MAIN STREET

IN THE HEART OF TOWN IN FRONT OF THE COURTHOUSE

ROXBORO, N. C.

HearD about Town

Sunday afternoon in strolling around we were over in the Reams-town section and saw some jonquils blooming. My, but we feel sorry for those little harbingers of spring this morning.

The apartment house which is being erected by Mr. O. B. McBroom on Charles Street is rapidly going up. This apartment is desirably located and will doubtless be rented long before it is occupied. We are glad to see this sign of prosperity for the town is decidedly short on home just at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Dawes and family have moved into their beautiful new brick bungalow on Morgan street.

Mr. John Norton, who was sergeant-at-arms in the last Senate, was a Roxboro visitor Monday. Mr. Norton is now connected with the Labor Department in Raleigh. In fact it looks like almost all who are connected with the last legislature are now connected with the pay roll in some way; kinder reminds us of that spiritual, "All God's Chillun Have Shoes—Jobs."

The cold snap must have been expected, as we have not seen a single load of coal pass our office this week; but the plumbers have been on the run every day. An ill wind that blows nobody good.

Yesterday flags were flying in front of practically all business houses here, honoring the President's birthday.

Birth Announcement

Mr. C. H. Hunter has received the following announcement from his granddaughter, Mrs. S. C. Tillman, of Washington, D. C.:
From my snug little bed,
In my wee little way,
I'm announcing my presence
On my birthday.
Name: Clifton Hunter Tillman.
Arrived Jan. 25, 1934. Weight 9 pounds 9 ounces. Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Tillman, Jr.

Roxboro Wins Over Hurdle Mills Cagers

On last Wednesday night the Roxboro basketball teams met some of its strongest opponents on the Roxboro court; the score being: girls 21-10; boys, 11-5. The local sextette was no match for the visiting girls in passing and handling the ball. The Roxboro girls outmatched the Hurdle Mills girls only by reinforcing the team with fresh players, thus making six points during the last three minutes of playing time.

No. points having been secured during the first quarter and the Hurdle Mills boys making the first three points, the boys' game was equally as hard fought.

Good Speakers For Bethel Hill P. T. A.

The regular monthly meeting of the Bethel Hill Parent-Teacher's Association will be held Monday night, Feb. 5th, at 7:30 o'clock in the school auditorium. An interesting program is being planned with Mr. Winstead, county supt., and Ray Armstrong of Chapel Hill, as speakers.

The apron campaign will be brought to a close Monday night, which time the results of the contest and the winner will be announced.
All parents are cordially invited to attend this meeting. Come and help your child's room win the prize for the largest attendance!

HINTS for the HOME BY NANCY HART

For water-stained white ceiling, cover the stains with black magnesia, rub until well covered, and then smooth with the finger tips.

New brooms should be soaked in hot water to toughen them. Frequent washings in hot soapy water will insure their long life.

Crapefruit and Cranberry Salad
Pare a large grapefruit and remove pulp. Arrange three sections on a nest of lettuce leaves, with two tablespoons tart cranberry sauce between them. Make six nests with the grapefruit and cranberry. Over each pour a tablespoon of Roquefort dressing.

If your refrigerator has its ice compartment all the way across the top, place your butter, cream and other foods that readily absorb odors on the top shelf; the neutral foods such as meat in the center, and strong flavored, aromatic foods at the bottom. In refrigerators in which the ice compartment occupies only one side, rather than the entire top, the milk, butter, cream and foods that absorb odors should be placed directly under the ice. The meat and neutral foods may be placed in the center, but the fish, fruits, vegetables and foods with odors should be placed on the top shelf alongside of the ice.

Cleansing powders best adapted to different metals are as follows:
For iron and wood—white sand; steel knives—Bath or Bristol brick; copper, brass and tin—tripoli or rottenstone; silver, aluminum and tin—whiting.

Tin receptacles are best to keep cakes and cookies fresh, while stone crocks are best for bread. If a cup of water is placed in the cake tins, its contents will stay fresh longer than you ever believed possible. If bread and cake are stored together, the cake will keep well but the bread will stale quickly, due to the action of moisture.

Roquefort Dressing
½ cup salad oil
2 tablespoons Roquefort Cheese
½ teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon salt
2 drops Tabasco sauce
¼ cup vinegar
Stir cheese until creamy and add seasonings. Gradually blend in oil and vinegar. Chill.

If you have room in the oven, and are using it for several hours, by all means utilize the heat by boiling down some soup bones. The soup should be brought to a vigorous boil before placing in the oven, and the cooking will continue.

Onions should be parboiled before baking, to facilitate the process unless the main dish is going to require an hour or more for cooking. Remove from the water carefully, to retain the shape, and place whole in a buttered baking dish—or if for some reason you wish to hurry them up exceedingly, slice before parboiling.

For a different-flavored morning fruit drink, mix 2-3 cup of canned pineapple juice with 1 tablespoon of honey, add lemon juice to taste (1 or 2 tablespoonsful) and a pinch of salt.

ECONOMY RECIPES
Chipped Beef and Mushrooms

2 cups mushrooms
3 tablespoons butter
1 cup chipped beef
1½ cups thick cream sauce
Pepper, salt, paprika
Peel mushrooms and slice lengthwise. Place in baking dish with butter, season with pepper and salt, and bake in a moderate oven for fifteen minutes, turning occasionally. Shred the chipped beef, rinse in cold water and drain. Add to cream sauce with the cooked mushrooms and their juice. Heat all together thoroughly, stirring constantly. Serve on rounds of toast, and sprinkle with paprika. This amount will serve four.

A four page newspaper is published in New York with a vocabulary of only 900 words. It is published by the Language Research Committee affiliated with the New York University and is used to aid foreign-born adults in learning English and adjusting themselves to the American environment. The average American-born adult has a vocabulary of 25,000 words, yet the 900 word newspaper is very readable, quite complete.

Dop's Duke, multimillionaire, recently attained the age of 21 and now controls a $83,000,000 fortune. Her home is at 1 E. 78th St., New York and her auto license reads 1-E-78. Neat?

On 39th Street, just off Broadway: a man sitting on the top of a motor truck. His legs reach all the way to the ground. He's the sandwich man who walks on stilts and occasionally holds conversations with workers in second story windows.

In response to my telephoned inquiry for an out-of-town guest came this prompt answer from Radio City's Music Hall, "For equipment for the hard of hearing, speak to one of the ushers, deposit $2. The usher will show you to a seat in the balcony row in the orchestra which is wired for the purpose, and connect the instrument. Return the instrument on leaving the theater and your deposit will be returned in full."

The opening night of the Metropolitan Opera, incidentally, was one of the most lavish of many years. Among the patrons were the Astors and the Vanderbilts and, the J. P. Morgans, The Princess Mirani, the former Barbara Hutton, and many another. Almost every box sparkled with a tiara of some sort, and there was a real diamond coronet—a full crown, mind you—worn by Lady Honor Channon, a guest of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt. And associated with all this pomp, strange as it may seem, velvetten was much in evidence, both in wraps and in dresses. Bracelets were worn by the fours and fives—all in a row. Most of them were diamond but then, how is a mere man to know? Suffice it to say that the opening was, once more, like something you read about.

Ohio has swallowed a whale! Or at least that's the story of the whale's owner here who shipped his 55 ton whale on a 65-foot truck recently, bound for New York. He says that not only is the whale worth $25,000 but that he loves it and his loss has affected him deeply. He has appealed to Lincoln Highway Police to help him locate the whale and truck and the driver. The whale, it was to be put on exhibit here in New York.

RESOURCEFULNESS—a girl!
I am impressed by one result of the depression. It has stimulated the resourcefulness of many people, young and old, who had been content to let other people do things for them.

One young woman whom I know is supporting herself and her mother by giving parties. The husband and father, supposed to be wealthy, committed suicide in 1920, leaving his family with nothing but a house and its furnishings that they could call their own. The daughter had never been trained to any sort of work, but she had a wide circle of friends.

"I'm going to keep right on giving parties," she told them, "but to come to my parties you'll have to pay." At least once a week she gives a dance, with a simple supper, and her friends who still have money, left sock to it and bring their friends, paying $2.50 a head. The young woman and her mother are living as well as they used to and she is putting money in the savings bank.

That's what I call resourcefulness. English chemists are working with poison gases in Africa by spraying
