

MISCELLANEOUS NOTES.

WINGED RICHES.

I would I were a dainty hat Perched lightly on my lady's brow; For then I know I would be worth A darn site more than I am now.

There are now in Connecticut thirty-four schools which prepare men for college.

The universities of Alabama and Tennessee have admitted ladies and it seems probable that the university of Virginia will do likewise.

There are in this world 147 educational institutions called universities. The largest is in Paris with 9,215 students, the the next in Vienna, with 6,220 students: the third in Berlin with 5,527. The smallest is a branch of Durham University.
Fourah Bay College, in Sierra Leone, with twelve students and five professors.—Ex.

The classes in social Pathology at Leland Stanford University, spent some days in studying criminal life in San Francisco.
Among other places they visited the jails and house of correction.

The college yell is a purely American invention and is unknown in other countries. In England the students simply cheer or scream the name of their college or university, no attempt is made at a rhythmic, measured yell as in this country.

In a German university a student's matriculation card shields him from arrest, admits him at half price to the theatres, and takes him free to the art galleries.

If this evening's telegram Of victory should tell, We'll gather round the bonfire While together we raise — But if the news defeat should be Within that telegram—
We'll crawl off to our downy beds And only murmur " —."
—Wisconsin Cardinal.

AN EPISODE.

They crossed the brook
In early May.
They crossed the brook,
One glance he took,
With laughter shook,
Then turned away,
They crossed the brook
In early May.

—Red and Blue.

THE BALLET.

We wonder at the excellence Attained by the ballet chorus, So gracefully they march and dance And pirouette before us.

Still more the wonder seems to spread Until quite universal,
Because they never have, tis said, E'en one full dress rehearsal.

—Cynic.

Harvard's great foot-ball thinker, Mr. Deland, has designed sixty-odd new tricks for the Harvard team.

Smith college is about to publish a paper which is to be unique in the college world, from the fact that it will contain no advertisement.

A fiend there is who walks this world Whose retort in the main is When e'er you proffer an excuse
"Oh Pshaw! agoer 'si canis."

Lehigh and the University of North Carolina will play on the Manhattan field in New York City on the 25th inst. This is the first game of any marked importance that has ever been arranged between a Northern and Southern college in any of the great foot ball centers.
North Carolina is fast becoming the recognized leader in Southern college athletics, and will early receive National recognition.—

The Library has been well attended to this fall and its usefulness and convenience have been increased. The valuable Wood's collection will soon be properly classified, catalogued and placed on the handsome stands provided for this purpose.
We notice too that the various documents on the higher shelves have been overhauled and the more interesting volumes placed conveniently on lower alcoves.
Various subjects have been grouped together, thus one list gives all the translations of the classics; another, the various works on Roman literature; another gives the standard historical novels in chronological order. Then, more than a hundred volumes have been added to the department of education and teaching, and in other departments new books, now ordered, will soon be placed.
We are glad to see these improvements, and we hope our students will use the Library as much as possible. Time spent with the books there will never be regretted.

A QUESTION OF HONOR.

Is it honorable for a man to attempt to see a game in the Park without paying for the privilege? The fence does not obstruct the view from certain places, and the fact has been mentioned that several members of the University saw the last game from there. It is to be deplored that there are any among us who set at naught the standards of honor and honesty established a hundred years ago. Only a few were concerned in the matter and surely the action was the result of simple thoughtlessness * * *

Utley's Shoe Shop.

For a first-class job of work go to UTLEY South of the Gymnasium Hall. He learned the trade thirty-one years ago and can give satisfaction in all repairs. Take your work to him and be convinced.

Respectfully,
