HARVARD'S NEW RULES.

Professionalism to Be Eradicated From Athletics.

The new athletic rules which are to purify Harvard athletics went into effect January 1. They are the final product of many year's work by old Harvard coaches and men who are leaders in her athletics. The new rules apply with equal severity to football, baseball and all track athletics. For years it has been argued by other colleges that professionalism creeps into Harvard athletics and is let go unmolested by the captains because the ineligible men are stars. The primary purpose of the system is to purify all individual and team athletics from any tinge of professionalism. These rules are drawn up and signed by Bertram G. Waters and George A. Stewart and take effect Jan. 1, 1894.

In defining the term amateur, the new rules say no students shall be allowed to represent Harvard University in any public athletic contest either individually or as a member of any team, who either before or since entering the university shall have engaged for money in any athletic competition, whether for a stake or a money prize or a share of the entrance fees or admission money; or who shall have taught or engaged in any athletic exercise or sport as a means of a livelihood. Again in speaking of bona fide students, no one shall be allowed to represent Harvard in any public contest either individually or as a member of any athletic team, unless he intends to be throughout a college year a bona fide member of the university, taking a full year's work. A student who is dropped for neglect of his studies into a lower class shall be debarred from taking part in inter-collegiate contests until the end of the next academic year, or permitted by the faculty to re-join his class. No one hereafter entering the university who is not a regular student in the college or scientific school or no regular student in either of these departments who has ever played in an inter-collegiate contest upon a class or university team of any other college shall play upon a Harvard team until he has resided one academic year at the university and passed the annual examinations upon a full year's work.

Of the time limit there is this regulation: No student, whether he has represented one or more colleges, shall take part in the inter-collegiate contests for more than four years; and this period shall begin with the year in which as a player in a university team, he first represented any college. In reckoning these four years, any year of probation and any year lost to a student by illness shall be excluded.

By these rules many Harvard star athletes will be thrown out of playing the remainder of this year. Especially will it weaken the baseball team.—Carolinian.

TWO POINTS OF VIEW.

HE.

Once I sent some roses, splendid hot-house roses,
Roses large and dear,
That the maiden dreamt I'd send her,
Roses all the year.

SHE.

Once I let him kiss me, shyly, gently
kiss me,
And I looked so meek,
And the stupid dreamt I'd give him
Kisses every week. —Ex.

"THE EDITOR IS OUT.

Out of ideas, out of news;
Out of clothes, out of shoes;
Out of all things—just about;
Thanks to those who will help us out.

Quiet street,
Banana peel;
Fat man,
Virginia reel.—Ex.

I'm plucked, I do admit;
I'm pitched, my mother dear;
Yet do not grieve for that,
Which happens every year.
I've waited very patiently,
I may have long to wait;
But you've another son, mother,
And he will graduate.—Ex.

THE SONG OF THE SOPHOMORE.

Cheeks as rich and brown as autumn,
Curves that I can ne'er forget,
So exquisite have I thought them;
Soul of fire, too, my brunette;
Disposition all caressing
Fragrant breath and lips so ripe,
I am happy in possessing
My old briarwood, bull-dog pipe. —Ex.

Ere long the wind will whistle,
But let us all be gay.
It cannot whistle "Comrades,"
Or "Ta-ra Boom-de-ray."

APROPOS THE SEASON.

There was nothing I could give her,
For in neither store nor stall
Could I find a Christmas present
That for her would do at all.
Still I swore I'd give her something,
Though it be a mustache cup,
But I found a cheaper present
Was to give my sweetheart—up.
—Very Wise.

We had a dream the other night,
When everything was still;
We dreamt that each subscriber came
Right up and paid his bill.—Ex.

The receipts of the Princeton Baseball Association last year amounted to over $11,000.
