POET'S CORNER.

A TRUE STORIE.

Ye Freshemenne called a classe meteing,
Upon last Saturdaye.

For to transacte some politickes.
"How ofte fonde hopes decaye."

Into ye Chappel they didde flocke
Where all arre want to praye
And they made readye to procede,
"How ofte fonde hopes decaye."

Tobias Connor tooke ye chaire
To speake he didde assaye
But mudd felle on hys auburn haire,
"How ofte fonde hopes decaye."

Ye Sophomores and Juniores too
With Seniores helde ye swaye
'Twas then ye Freshemenne knewe ful wele
"How ofte fonde hopes decaye."

In bettles huge from galleries
H2s teamede awaye
And following duste and flying chippes
Made fonde hope faste decaye.

Ye atmosohere most rankke didd cause
A Freshemann lean to saye
"I'll nott goe in 'til reddy," Oh!
"How faste fonde hopes decaye."

Ye Sophes encompassed hym about
Ye Freshemann stooode att baye
To force hym in seemede certainlie
"How ofte fond hopes have flown awaye."

Thatte Fresheman aimede a blowe att hym
Yclept Craige, R. "Hey-Day"!!!
He shrieked astart, reversed and fledd
Hys fonde hopes flown awaye

Thatt Freshemann showed somewhatt of fighte,
For tho' ful broad daye
Reflected rightte from blackened eyes
Helpede fonde hope faste decaye.

Eftsoones some frends persuaded hym
Thatte he hadd gon astraye
So verye cooly walked he in
With hope fame from decaye.

But still ye upper classmen rippede
And reared and yellede Hooraye!!
Until Fresh hopes of projectinge
Hadd faded farre awaye.

And so from out ye chappel doores
They came in loose arraye,
While in swifte swepte the Sophomores
Who chased Fresh hopes awaye.

And then those jollie Sophomores
Didd elect for all and aye
A ticket full for thatte same classe
Whose hopes hadd spedd awaye.

Wilkes Caldwell, he was president,
And Vice was Bill McDade.
Bur soon the hope which now arose
Was doomde, was doomde to fade.

The newe-elect doffed lawe their hattes,
"We muste resign" said they.
"From classe like thys, too green to bearr"
Alle hope nowe fled awaye.

And thys is why ye Freshemenne have
No officers to-daye,
And thys is why they walke aboute
With lowly mien and waye.

Oh, ther gude folke who rede thys tale
Forever and a daye
Remember, and reminde your kinn
Thatte ofte fonde hopes decaye.
Thys was not writ by Meister Percy.

captured the house, that he was compelled to return and proffer acknowledgements. "Why doth the Freshman!", an encore, and very well rendered, recalled to many upper classmen their experiences in early days and yet the question was, as always, unanswerable from the standpoint of sound philosophy. As before remarked, the concert, as a whole, was good and satisfied every one, with the belief that with more practice and self-confidence, our Glee Club will forge ahead of last year's. Prof. Harrington has done his utmost to develop a club worthy of the University, and he deserves unlimited gratitude, but it must be borne in mind that the professor is not endowed with sixteen voices, nor with contour sufficiently magnitudinous to occupy a rostrum alone.

The Club left Monday last for a tour through the following towns: Greensboro, Salisbury, Charlotte and Winston, where they will hold forth respectively, on February 5, 6, 7 and 8. The gentlemen composing the organization are:

First Tenor—Daingerfield, McSorley, Mangum, Cooke.

Second Tenor—McKinne, McAllister, Eatman, Webb.

First Bass—Roberson, Patterson, McMullan, Lindsay.

Second Bass—Stanley, Bahnsen, Benbow, McKenzie.

AMONG THE COLLEGES.

A medical school is soon to be established at Princeten.

Harvard is making arrangements to hold an intercollegiate cycling tournament at Cambridge in May.

The junior class at Stanford will publish an annual to be "The Stanford Quad."

There's heads and heads and heads,
Long heads; round heads and flat;
Some are made to carry brains
And some just carry hats.—Ex.

The seniors at Brown will wear the cap and gown during the spring term.

The annual boat race between the University of Pennsylvania and Cornell will be rowed next June on the Delaware river, near Philadelphia.

The net receipts of the Princeton Football team for the past season were about $6,500.

Last year's Yale crew have been awarded trophies in the shape of gold link cuff buttons.
