

Hear D about Town

Mrs. A. S. deVlaming has returned from a stay with her daughter, Mrs. Larry Flynn in Chapel Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Flynn will leave shortly for New York where they will visit relatives and from there they will sail for Germany, where Mr. Flynn will carry on his research work.

Fortune surely favors the brave. Our young friend, Allie Holt, who has just received his sheepskin at State College, has accepted a position with the Roanoke Mills, at Roanoke Rapids. Allie is a fine young man and deserves success. It was indeed a pleasure to hear Dr. Brooks, of State College, speak in the highest terms of the work Allie did while in college.

You know it is an art the way some folks have in making you feel good, even if you do not get what you ask for. And Miss Hazel Price, the efficient and courteous cashier at the Durham Industrial Bank of Roxboro has this art to perfection. You may call on her for a loan, and she may turn you down, but somehow, when you depart you actually feel as if she had done you a favor. She is an asset of no small proportions to the institution which she serves.

While we were sojourning in Raleigh during the winter and spring we remember seeing something about a community garden which the town was sponsoring, but somehow it seems a cog slipped, for we have heard nothing more about the proposition. We thought it was a fine undertaking, but guess the "old man" being out of town there was not sufficient pressure brought to bear, and the thing died a borning.

The winds blew from the north-east, and the rains came, and the moon was wrong, as usual, and the fishing party composed of Messrs. D. Witt Ledbetter, W. S. Clary, Henry Sergeant, Landon Bradsher and Ruffin Puryear, who spent the week-end fishing at the camp of Mr. Jim Ficklen, near Washington, found all of these things to be just what was needed for fishing. They say they had a great time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Long left yesterday morning for Andover, Mass., where they will attend the commencement exercises of Andover academy, where their son, Edgar, is a student. He will return with them. While away, Mr. and Mrs. Long will probably attend the meeting of Rotary International, which will meet in Boston.

Rev. W. F. West and Mr. J. Howard Young left Monday afternoon for Siler City, where the former will do the preaching in a ten days meeting, while Mr. Young will lead the singing.

"When will the Peoples Bank open," is a question you hear every day. We do not know, but we do know it would mean more to Roxboro right now than any one thing we could mention. It is said "all things come to those who wait and work," and we hope the workers will not tire but keep on the job.

Well, folks say we were right about that awning proposition, and insist that we keep behind it until relief is given. And, by the way, we are told that our worthy Mayor and chief of police need no further laws or ordinances, as there is such an ordinance now on the books. Get busy Mr. Mayor, or we will know who is negligent in this matter. Have every owner of an awning raise it to seven feet—or take the consequences.

A large number of relatives and friends of Mr. W. D. Yarboro, well known farmer and fertilizer dealer, gathered at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Shotwell, last Sunday to celebrate his birthday. A bountiful dinner was served under the trees.

Oh! the stepping stones; Messrs. Street Commissioners, where are they?

It being so muddy there was no service at the Methodist church last Sunday night.

Mrs. John A. Noell and Miss Bee Vaughn have returned from their visit to Raleigh, Durham and Graham.

Mr. J. A. Long was baptized and received in full membership of the Methodist church last Sunday morning.

"Commercial tourists" are getting to be thick in this section—4 or 5 a day, consequently landlord Foushee wears a broad smile.

Messrs. C. R. Critcher & Bro. will have a large and nice lot of coffins on hand in a few days. They are now prepared to do all kinds of repairing.

Miss Maude Cunningham left last week for Augusta, Ga., where she will be several weeks visiting.

The surveyors on the line running from Henderson to Danville are camped near here surveying in this section. From all indications this road will be built at an early day. If so, this will be a great advantage to Roxboro and Person county. Who is it that can say conscientiously that Roxboro is not the coming town?

In another place will be found the advertisement of Messrs. W. T. Pass & Co., which we request your careful attention. Go to see them and they will make it to your interest to trade with them when you are in want of anything in the line of provisions.

Money Found
I have found some money. The loser can get it from me by sufficiently describing it, and paying for this notice. W. W. Kitchn.

SHOWERS GIVE NEW LIFE TO KINSTON TOBACCO CROP

Kinston, June 12.—One of those million dollar rains came to this section today in time to save the tobacco crop from severe damage. Another 48 hours of the hot dry weather that has prevailed for weeks would have resulted in disaster it was believed.

Showers that soaked the ground to a nominal depth came at a break. The skies remained overcast, which added to farmers' pleasure. Hot sunshine following the rain would have wilted plants.

Tobaccoists here said the precipitation was literally worth a million dollars. The crop is promising.

YOUNG MAN KILLED AT SWIMMING RESORT SUNDAY

Elkin, June 12.—Martin Hinshaw, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hinshaw, was fatally shot late yesterday at a mill pond swimming resort near Toaphill. Herahel Richardson, alleged to have fired the ball into the back of Hinshaw's head as he tried to run, is being sought by officers.

Play among a group of boys around a spring, after a swim, turned to fury on part of Richardson, it is said, after he had been sprinkled with water. Flashing a jack knife which was forced from his hand, he left the spot, returning with a pistol to attack Hinshaw, firing twice at his back as Hinshaw ran. The second discharge pierced the brain. Hinshaw died an hour later in a local hospital.

In Black-Draught you have a natural laxative, free from synthetic drugs. Its use does not make you have to depend on cathartic chemical drugs to get the bowels to act daily. Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN.
