FIRST HELP SELF

"The gods help those who first help themselves," is an adage with much truth, and will continue to be true. For many moons we have been hearing that prosperity was just around the corner; true, we do not hear it quite so often now, but apparently we are not yet entirely around that corner where we can look prosperity squarely in the face, though we may get a side-glance at the old fellow. If we would follow the adage quoted above prosperity would soon be in evidence here in this good town and County; for instance, what if every merchant in Roxboro stocked only towels which are manufactured here; or brooms made here in Roxboro; or gave the farmer who had vegetables for sale the first choice. True, the farmers of this section do not raise enough vegetables to supply the market, but if the farmer felt he was going to dispose of his surplus he would not hesitate to bring it here; or if the miller was sure he would find a market for his flour, or his meal he would depend on the market and would bring it in; but as it is, many of the good housewives will not use home-ground flour, or meal, but will insist that the merchant stock outside brands, because they are a shade whiter. If we made up our minds that we were going to buy home-grown or home-made articles then the manufacturer and the farmer would take more interest in catering to the wants of the merchants.

And again, if there was this feeling of friendliness with the manufacturer, and especially the farmer, we would have settled satisfactorily the question of marketing what tobacco is raised in this County; with such treatment for the farmers they just naturally would have a closer fellow feeling for Roxboro and would try to do everything in their power to help build up the town. You just can not befriend a person without that person having a kindly feeling for you, and such would be the case with Roxboro; treat the farmer as you would have the farmer treat you, and you will solve all of the county problems as far as the farmer patronizing the home town is concerned.

We would like to go a bit further, we wish that every merchant in Roxboro would refuse to stock any article other than that made in North Carolina; there are few things needed which can not be found manufactured in this State, that is, in the way of wearing materials, home necessities, etc. Of course, it might be necessary to carry some lines other than those made here, because they are not now accessible, but it would not be very long before they would be manufactured here and if such a policy was adopted, then we would have prosperity, real prosperity with every one—the manufacturer, the merchant and the farmer.

LET'S GET BUSY

In about ten weeks the tobacco markets of the old belt will open, and it is none too soon for our warehouses to settle down to business and begin to make ready for the opening. The market here last year showed a decided gain, but the crop has been cut sharply this year, and the poundage will be very much less. If we sit still and allow the adjoining markets to get a goodly portion of this crop, as they have been doing for the past several years, then our market will make a decided poor showing.

"Keeping everlastingly at it brings success," is the motto of one of the largest advertising concerns, and it is just as true for the warehouseman as it is for the advertiser. If we expect to get our part of this crop we must be up and at it, and the sooner we get up and at it the better it will be for every one concerned.

The Boy Scouts are planning for an encampment; some of the boys are not able to stand the expense and a call is being made to help them out. This is a worthwhile proposition and you could hardly find a better place to give a dollar. Help the boys, one of them might pull you out of the old swimming hole sometime, as one did the young lady recently.

Some say times are hard, but you would hardly think so judging by the number who are weekly attending the world's fair, to say nothing of the number who are touring Europe. We all seem to be able to do the things which most appeal to us, regardless of hard times.

If you feel the least bit religiously inclined attend one of the many revivals which are being held at the country churches this month. If you can't enjoy your religion at one of these meetings, then your religion is of very little use, and we fear will not count for much when you face old Peter at the judgment gate.

Society Notes

MRS. MERRITT ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE ON TUESDAY

Mrs. Sam Merritt entertained her Bridge club and other guests on Tuesday evening of last week at her home on Lamar street. The delightful game of contract was played at several tables and many interesting progressions were enjoyed. Tallies were counted and Mrs. Frank Wilson was awarded club prize. A dainty gift was given to Miss Margaret Carlton for visitor's high. The hostess served tempting refreshments.

MRS. SIMPSON HONORS MISS ESTELLE BROWN

As a compliment to Miss Estelle Brown, of Chapel Hill, Mrs. H. G. Simpson delightfully entertained at her home on South Main street Thursday night.

Tables for playing contract bridge were arranged on the porch of the home. Miss Claire Harris won high score honors and Mrs. W. G. Bradsher placed second. Each was presented with dainty gifts. The honoree and Mrs. T. R. Shaw, the latter a recent bride, were also remembered with gifts by the hostess.

A delicious sweet course was served the 20 guests.

MISS EMILY BARNETTE IS BRIDE OF NOEL B. TUCK

A marriage of much interest in the Carolinas and Virginia took place in Durham Thursday afternoon when Miss Emily N. Barnette became the bride of Noel B. Tuck, of Virginia, Va. The marriage had been planned for Tuesday last at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. T. C. Barnette, near Roxboro. On account of illness in the family, however, it was postponed until Thursday. After an extended motor trip through western Carolina, Mr. and Mrs. Tuck will be at home in Conway, S. C.

Miss Barnette has for the past three years been a popular and successful member of the school faculty in Roxboro.

Mr. Tuck is engaged in the tobacco business, operating a warehouse in South Carolina during the summer and in Oxford during the winter season.

MRS. MARTIN ENTERTAINS S. S. OFFICERS AND TEACHERS

On Sunday, July 1, Mrs. Jesse F. Martin, of Christie, entertained the Sunday School officers and teachers of Mayo Chapel Baptist church with a very delightful dinner. The table was placed under the large trees in the yard at her home. Everybody gathered around and helped themselves. Meats were served for the main course while banana sandwiches, custard, cake and pickles for the dessert. Lemonade was also served.

After dinner all returned to the house and joined in interesting conversation.

The officers and teachers present were: Mr. Jesse F. Martin, supt.; Mr. J. S. Coleman, asst. supt.; Mr. Charles A. Epus, sec.; Miss Irene Stuart, teacher No. 1; Miss Hattie Stuart, teacher No. 4; Mrs. Sam Martin, teacher No. 5; Mr. Sam Martin, teacher No. 9. Others participating were: Her son, Mr. L. P. Martin, his wife and baby, Mr. J. K. Martin and his son, Miss Pearl Martin, her daughter, Mr. Shepherd Martin, her son, and Mr. R. T. Shepherd, her brother. Mrs. Jesse Martin received considerable honor as hostess.

LOOKING BACK TWENTY YEARS

Death of Jennie E. Oliver
On Dec. 20, 1914, death visited the home of D. L. Oliver, and claimed our loving mother.

She was sixty-nine years old. She had been in feeble health for two years or more.

She leaves nine children: Mrs. Lizzy Covington of Reidsville, Mrs. Hattie Oliver of Yanceyville, Mrs. Lollie Davis of Jerico, Mr. John Oliver of Hightowers, Mrs. Annie Rice and Messrs. Lindsey, Jim, Sam and Marvin Oliver of Roxboro, to mourn for their loving mother. She was of a Primitive Baptist belief, but had never joined any church.

She told the writer not long before she died, she had a good hope, and she believed she would be better off after death.

Oh! What a comfort it is to our sad hearts to think that mother is in heaven, waiting for her dear children, and grandchildren of whom she loved so dear.

Mother has only paid the debt we have all got to pay. May the good Lord help us to be submissive to his will, and say thy will be done not ours.

She was loved by all who knew her.

She was tenderly laid to rest at Leas Chapel, to await the Resurrection Morn.

The kind friends that were so nice to her during her sickness and death will be always remembered by the family.—A loved one.

MIGHTY EARLY in the season to make such big reductions, but they must get out. All mens' straw hats HALF PRICE at Harris & Burns.

KEEPS FOOD CHILLED IN ANY KITCHEN

YOUR kitchen is the logical place to keep food. You can keep it there day after day, thoroughly chilled and wholesome, if you have a Superfex Oil-Burning Refrigerator. Without using electricity, with no connections of any kind, Superfex economically keeps food fresh and pure, cold and clean. Makes 32 large, sparkling ice cubes at a time. Freezes ice cream. Improves food flavor. Keeps left-overs until they can be used. Cuts down food costs, saves trips to market, saves countless days!

Superfex burns a couple of cents' worth of kerosene daily. At the end of two hours, burners go out automatically while refrigeration continues. Nothing complicated. Nothing difficult to understand. Ask us for a demonstration with no obligation.
