Banquet Thursday night of commencement.

—Mrs. R. H. Whitehead gave a select musicale last Friday evening, complimentary to Miss Ednah Clarke, of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Whitehead and Mrs. Harrington gave brilliant renditions on the piano, and Professor Harrington presented a vocal solo of his own composition. Major Cain's violin solos were executed in his usual dashing and artistic manner. Mrs. Graves and Mrs. McRae completed the party, which pronounced the evening a complete success.

Franklin College, Ind., contains a new species of the genus footballist. The name of the individual is Vincent Carter, a member of the college team. During the past season he came out of a game with a sprained ankle, and he has recently filed a suit against the athletic association for $10,000 damages.

Oliver S. Campbell, America's tennis champion, will not defend his title next August.

We clip the following from the Atlanta Journal of March 1st. Shep. is too well known here for any explanation.

"Of the young men who have come in to Atlanta of late, we know of none with brighter prospects than Mr. Shepard Bryan, formerly of Newberne, N. C., now of our city.

Mr. Bryan is a young attorney, and is with Erwin & Cobb, in the Equitable building, and even in his short stay here has made hosts of friends.

A young man of gentle blood, pleasing address and strong mind, with a finished education, we predict for him a bright future in our city."

Before his death Bishop Brooks was a very enthusiastic supporter of the Harvard students in their undertaking of constructing a building for religious purposes. Now the students, appreciating the hearty encouragement they have received from their late friend, have decided to dedicate the building in his memory. The classmates of the departed Bishop are very much interested in this new movement and have responded generously to the letter of Mr. Edward H. Abbott, the secretary of the class.

The faculty of the University of Pennsylvania excuse the editors of the recognized college papers from a certain amount of work in the English department, provided an equivalent amount of work be done for the papers.

There will be nine buildings on the campus of the University of Chicago, representing a total cost of $750,000.
