

It Goes Against the Grain to have to sell lumber at present prices but it certainly is soft picking for the man who wants to build. Experts say that lumber will never be so cheap again. The man who postpones building is, in plain language, a boob. Now is the time. Let us figure on that job—you'll be surprised!

CELEBRATES 15TH BIRTHDAY

Miss Jean Morton was charming hostess to a dinner party on Saturday evening celebrating her sixteenth birthday. The table was beautifully decorated with attractively cut flowers and growing tapers. Covers were laid for the following guests: Miss Margaret Hannah Critcher, Bob Michaels, Miss Annie Long Bradsher, Bill Collins, Miss Sue Merritt Richmond, Black Long and Miss Jean Morton with Mr. Tom Cheek of Durham.

MRS. THOMAS-HOSTESS TO HER BRIDGE CLUB FRIDAY

On Friday afternoon Mrs. E. E. Thomas was hostess to her Bridge club and other guests at a party at her home on Heams Avenue. The lower floor of the home was beautifully decorated with yellow and other colored flowers placed throughout the rooms. Five tables were arranged for the club game of contract. Tallies were counted and to Mrs. H. M. Beam a dainty gift was presented for club high. To Mrs. T. B. Woody a box of powder was given for visitor's high. The hostess served a delicious salad course, coffee and sweet course.

MRS. MERRITT ENTERTAINS WITH A BRIDGE PARTY

Mrs. J. S. Merritt delightfully entertained last week at a bridge party. Tables were placed in the living room where several interesting progressions of contract were played. Scores were added and Miss Mary Hester was given a prize for making the highest score. The hostess served tempting refreshments.

MRS. STRANG ENTERTAINS AT LOVELY BRIDGE PARTY

Mrs. Strang entertained on Thursday evening at her home in Ca-Vel at a lovely bridge party. Tables were placed for the game of contract and after several progressions tallies were gathered and the prize was awarded to Mrs. Wright. A delicious sweet course with coffee was served by the hostess.

FORD VENTILATION IS CENTER OF INTEREST

Crowds Like Clear-Vision Feature—One Of A Dozen V-8 Improvements

"The handle they love to touch," is the way Mr. J. H. Wood, Jr., manager of the Norfolk branch of the Ford Motor Company, describes the handle which controls the clear-vision ventilation system of the Ford V-8 for 1934.

"Dealers everywhere," he said, "are reporting that the simple operation of this ventilation system is so intriguing to persons viewing the new cars that they almost invariably raise the window glass in order to give the handle the extra half-turn that slides the glass away from the frame, forming a narrow opening the ' provides draftless ventilation.

"Each window has a single piece of glass—not two sections. That's why the ventilation system is called 'clear vision.'

Independent Action on 4 Wheels

"Another feature of the cars that is attracting wide attention," Mr. Wood continued, "is something which on the Ford is not really new. That is, the independent action of all four wheels made possible by the transverse springs. The free action of the wheels of the Ford V-8 for 1934 has been increased by newly designed spring leaves, providing flexibility and quieter action."

More than two million visitors at the recent Ford Exposition of Progress in New York City saw this feature dramatically demonstrated as diagonal wheels were alternately pushed upward yet the Ford body kept steady and level.

Interest in Ford V-8 power and economy is keener than ever, according to Mr. Wood. "This is probably due to announcement that the power has been stepped up by 12% at the same time that more miles per gallon are attainable."

Ford Roominess Makes Sales

"Only by driving the Ford V-8 for 1934 can one really appreciate the improvements that have been made in it," said Mr. Wood. "For instance, take the matter of roominess—many a Ford sale was made last year the minute the prospective buyer sat at the wheel, all because the Ford V-8 did its own demonstrating. A car of its low price range offering more head room and more leg room than in seventeen other American built cars, couldn't help but stand out.

"And that's the new Ford V-8 for 1934! Plus easier steering due to a 15 to 1 steering ratio. Plus new beautiful interiors with coved ceilings, individual arm rests for all passengers, deeper and more comfortable seats of tufted upholstery. Plus body designs of stylish line and rare grace."

DISTRESS AFTER MEALS

Relieved By Black-Draught
"I had sour stomach and gas," writes Mr. Jess Higgins, of Dawsonville, Ga., "and often I would have bilious spells. I read about Theford's Black-Draught and began to take it. It relieved me of this trouble. I keep it all the time now. I consider it a fine medicine. I take a pinch of Black-Draught after meals when I need it. It helps to prevent sick headache and to keep the system in good order."
Get a package at the store. Try it! Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for Children.

No Decrease Seen In Poultry Growing

Because poultry growing seems to provide a fairly dependable source of income and prices for broilers have been better than was anticipated, indications are that the demand for baby chicks in North Carolina this season will continue as good as in 1933.

"However, poultrymen should carefully select their sources of baby chicks and if possible get those which have been produced from eggs laid by blood-tested hens," cautions Roy S. Dearstine, head of the State College poultry department. "Another important point is to be prepared for the chicks before they are received at the farm. Chicks are highly perishable and the brooder houses need to be ready in ample time. We have found that the starting of baby chicks for early pullets or for early broilers is more complicated than raising them later in the season when sunshine, range and green feed is available." nibalism will likely develop. Dearstine says baby chicks started very early have a tendency towards leg weakness that later chicks do not have. This means that the early chicks should get all the sunshine possible. Where they do not have green feed, an extra amount of cod liver oil needs to be added to the mash. If the chicks are badly crowded and the drinking and eating places are inadequate, can-

Baby chicks started early need the best of care and rigid sanitation. Carelessness and indifference in handling them will prove costly, says the poultryman.
