EASTER SERVICES.

METHODIST CHURCH—NIGHT.

The evening in the Methodist church was devoted to a song service. The pastor, Mr. Watson, reminded those who were familiar with the Old Testament worship of how large a place music held in that worship, and then gave a short sketch of Charles Wesley, "the greatest writer of hymns." Methodism started in a college, among college men, and Charles Wesley did no less by his hymns than John by his open-air preaching to spread abroad its doctrines. The congregation then joined in singing, "Jesus, lover of my soul," after Mr. Watson had given a short history of the hymn, stating that Mr. Wesley received the inspiration to write it while crossing the Atlantic as a missionary.

After several other songs, Prof. Harrington gave a talk on the hymn, "Come, oh, thou traveler unknown," which touches the high water-mark of Wesley hymn writing, but is comparatively unknown, owing to the difficulty of getting tunes to suit the metre. Of this hymn Watts, the Calvinist hymn writer, said, "It is worth all I ever wrote."

The congregation was composed almost entirely of students, and the large church was well filled despite the driving rain and general unpleasant weather.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Very appropriate and pleasant Easter services were held in the Episcopal church on last Sunday morning.

The church was prettily decorated with flowers, which gave a cheerful aspect in spite of the bad weather outside. The rain prevented the appearance of the usual quota of new bonnets and spring suits, but did not keep away the crowd, for the church was full to overflowing.

The Rector, Dr. Towers, gave a most scholarly discussion of the origin and growth of our modern Easter, showing how it has developed from an observance entirely without religious meaning or symbolism to its present position as the commemoration of the most important event of the Christian era.

The music was especially good and appropriate, and raised the thoughts of every one to "The giver of every good and perfect gift."

Bowers, the former Yale pitcher, has been engaged to coach the Oberlin team.

GLEE CLUB TOUR.

The Glee Club left last Monday for its second trip, and was billed to appear in Raleigh, Fayetteville, Wilmington, New Berne and Goldsboro. The very tasty programme used on the trip was as follows:

PART I.

- 1. The Way It's Done at Yale. Yale Glee Club. 2. Integer Vitae. Yale Glee Club. 3. Rub-a-Dub. Winton. 4. Romeo and Juliet. Yale Glee Club. Solo, Mr. McKenzie. 5. Come, Rally To-night. Yale Songs. Warbler, Mr. Mangum.

PART II.

- 1. The Way It's Done at Harvard. Harvard Songs. 2. Little Johnny. Arr. by Berry. Solo, Mr. McKenzie. 3. (a) Miller's Song. Harvard Songs. (b) My Flo. 4. The Party at Odd Fellows' Hall. Altkinson. Solo, Mr. McKenzie. 5. The Letter. Hutton.

PART III.

- 1. The Way It's Done at North Carolina. K. P. H. 2. A Cannibal Idyl. Taber. 3. The Song of the A. B. U. N. C. Songs. 4. Cradle Song. Harrington. 5. My Old Kentucky Home. Foster. Solo, Mr. McKenzie.

The Club sang in Raleigh at the Academy of Music on the evening of March 26. The audience was fair in two senses, as a good number were present and a large per cent. were female; the "quality" were out in full evening dress, ready for the Capital Club german after the concert. Parties from Peace and St. Mary's occupied reserved portions; the Lehigh and U. N. C. teams were present in bodies and gave their yells.

The singing was especially fine, smooth and without any hitch or flaw. The audience seemed to enjoy the renditions, but failed to show their appreciation by very frequent encores.

Mr. McKenzie made his usual fine impression, being applauded every time he appeared. He was recalled after "Romeo and Juliet," and gave "Michal;" after "The Party at Odd Fellows' Hall," and sang "The Laughing Song," which was also encored. The N. C. Medley was well received. The "Cradle Song" was encored, and Mr. Roberson sang a solo, "Peter Gray." On the whole, the concert was a success, as the singing was good and the audience was rather large. At the close of the last piece the Club lined up and yelled:

Hackie! Hackie! Hackie! Siss! Boom! Bah! Carolina! Carolina! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Lehigh!
