BETHEL HILL NOTES

Our school, after the long holidays, opened again Monday, January 9th. All the faculty and most of the students are back. The roads have improved wonderfully from what they have been, still they are far from being in a good condition.

From all reports it seems that everybody enjoyed Christmas. The roads being so rough, there was not as much traveling as there usually is for Christmas.

We feel very grateful to the Federal aid for the great improvement that is being made on our school grounds. It is indeed appreciated. We ask the patrons to come and see it. We feel sure they will realize this is a worth-while project when they note how much this great improvement adds to the looks of our school surroundings.

There will be two basket ball games here January 10th, between our teams and Helena's teams. These games begin around 7:30 o'clock P. M.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The continued and growing interest in Boy Scout work in this community was further evidenced yesterday afternoon when a delegation composed of the following members of the Roxboro Boy Scout Council went to Burlington to attend the District Meeting of Cherokee Council; President George W. Kane, Secretary J. Anderson Timberlake, Charlie Harris, Reade Jones, B. B. Mangum, J. Sam Merritt, Eugene Thompson, George Currier, Rev. J. F. Herbert, H. N. Brown, III, K. C. O'Bryan, G. C. Davidson, Banks Berry, W. W. Woods, and Mrs. W. W. Woods, who was accompanist for the musical numbers rendered at the meeting. This was the largest single delegation present for the meeting, outside of the Burlington group itself.

The District Meeting at Burlington was attended by about one hundred and fifty men who are directly interested in carrying on the Scout movement in the Cherokee Council. The area of this council includes the following counties: Alamance, Caswell, Orange, Person, and Rockingham; and all the local groups were well represented last night.

Paul Schenck, of Greensboro, Regional Director, was the principal guest of the evening, and though his talk to the gathering was very brief he made some very pertinent statements concerning the Scout movement and its results.

The principal speech of the evening session was made by R. R. Saunders of Reidsville in presenting to President J. E. McLean, our district president, the award known as the Silver Beaver, given to the person who has rendered the most outstanding service to scouting in this district. Mr. Saunders was especially apt in his expressions and delightfully choice in his discourse. Mr. McLean, evidently with much deep feeling and an appreciation that was virtually beyond words, accepted the award with expressed gratitude and the statement that he would endeavor to do more for Scouting than he had been able to do previously.

The following officers of Cherokee Council were elected for the coming year: President, J. E. McLean, Reidsville; vice president, George W. Kane, Roxboro; vice president, George H. Clark; vice president, G. Somers; treasurer, Scott Tillman; secretary, H. E. Latham; scout executive, O. B. Gorman; delegate to the National Council, George H.

Clark. Gorman was given an enthusiastic vote of appreciation for his splendid work during the past year.

The following commissioners were elected: Deputy Commissioner, W. B. King, Leaksville; Lon G. Turner, Joe Coble, E. M. Cheek, all of Burlington; G. Minor Gwynn, Chapel Hill; J. Sam Merritt, Roxboro; Henry N. Brown, III, Roxboro; G. Warren Taylor, Reidsville.

Scouting in the Cherokee Council is on the upward move, and 1933 gives promise of being the best year in the work since it was started in this area. G. C. D.
