SERIOUS ACCIDENT ON ROXBORO-DURHAM ROAD

Two Cars Collide Resulting In Serious Injury To Several People

There was a serious wreck out on the Durham-Roxboro highway this afternoon at 1:30. Two cars, one driven by Mr. Pope of Coats, a lumber man, occupied by himself and two boys and one girl, the other car contained three ladies, Mrs. Johnson, mother of Mrs. W. G. Bradsher, and two other ladies who had been visiting in the home of Mrs. W. G. Bradsher. The former car was headed towards Roxboro and the latter towards Durham.

Several of those in the two cars were seriously injured, not expected to live; two ambulances were summoned immediately and the patients taken to Durham. Further particulars could not be gotten before going to press.

BERNARD TERRY BURIED HERE

Mr. Bernard Terry, 52, who died at his home in Maysville, S. C., Thursday morning following a paralytic stroke suffered late Wednesday afternoon, was buried in Burchwood Cemetery Saturday morning at 8:30. Rev. J. F. Herbert of Edgar Long Memorial Church and Rev. J. C. McGregor of the North Roxboro Baptist Church were the officiating ministers. Messrs. L. K. Walker, Lawrence Woods, Robert Featherstone, Eugene Thompson, Wheeler Newell and Dr. B. A. Thaxton were the pall-bearers. The floral-bearers were the nieces of the deceased.

Mr. Terry was well known here where he was born and reared until a young man. He had been making his home in Maysville, S. C., since he suffered a stroke of paralysis about three years ago.

BREAKS RECORD

GOV. LOUIS J. BRANN

Leading a smashing vindication of the "New Deal," Governor Louis J. Brann, of Maine, broke precedent in the former rock-ribbed Republican state by being the first Democrat to win reelection as governor. He won his victory by an amazing plurality of more than 23,000.

MIDDLE BELT HAS RECORD OPENING

Heavy Break Gluts Warehouses And Blocked Sales Are Generally Reported

GENERAL AVERAGE 30c

Middle belt tobacco markets had their heaviest opening break in many years yesterday and one that was highly satisfactory to farmers, warehousemen and business men alike as estimates placed the general average at near 30¢ a cwt.

There were no reports from any of the ten markets of bids rejected and farmers were described as smiling and well pleased.

The heavy break glutted warehouses and blocked sales, resulted generally, Henderson and Durham, among the larger markets, reported enough tobacco was delivered to keep buyers busy through Thursday. Additional buyers will be sent to the markets next week.

There were a million pounds in Durham's seven warehouses and around 800,000 pounds at Henderson.

Official figures from the market were lacking tonight due to the heavy sales.

While the reported averages varied somewhat on different markets, all reported that all grades were bringing good prices. The bulk of the tobacco offered was described as first primings and the preponderance of low grades brought down the average on some of the markets.

PAT H. CLAY DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Died Thursday At Home Here From Heart And Kidney Complications

Mr. Patrick H. Clay died at his home last Thursday morning at 4:30 following an illness of about six months. He had been able to be up until about the first of last May, when he was taken seriously ill. His condition improved and he was able to be up intermittently until about sixty days ago when he took his bed in a critical condition, remaining so until his death on last Thursday. Mr. Clay was a well-known man here having made this his home practically all his life. He is survived by his widow, the former Miss Omega Mills, and seven children, five boys, P. H. Jr., Bill, Charles, Russell and Robert, and two daughters, Dorothy and Elizabeth Clay, all of Roxboro, also one brother, Herbert Clay of Roxboro, and four sisters, Mrs. E. L. Harris of Durham, Mrs. R. D. Mitchell, Misses Halle and Maude Clay of Roxboro, survive.

Funeral services were conducted from the home on Court Street Friday afternoon at 3:00 with his pastor, Rev. J. F. Herbert of Edgar Long Memorial Church officiating, assisted by Rev. Thomas Hamilton of the Presbyterian Church. Active pall-bearers were: Messrs. H. O. Long, D. R. Taylor, Teague Kirby, R. D. Mitchell, Kelly, Paylor and Sam Merritt. Honorary pall-bearers were: Messrs. Lawrence Woods, Wallace Woods, Dr. A. P. Nichols, J. W. Noell, Clyde Swartz, Ed. Ashley, Lewis Tapp, E. E. Thomas, B. G. Clayton, Edward Bowles, Landon Bradsher, Tony Duncan, W. H. Adair, Joe Kirby, James Carver, N. C. Dean and Robert Dickerson. Members of the W. D. Merritt Sunday School Class acted as floral-bearers. Members of the Long Memorial Church choir sang several favorite hymns. Burial was made in the Concord church cemetery immediately following the funeral services.

DR. JOHNSON AT 1ST BAP. CHURCH

Dr. Walter N. Johnson will be with Pastor W. F. West in a series of meetings beginning on next Sunday, Sept. 16, and continuing for a week or ten days. Dr. Johnson is one of the most forceful speakers in the entire south and has been most successful in leading our people to a deeper spiritual life. He is the author of several books that come as a challenge for a vitalized Christianity.

Roxboro is indeed fortunate in having a visit from this distinguished, consecrated man of God.

BRANN EASY WINNER IN MAINE ELECTION

Portland, Me., Sept. 11.—Senator Frederick Hale, Republican and uncompromising foe of the "New Deal," tonight depended on the slender margin of 1,238 votes to send him back to the United States Senate for his fourth consecutive term.

Meanwhile, Governor Louis J. Brann, Democrat, watched his margin of victory in yesterday's election pass the amazing total of 23,000 votes.

His triumph was regarded as particularly significant in view of the tremendous efforts exerted by Republican strategists to check his political career for the psychological effect it might have as the rest of the country prepared for its November Congressional elections.

Forces Recount. Senator Hale, after experiencing the narrowest escape from defeat in his long political career, faced the certainty of a demand for a recount by F. Harold Dubord, his aggressive Democratic rival.

BACK AT WORK

Dr. J. D. Bradsher has so improved since his recent appendicitis operation that he is able to be at work again. His patrons will find him at his accustomed place over Wyburn & Satterfield's.

precincts in the county have been gone through and fifty-eight challenges issued.

DIRECTING GREAT TEXTILE STRIKE

WASHINGTON. . . . These are 24-hour working days for Francis Gorman (above), chairman of the strike committee of the United Textile Workers Union, who keeps in touch with field directors throughout the vast textile areas.

Gorman Withdraws His Peace Offer; Prepares For Prolonged Battle

Meantime, More Serious Rioting Occurs In Rhode Island As Strikers Clash With Guardsmen

COTTON MILL OWNERS MEET FEDERAL BOARD

Washington, Sept. 11.—New eruptions of textile strike violence signaled the mobilization of additional troops today while labor leaders, their offer of arbitration unaccepted, asserted the unions now must face the mill owners "on the field of conflict."

The Presidential mediation board, headed by Gov. John G. Winant of New Hampshire, discussed the situation throughout the day and on into the night with spokesmen for the manufacturers. None would say what, if any, progress had been made.

Meanwhile, militiamen sent to Saylesville, Rhode Island, after a battle in which two men and a woman 73 years old sustained bullet wounds, were stoned by the remnants of a crowd of 2,000 pickets. Clubs, guns and tear gas had previously ended a sortie against a mill there.

Guardmen Wait. In Connecticut and Maine, National Guardsmen waited in their armories for orders dispatching them to troubled areas. Flying squadrons again at work in North Carolina resulted in orders increasing the militiamen on duty to 1,700, or nearly half the State's entire National Guard force.

DEATH OF MRS. E. EBERMAN

News has been received here of the death of Mrs. E. Eberman, in Norfolk, Va., Monday night. Mrs. Eberman is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. G. C. Vickers of Roxboro, and two sons, Edwin of New York, and John of Norfolk.

DEATH OF INFANT

Violet Lou Cash, age 3 years and 9 months, died at the home of her foster father, M. Cash, at Helena, yesterday at 5:10 a. m. Funeral services were held from the home this afternoon at 3:30, conducted by Rev. E. E. Stanfield. Interment was made in the Andrews family cemetery.

AN OLD FRIEND

We were favored with a visit from our good friend, Mr. Jas. W. Wilson, one of the proprietors of the Central Warehouse of Danville yesterday afternoon. Mr. Wilson is one of the oldest tobaccoists of our acquaintance, and he says when you want a square deal and a glad hand bring him a load.

ROXBORO COCA-COLA BOTTLING PLANT IS UP-TO-THE MINUTE

There May Be Larger Bottling Plants But None More Sanitary

PLANT JUST OVERHAULED AND PAINTED

Yesterday we had the pleasure of looking over the plant of the Roxboro Coca-Cola Bottling Works, and it was indeed a revelation, for we had no idea it was possible to do some of the things the new machinery is doing. For instance after the operator places the bottles in the bin for washing and cleansing no hand touches that bottle again until it comes out at the other end of the machine thoroughly washed, filled and capped. We can not conceive how it would be possible for anything to be more sanitary than the bottling of this popular drink by this company.

The machines turn out 24 bottles a minute, 60 cases an hour, and before the bottles are placed on the racks for delivery each bottle is inspected by the operator to see that no foreign substance has slipped through; the bottles are placed over an electric light, and all carefully and closely examined, and it could hardly be possible for any foreign substance to have found its way into one of the bottles. As said at the outset, there may be larger plants, but there are no more sanitary or cleaner plants anywhere. Mr. McBroom, the owner, has just overhauled the entire establishment and everything is bright with a fresh coat of paint. Like a certain automobile, when better coca-cola is possible, McBroom will make it.
