C. W. Stage of the Chicago Athletic Club won the 220-yards dash at the Pastime Athletic Club games in St. Louis in 21 3-5 seconds, equaling the world's record. He also ran one heat of the hundred in 9 4-5 seconds.

SHAKESPERE CLUB.

No organization in the University has of late years exerted so potent an influence on scientific literary study and investigation as has the Shakespere Club. An encouragement heretofore unappreciated is given the serious examiner into English and other master pieces in the hope that worthy results may be realized not only in point of culture for those actively interested, but in matters of research and fine production. It is most necessary that the life of the club be preserved and invigorated by renewed energy on the part of faculty and students. To the latter there is especial opportunity, and we trust that the Juniors and Seniors will recognize and give to the organization their hearty support by means of individual labor as well as financially. The first meeting will be held on Tuesday night next, to which all are cordially invited.

THE THURSDAY NIGHT ENTERTAINMENT.

Mrs. Mattie Betts Thomas, assisted by Mrs. Alexander Green and Miss Frances Leigh Starr, was greeted by a cultivated and enthusiastic audience at Gerrard Hall.

The vocal solos of Mrs. Thomas proved her to be an artist of no mean attainments. Her voice is rich and mellow, sympathetic and expressive. Each number was heartily enjoyed. Miss Starr was inimitable. From the beginning, she completely won the audience and was forced to respond to a double encore in nearly every number. The old lady "The apron" was "too funny enough."

As a pianist, Mrs. Green is very hard to equal. Her touch and expression show great talent and careful training. The University will gladly welcome this talented trio back at any time.

The Law class held its annual meeting Saturday night. Judge R. H. Hays presided over the moot court, and Mr. Murphy the retiring President of the class did likewise for the class.

Mr. R. H. Hayes was re-elected judge. Mr. J. A. Narron, vice president, Mr. Webb solicitor, Mr. W. W. Vass clerk of the court, Mr. Grady sheriff.

At the meeting of the class the following were elected officers:

Mr. Claudius Dockery president, Mr. W. S. Merritt vice president, Mr. R. L. Burns Historian, Mr. Fowler Treasurer.

COLLEGE NEWS.

C. O. Gill, Yale 88, will train Amherst's eleven this fall.

During President Dwight's administration of seven years, $4,000,000 has been given to Yale.

The University of the South is considering the advisability of establishing a school of journalism.

Wesleyan has an income of $70,000, which is expended in ways of direct service to the undergraduate.

A physical examination is required at the University of Penn. for students training for athletic teams.

Work on the new $60,000 Wesleyan gymnasium is being pushed rapidly. The whole is to be finished by June 1, 1894.

W. M. Richards, Yale 95, who won the 100 and 220 yards dashes at the last intercollegiate meeting, ran third and fourth, respectively in those events at the A. A. U. championships in Chicago.

The University of Pennsylvania is jubilant over the fact that an agreement has been signed with Harvard by which the two universities bind themselves to meet upon the foot ball field for two successive years.

George Witherbee, Cornell, 93, was drowned this summer by the capsizing of his yacht on Lake Champlain. He sacrificed his life in trying to save one of his companions. It was his intention to return to college this year to captain the foot ball team, on which he has played tackle for two years.

As the undergraduates and Alumni of both institutions desire it, there is probability of a great game between Harvard and Princeton ere Christmas. The respective teams have not met since the unpleasant occurrence of '89, and should a contest come off it will be watched with much real interest.

Yale bids fair to carry off the championship this year if heavy weights will prove of any avail. The centers is styled as "adamantine" by the New York World. Harvard is lacking in heavy men but otherwise is excellent while Princeton has not yet developed a team able to approach either of the former. She has very promising new material and is working it up to the best advantage.

All of President Cleveland's cabinet, except one, are college-bred men.

GAMES OF FOOT BALL SATURDAY.

Harvard	16	Dartmouth	0.
Princeton	20	Lafayette	0.
U. of Pa.	48	F. and Marshall	0.
Lehigh	52	Dickinson	0.

Adams is not playing centre for Pa. this year. Wagenhorst, formerly of Princeton is holding that position.

Harvard's centre Rush is a negro, he is said to be a fine player, if some one would hit him on the shins he would be no good. We people down here in the south know you can not hurt a negro by punching his head, but it is quite to the contrary if you tackle his other end.

Riddick who formerly captained Wake Forest is back this year.

Whitaker, Trinity's old centre Rush, is once more playing on that team after an absence of two years.
