WILL IT BE AS HIGH UP HERE?

Ever since the opening of the Georgia tobacco markets on August 3rd, when news of the good prices prevailing there reached North Carolina, we have heard the question anxiously asked: Will prices be as high in Person County too? We say anxiously, and that's what we mean, for Person County farmers ARE anxious. Upon the value of this year's crop failure is now considered very of our people. The possibility of a crop failure is now considered very remote, but at that, low prices this coming season will prove to be the straw that will break the camel's back, while good prices, above the cost of production, will provide another lease on life. It gives us great pleasure to say that in our opinion, prices will be good.

Prices in Georgia opened very good and showed a gradual tendency upward as the season progressed. Nineteen markets in the southern section of the State, sold forty million pounds at an average of around 25 cents, the total value of the crop there having been ten million dollars. In this connection we might say that tobacco as offered for sale in Georgia is untied, ungraded, and in very many cases this season, entirely too high in order to stand shipment. Also, the crop was decidedly on the heavy-bodied side. In fact, when the thin, colory types of cigarette smokers were offered, prices were even higher than the average indicates. We take this as a good pointer for our farmers: as far as is within your power, make your crop thin and colory, suitable for cigarettes. And this very requirement should prevent the planting, in future, of too large a crop. As sure as fate, Georgia is going to suffer next year from too large a crop induced by over-enthusiasm over prices received this year.

We are hoping, and believing, that the good prices will continue in eastern Carolina and then in the old belt. We see no reason why they should not. The prospect is decidedly rosy. But don't forget the cow and the chickens.

We understand that England and France are considering the placing of traffic cops in the English Channel. One of the very first rules would seem to be that all custom of the sea: Women first.

Judging from the views of Dr. Knight and Prohibition Director Sharpe, North Carolina is in a woful condition, educationally and prohibitively, respectively.

All Former Records On Georgia Peaches Beaten By Southern

Atlanta, Ga., August 30.—Having moved 10,870 cars of peaches from Georgia since May 23, the Southern Railway System, in handling the 1926 crop, has surpassed all former records by more than 3,000 cars. Despite the fact that a bumper watermelon crop and a heavy general business were being moved at the same time, the Southern carried the record Georgia peach crop with the same practically 100 per cent service which has characterized its performance in past years.

The bulk of this movement, 9494 cars, was handled through Inman yards, the Southern's Atlanta terminal, where the cars were reiced and assembled into special peach trains for fast movement to distant mar-

HARRIS & BURNS

Presents the

New Arrivals for Autumn

The new Fall models presented by HARRIS & BURNS are notable for the youthful charm of their lines, the artistic touches of their embellishments, and the distinction of their coloring. Chic models that will meet with the approval of the most discriminating woman. Smart, new to the smallest detail of styling, they are graciously becoming in a daringly simple and slightly sophisticated manner. Frocks, in fact, that will have entre to the most fashionable gatherings, despite their exceptional low price.

— STYLES —

Models for street wear, perfectly tailored in the accepted masculine manner, relieved with very feminine touches. Models for afternoon wear that follow the vogue for softness of silhouette and captivating feminine charm. Models for evening wear that may be as severely simple, or subtly ornate, as one wishes.

— TRIMMINGS —

These frocks are assured of style. Fashioned of fine twills, woolen embroidery, buttons, drapes, pleatings, tiers, flounces, scallops, jabots, new necklines, and numerous other distinctive trimmings.

— MATERIALS —

The street frocks are carefully fashioned of fine twills, woolen crepes, jersey, and frisca. Afternoon frocks are of canton crepe, flat crepe, satin, moire, and taffeta. Evening frocks may be had in satin, taffeta, georgette crepe, chiffon, metallic materials, and novelty silks.

— COLORINGS —

Black, navy, warm wine tones, and deep greens predominate. Other Fall shades shown are Soldier blue, soft rose shades, pecan brown, beige, wood tones, and pastels.

ALL SIZES FOR WOMEN AND MISSES

4,794 cars going to the East through Potomac Yards, Va., 4,574 to the Central West through Chattanooga, Cincinnati and Louisville; 31 to the West through Birmingham; and 85 to Florida. From Chattanooga 602 cars were moved north; 704 cars grown in Northeast Georgia were assembled at Toccoa and moved east; while the remaining 100 cars were moved over various routes.

Along with the Georgia crop, the Southern handled 1,677 cars from East Tennessee, 2,251 cars from the Sand Hills district of North Carolina, and 242 cars from miscellaneous points in the South, making a total movement of 14,040 cars.

In order to get the peaches to market in the fast time required, the Southern operated 393 special peach trains—123 from Atlanta to Potomac Yards, 18 from Toccoa to Potomac Yards, 61 from Spencer, N. C. 172 from Atlanta and Chattanooga to Cincinnati, and 9 from Spencer to Oakdale, Tenn., enroute to Cincinnati.

The 1925 movement from Georgia compares with 7,674 cars in 1925, 3,011 in 1924, and 5,700 in 1923, the previous high records. An interesting feature of the 1926 movement was the export of several cars to England with satisfactory results to the shippers.

Words of Respect

Mrs. Anna Paul King: Another devoted mother, kind and thoughtful wife, and consecrated Christian has gone home. She was a patient and cheerful sufferer for more than six months. She was willing and ready to answer the last call.

The span of her years on earth covered more than half a century. About thirty-two years of this time she was the wife of Mr. W. P. King of near Roxboro and lived in this community all her life. To this union were born three sons and three daughters, their names as follows: Sam C. of Tampa, Fla., Wilton, Ivey, Estell, Amanda, all of Roxboro, N. C. Miss Rubie Paul of Roxboro her only sister also survives.

her husband and children to her bedside and talked to them one by one a day or two before she left them. She was conscious to the last. She just went to sleep and waked up in the arms of Jesus.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. F. M. Shamberger in the absence of her pastor. Amidst a great throng of friends her body was tenderly laid to rest in the Roxboro cemetery under a bank of flowers.

Now to those who mourn her, husband and children and sister, and more especially Miss Estell, her oldest daughter upon whom falls largely the care of the home; may there come a double sense of the presence and comfort of the blessed Christ.

—Her Pastor, J. W. Bradley.
