

more in accord with the Divine will and command if the people would meet at their respective churches in thankful and grateful service for our good Ruler and many other things. and we should not forget the recent great improvement in financial conditions. Money is to be raised to carry on the crusade against infantile paralysis. I have nothing whatever to say against helping the needy sick and suffering. It is our duty. But I do not see the wisdom of lowering the moral standard or the evil or even questionable methods in getting money for benevolence or anything else. Besides we do not know that money raised by the ballroom method would be gladly received by some thoughtful and prudent people. I remember about fifty years ago when Bro. J. H. Mills was manager of the Oxford Orphanage. In a city in our state an entertainment was given to raise money for the orphanage and a part of the acts or performance of this entertainment was dog dancing. Bro. Mills replied saying in part "The Orphanage needs money but we had rather close doors than resort to dog dancing to get help. And I believe there are yet people who are interested and careful of the right way of getting money and material help. Again the Scripture says to "seek first God's kingdom and His righteousness. Whatsoever ye do in word or deed do it as to the glory of God."

his lack of faith in him. He thought that a person must be born again; he must be born from above. Nicodemus cannot understand this.

Jesus reminded him of serpents bit the people of the desert. How Moses planted God for them; how God made a serpent and put it on a pole and people were cured of serpent when they looked on the pole.

Then the Lord said, "So must the Son of Man be lifted up. So that every one that believeth in him shall not have eternal life."

His appeal to Nicodemus was not in vain, but he accepted it not.

HIS CHALLENGE TO FAITH

The challenge to faith is a very important one. It is a challenge that every person should face. Faith is the foundation of our lives and without it we are lost. We must have faith in God and in His promises. Faith is the key to eternal life.
