

Looking Back Ten Years

Woodrow Wilson is Gathered Unto the Fathers: Washington, Feb. 3.—Former President Woodrow Wilson died at 11:15 o'clock this morning. The place of his entombment and whether his funeral will be public or private will be determined later. The end was peaceful. Life ebbed away while he slept.

A tired man, he closed his eyes, and, "sustained and soothed by an unfaltering trust," passed on to the great hereafter "like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

Dr. Grayson, his friend and physician, announced the end of the great war President in this bulletin:

"Mr. Wilson died at 11:15 o'clock. His heart's action became feeble and feeble, and the heart muscle was so fatigued that it refused to act any longer. The end came peacefully."

The Legion Hut: The American Legion boys are going right ahead with plans for their building, and when completed will be not only a credit to the boys, but will fill a long felt want in this town. It will house the town officers, furnish a rest room for the ladies coming in from the country, and contain an auditorium which will seat seven hundred and fifty people, thus giving the town an auditorium long needed. You will hear from the boys now soon, and we feel sure no one will turn them down.—(Another good child died a-borning.—Ed.)

Master Woodrow Wilson Perkins received the following letter from the late Mr. Woodrow Wilson, which of course, he is very proud of:

Washington, D. C., Jan. 18, 1924.
My dear Sir:
Mr. Wilson asks me to thank you for your letter, and say he is glad to know of your friendship, and that of your father. He hopes that the year just opening will be filled with many happinesses for both of you.

Cordially yours,
John Randolph Boring, Sec.
Mr. Woodrow Wilson Perkins,
Roxboro, N. C.

One Hundred and Three Years Old: Mr. Ned Moore informs us that there is an old colored man by the name of Henry Cameron living on his place who is really 103 years old. The age of this old man can be vouched for.—(We wonder if Uncle Henry is still living.—Ed.)

A Good Record: Our good friend, Mrs. J. M. Carr, of Route 1, favored us with a visit last Saturday and was telling of her record with her hens: From fourteen hens she sold $29.60 worth of eggs, besides supply the home with all they could use. Mrs. Carr is on the right road, but we believe she should adopt the suggestion by the State Agricultural Department and keep at least thirty hens.

Bridge Gives Way: Monday the team of mules and wagon loaded with tobacco belonging to Mr. Clarence Winstead fell through a bridge on the road leading from "Olive Hill to Semora. Mr. Winstead had started his wagon to Danville. It is stated the bridge had been condemned but no notice had been posted on the bridge. The driver was slightly hurt, and one of the mules seriously damaged.

Will there be any Cows in Heaven? This thought is brought to us by a young lady—one of the brightest in the County, or State, who says she is now looking after four cows and spends most of her time milking and churning. She remarked to her father a few days ago that she hoped there would be no cows in Heaven.

Miss Isabel deVlaming of Meredith College, Raleigh, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. deVlaming.

Miss Ethel Daniel of Oxford College spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Daniel.

Mrs. T. P. Featherstone left Tuesday for Florida where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. K. S. Hall.

Miss Katie Perkins and Miss Mary Hatchett, of Durham music school, spent the week-end with their parents.

Mt. Harmony News

Attorney J. Grover Lee of Durham was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Mt. Harmony Parent-Teacher's Association. His topic was "Cooperation Between the Home and the School," and in his usual forceful manner Mr. Lee proved himself most interesting to both students and patrons. Mr. Lee is a Person County boy who has made a name for himself in his chosen profession, and the school and county were glad to welcome him back on this occasion.

Through the benevolence of the C.W.A. the school is now enjoying an up-to-date lunch room. It is conducted by Misses Day and Clayton and proves popular with students and C.W.A. workers.

Other C.W.A. projects which have greatly benefited Mt. Harmony school are: A water and light plant, painting of classrooms and auditorium, installing new seats in auditorium and improvement of grounds and athletic field.

The principal has recently purchased new basketball suits and ball for the boy's team. The colors are blue and white. The boys and girls are planning to schedule a number of games during the season.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Veasey were dinner guests of Mrs. Ernest Rogers of Bahama Sunday. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dunn of Bahama and Duke University.

Mrs. E. L. Veasey recently returned from an extended visit with her mother, Mrs. G. G. Uzzell of Kingston.

BOY SCOUT WEEK

February 8th to 14th inclusive is known as Boy Scout Week. The Roxboro Boy Scout Council and the Boy Scout troops of Person county are preparing to observe Scout Week here.

On Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week (Feb. 8, 9 and 10) the scouts will display some of their hand-craft work and will give daily demonstrations of first aid service in the display windows of the Davis Drug Company on Main street. The boys giving the demonstrations will work in relays.

On Saturday morning at eleven o'clock the various scout troops will parade through Main street and gather at the courthouse. There the necessary arrangements will be provided to receive President Roosevelt's nation-wide address to the Boy Scouts at noon on Saturday. The President's address will begin promptly at 12 o'clock. The scouts, their parents, and interested friends are urged to be in the courtroom and seated a few minutes before 12 o'clock. There may be one or two other features on the scout program for the day.

Don't forget to give the scouts some of your attention this week. Drop by Davis drug store and see what the scouts are doing on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. The scouts are home products: help them to produce worthy citizenship at home.

CHRIST, THE GIVER

By Obediah Frazier

It can truly be said that every good and perfect gift cometh from the Lord. We give gifts to each other and if we give with the right intention it is the spirit of Christ that prompts ourselves to give. Let us stop and consider the times together for a few moments. What a change that has taken place for the last year or two, and even just one year ago, since President Roosevelt has taken oath as President things have begun to happen and it seems that everything points to a brighter future from a financial standpoint. I am fully convinced and hope and trust, dear people, that our good Lord has given us a man when He gave us President Roosevelt. One that will do ourselves much good in the future.

Now, since times are getting better, and the merciful Lord has so wonderfully blessed us in that He has brought us out of a very critical and trying time, are you and myself going to stop and thank Him for doing so? I say we should. The Lord has blessed us as farmers in this state the past year with a good tobacco crop and we have got a little profit from the sales thereof. And also Christ haven't only blessed us with material things but He gave Himself to die on the cross for us that we might receive the remission of sins if we believe and obey Him. I think, dear friends, we need as a nation, as a state, as a county, as individuals, to consider more seriously our obligations to our Lord. Since Christ has brought spiritual blessing into the world and is blessing you daily with material things, let you and myself make a resolution for nineteen hundred and thirty four and all the rest of our lives that we will let Him keep our hearts and use our lives for His glory. Since what we have is not ours and we are not our own, but are bought with a price and a mighty dear price it is, the blood of Christ. So you and myself need to add a little more to our resolution to go all the way with Christ.

Since we are getting more money for our labor and our farm produce let us be more liberal in giving to that worthy pastor of ours, because Christ loves a cheerful giver, and please remember that Christ said as you do this unto His little ones you do it unto Him. The Bible teaches us to owe no man anything, so while we have the money let you go over and pay that neighbor or friend what we owe him, and, oh yes, I was about to forget. Let us go over and pay our brother editors what we owe them. I think they have been mighty nice to wait so long. And there are two other parties we ought to see if we owe anything. We should pay them if we possibly can. And that is our old faithful friend, our family doctor and we must not forget our friend due on the grocery or dry goods bill we should pay it at once while we have the money. I think we should not make them wait any longer for pay because they have been mighty kind to wait so far. Let us do unto our brother, sister, and fellowman as we would have them to do unto us, and so fulfill the will of Him who is the Great Good Giver of all good gifts, whose word teaches us to love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul and with all thy strength and mind and to love thy neighbors as thyself. Love is the theme. Love is supreme.
