

Farm Group Selects Organization Committee

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 26.—The committee to go forward with organizing the agricultural interests of North Carolina into one state-wide farm organization has been selected by Fred P. Latham, chairman of the farm gathering provided by the last State Farmers' Convention.

This committee as announced by James M. Gray of State College, temporary secretary, is as follows: F. D. Patterson, China Grove; H. H. Morehouse, Oakwoods; Dr. B. W. Kilgore, Raleigh; J. M. Templeton, Cary; Charles F. Cates, Mebane; B. F. Shelton, Speed; George Ross, Raleigh; Dr. Clarence Poe, Raleigh; D. J. Lybrook, Advance; R. H. Edwards, Goldsboro; Dr. Carl C. Taylor, Raleigh; James G. K. McClure, Asheville; Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon, Raleigh; Mrs. E. A. McCullen, Clinton and Mrs. J. S. Turner, Reidsville. In addition to these members, Mr. Latham and Mr. Gray will also serve as ex-officio members.

This organization committee was authorized by a meeting of the special sub-committee in its report to the council of farm organizations held at State College on September 5. It is the wish of Chairman Latham that this organization committee meet not later than October 10 so that definite plans may be made for proceeding with the work. The committee will work in close harmony with the American Farm Bureau Federation, the national farm agency which has been invited to come into North Carolina.

In the meantime, Secretary Gary requests that organizations and individual farmers give him any suggestions that they may have about the work that this committee should accomplish. The committee plans to begin definite activity in organizing the State during the first three months of 1928. This period has been set aside as "Organization Quarter."

Tom Tarheel says he is ready to join the state-wide farm organization if organization is good for all business enterprises, it must be good for the biggest business of all, farming.

THIS AUTO PICKS UP ITS OWN ROAD DUST

English Idea Not Needed in This Country, However, Experts Say.

A MANCHESTER, England, engineer 15 years ago patented an apparatus to be used on automobiles which would collect its own dust.

As described by Church Howe, then American Consul at Manchester, the device drew the dust into funnel-shaped conduits which ran from the rear of the front wheels to the rear of the back wheels.

The dust was blown into a central box, either by air pressure of the moving automobiles or by a centrifugal fan geared to the driving shaft of the car.

Such an apparatus would have little success in America today, highway engineers point out. Recent improvements in road construction have eliminated the dust problem almost to the minimum in some sections and even old dirt roads may be modernized by applications of calcium chloride.

BACKYARDS GIVE JOY TO CHILDREN

TURN your backyard into a children's playground!

That is an idea growing rapidly in various sections of the United States and Canada.

One of the first to do that was George W. Perry, Director of Parks and Playgrounds, of Orange, N. J., who one year ago established a recreation center in the rear of his property.

So pleased was he with the success of the idea that he told others of it and today a well-established organization, called the Backyard Playground Association of America, is functioning with headquarters in New York City.

In hot weather the most popular part of the equipment is a garden hose which serves as a shower bath for the children.

Those playgrounds have been salvaged from dismal areas of tin cans and other rubbish. The janitor has been enlisted as groundkeeper and director of activities, and when he is of the alert type, he has worked to make the ground quite in keeping with the more ambitious recreation centers, rolling the earth or pounding it down firmly and spreading a thin layer of calcium chloride to keep down the dust.

In the congested districts of the larger cities, particularly in New York, the idea has caught on, the playground experts declare.

CHEMISTS CREATE DUSTLESS TRACKS

Horses Run Under Ideal Conditions; Thanks to Science.

"TAKING the other horse's dust," a phrase immortal in the racing world and running back to the time when the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, seems destined to be obsolete soon, race goers say.

Gradual improvement in caring for the big metropolitan tracks near New York and Chicago, as well as others in various sections of the country, is responsible for the change.

Landscape gardeners have wrestled with the problem for years, not for the benefit of helping the "students of form" but for purely aesthetic reasons. Dustless race tracks, it was agreed, would add greatly to the comfort of the spectators to the best race finish in the world holds no thrills if only the judges can see it.

Today chemicals are freely used in keeping the dust from rising. Chemists had to find something that would not injure the horses' hoofs and at the same time permit thoroughbreds to use their maximum speed.

Calcium chloride, a chemical that absorbs many times its own weight of water, has been used for some years on the smaller tracks at county and state fairs and now is coming into wider employment on the larger tracks.

Grand Celebration

—OF THE—

Completion of the large additions to Hughes Warehouse

LOYAL STREET, DANVILLE, VA.

SATURDAY, NIGHT, OCTOBER 1, 1927

BEGINNING AT 7:30, LASTING UNTIL 11:30

In an effort to gratify the request of a large number of farmers, as well as the tobacco buyers, so as to avoid unnecessary tramping of their tobacco, and notwithstanding that HUGHES WAREHOUSE was already one of the largest WAREHOUSES in the several tobacco States, as well as best lighted, we yielded to their wishes and have just finished large additions, which make HUGHES WAREHOUSE the LARGEST LOOSE SALE HOUSE IN THE WORLD.

To show our appreciation to our many former patrons of this house, as well as other friends, we are going to give them one of the largest Balls and "Old-Time Get-Together" Meetings ever held.

This will take place Saturday night of this week, beginning at 7:30 and lasting until 11:30.

Prof. Joseph Vezzetti's Brass Band, of forty pieces, the finest in the South, has been secured for the occasion; also a special orchestra for dancing.

FURTHER, we want every fiddler and banjo-man in a hundred and fifty miles to come and bring his instrument. Special prizes will be given to the best fiddler and banjoist.

We are expecting to make this the Grandest occasion ever held in Virginia. Dancing will be from 9:00 to 11:30. Ladies especially invited.

In our addition we have included a special rest room for the ladies, with all modern conveniences. (We are determined that the ladies shall be provided for as well as the men).

We emphasize that we want everybody in the several States to inspect HUGHES WAREHOUSE and see what a wonder it is, and see how much better we can handle their tobacco in the future than other houses. The wonderful and uniform lights, arranged by experts, will be a great factor in assisting us to show your tobacco to the best advantage.

We want to meet you all. Shake hands with you. We have the most competent assistants, with long experience, and highly respected, who will assist us in giving every pile of tobacco the best attention, as well as look after the wants and pleasures of everyone.

Let everybody take a holiday Saturday and come to Danville and spend the day. There is plenty to be seen to entertain and amuse you the whole city will welcome you. Make your headquarters at HUGHES WAREHOUSE, and if you cannot come in the day, be sure to come at night.

Yours truly,
HUGHES INDEPENDENT WAREHOUSE.
