate enough to get in the house were doubly repaid for their trouble, for Mr. Ellis delivered one of the most forcible and instructive sermons heard here in some time.

Monday night in the high school auditorium the graduating exercises took place. Prizes were awarded to the following:

Music Appreciation: Rachael Bradsher and Edwin Long.

Religious Essay: Julian Underwood Connally and Texie Elizabeth Barnette.

Edgar Long Scholarship Medal: Champ Winstead, Jr.

Research Club English Prize: May Jane Barker.

Woman's Club Loving Cup: Texie Elizabeth Barnette.

Medal for best all-round student in High School: James Benjamin Stalvey.

After these prizes were awarded the speaker, Hon. S. Porter Graves, of Mt. Airy, delivered the address, which contained much of great value to the young graduates.

The following received diplomas: Miss Mary, Janie Barker, Henry Vance Barnette, Miss Texie Elizabeth Barnette, Miss Janie Ruth Blalock, Miss Edith Lea Bowen, Miss Ellen Elizabeth Brasher, Miss Alice Longworth Cole, Julian Underwood Connally, Miss Mary Marshall Dunlap, John Hopkins Eberman, Miss Elizabeth Alma Harris, Miss Katharine Hatchett, Baxter Ellis Hopgood, Miss Kate Purcell Lipford, Miss Vertie Norfleet Moore, Miss Rebecca Elizabeth Morris, James Benjamin Stalvey, Miss Cornelia Ruth Thompson, James Carroll Walker and Champ Winstead, Jr.

MUSIC RECITAL

The pupils of Mrs. H. W. Newell will appear in a recital Friday, June 4th, at 8 P. M., at the Roxboro High School auditorium. Everybody is cordially invited.

Mr. Mendenhall Gives Instruction As To The Handling Of Cream

Read Carefully and Follow Instructions For Best Results

OF INTEREST TO PERSON

The price paid for cream is governed to a great extent by the quality of cream that is delivered to the Creamery. Butter made from good cream always brings a good price and butter made from bad cream is always a drag on the market. It is therefore important that much care be given to the cream prior to delivery.

Because cream is sour is no indication that it is not fit for use. Cream is unfit for use only when off flavors begin to develop, which may be caused by keeping the cream in unsanitary places, such as damp mouldy basements or cellars, ill-ventilated milk boxes, or the use of vessels that have not been properly scalded and sunned, or unsanitary milking stalls, cows that have dirty udders and flanks. Nothing shows up unsanitary conditions more readily than milk and Cream.

Producers should have no trouble in shipping good cream if they will bring the cows in at least three hours before milking time, if they are eating onions, rye, clover, buds or anything that gives the milk an off flavor. Then take the milk separate it, cool the cream at once, and keep cool as possible until time for delivery.

box so that it will be in the shade, build it deep enough so that the cream is actually all below the running water and you will have ideal conditions. Never mix your fresh separated cream with the old until it is cooled to the same temperature. If you do not have a spring run, the same principle may be brought out in a box between the well and horse trough, so that all the water the horses drink will have to go through this box.

If you do not have a separator the above conditions will apply just the same, except that it will require more room. Use shallow pans so that the cream can rise to the top before the milk sours and locks it up in the skim-milk. When your milk becomes a smooth clabber, skim of the cream, being careful to get only the cream and handle the same as if a separator had been used.

Don't try to keep your milk from souring, but keep it cool enough so that it will sour slowly, giving all the cream time to rise to the top so you can get it all.

Remember that bad flavors in butter are not caused by the cream getting too sour so often as it is caused by poor handling methods as shown above.

(The foregoing article was contributed by Mr. Mendenhall, of the North State Creamery, at our request. It should be of much interest to the farmers of Person County, and we suggest that you clip it and keep it for reference. -Editor.)

PERSON COUNTY CREAM SCHEDULE

Mr. Warren Gives Schedule For Delivery of Cream, Chickens and Eggs

MEET HIM, AND SAVE TIME

I have been asked to publish a schedule of my route in The Courier. Will say I can not follow any set schedule as it depends on how much produce I get. When I get a lot of cream to weigh and sample, eggs to count and chickens to weigh it takes much time, and when I stop at a place and find but little, it takes but a few minutes. So here goes a schedule I will follow as near as I can, and if I am not on time and you can't wait, just turn your produce over to some one who will wait and you will get just the same as if you was there:

- Mr. Sam Wrenn's at 7 o'clock
  - Jim Moore's at 7:30.
  - Helena at 8.
  - Roxboro at 9.
  - A. G. Riley's at 10.
  - S. T. Slaughter's at 10:30
  - Allensville at 11.
  - T. G. Davis' at 11:30.
  - J. E. Montague's at 12.
  - Will Geary's at 12:30.
  - Zadock Slaughter's at 1:00
  - Mrs. Jonah Whitt's at 1:30.
  - Clayton's Store at 2.
  - Wooddale at 2:30.
  - Chub Lake at 3:00.
  - Coffo, at 3:30.
  - Concord at 4:00.
  - L. G. Stephens' at 4:30.
  - Wagstaff's at 5.
  - Moore's Filling Station at 5:30.
  - M. R. Wilkerson's at 6.
  - E. A. Snipes' at 6:30.
- I am going to make this schedule and will stop at one of the places just long enough to take up what is there and I will not wait unless you are in about before I start off. I want to urge you to be on time, but there is absolutely no use in coming two hours ahead of time and have to wait for me.
- W. C. WARREN.

NEW FIRM TO OPEN SOON

We had the pleasure of meeting Mess. Greenstone and Golburg, who will open a department store in the building formerly occupied by Mess. Wilburn & Satterfield on Main Street. Mr. Greenstone runs a chain of stores and says he will open a store here which will do credit to the progressive spirit of Roxboro. You will see his announcement in these columns soon.

IN HONOR OF MISS DUNLAP'S GRADUATION

The following visitors were here Sunday and Monday in honor of Miss Mary Marshall Dunlap's graduation: Mr. and Mrs. V. L. St. Claire of Sanford, Miss Pattie Watkins and Mess. Ashley Watkins and Jesse Craver of Ramseur.

WHERE DO YOU ATTEND CHURCH

Sunday School at Longhurst 9:45. Preaching at 11 A. M., June 6th. Expecting a Durham preacher. Come. Preaching at East Roxboro at 2:30. Aren't you ashamed to stay away from church?

Revival continuing at Longhurst. 7:45 P. M. If you desire a seat you had better be on time. Summer school begins next week.

M. C. ELLERBE, Jalong, N. C.

MOVING TO HAPPY OAKS

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Boatwright and children moved yesterday to their country home, Happy Oaks, for the summer. There are few more attractive country homes than this and no doubt they will thoroughly enjoy their summer stay.
