Mrs. Nancy S. Foster, a lady over eighty years of age, gave $50,000 to the Chicago University for building a woman's dormitory. It was found that this building, which is now nearly completed, would cost more than the amount at first offered by Mrs. Foster, and, consequently, the check was sent to cover the deficit.—Ex.

Harvard has recently received two munificent gifts from unnamed donors. One of $150,000 for a new dormitory, and the other of $200,000 for a new reading room to be attached to the Library. Just as Conant dormitory, heretofore announced, is intended for high-priced rooms, so the one last donated is to be for the accommodation of students of small means, and to be placed north of the Theological Library.—Ex.

The University of Michigan has been concentrating all its influence upon the Legislature in an effort to secure the passage of a bill raising the State tax from one-twentieth to one-fifth of a mill. The proposed tax will yield a revenue of $226,000 per year, and is intended to obviate the necessity of special appropriations at each session of the Legislature. It costs nearly $500,000 to run the University for a year.—Ex.

One of the most interesting of Harvard's exhibits at the World's Fair will be two plaster casts representing the typical college youth and the typical college woman of the United States. The dimensions for these life-size figures are the average of more than 10,000 measurements made at different colleges according to the directions of Dr. Sargent, Director of the Harvard Gymnasium. The photographs for the general contour of the body and the features of the face are composites.—Ex.
