Those present were Prof. Harrington, Mr. Baskerville, Mr. Pugh, Messrs. Wilson, Sawyer, Ellis, Gillespie, Alexander, Carr, F., Howell, Myers, Turner, Bingham, Horne, Lindsey, Patterson and Thompson, H. It was a very nice affair. In conversation, music and refreshments, the time passed rapidly and the guests took leave of the charming hostesses with much regret, when the unpleasant duties of the morrow were called to mind.

HOW WE STAND.

Although the championship of the South is tied between the Universities of North Carolina and Virginia, yet it would be well to see how those colleges stand relatively to games played with the same teams:

U. Va. v. Yale.....	4-28	U. N. C. v. Yale.....	4-7
U. Va. v. Yale.....	11-13	U. N. C. v. Lehigh.....	12-7
U. Va. v. Lehigh.....	11-4	U. N. C. v. Lehigh.....	6-1
U. Va. v. Vermont, 5-12		U. N. C. v. Vermont, 6-7
U. Va. v. Vermont, 11-8		U. N. C. v. Vermont, 10-3
U. Va. v. Lafayette, 3-7		U. N. C. v. Lafayette, 1-2
U. Va. v. Lafayette, 7-5		U. N. C. v. Lafayette, 5-6
U. Va. v. U. N. C., 10-2		U. N. C. v. U. Va., 4-2

Virginia has lost five games to our four. Disregarding the games Virginia played with the Baltimore League team, they have won nine games out of fourteen, while we have won ten out of fourteen; we were defeated twice by one run, but Virginia played no games so close. Though we cannot claim the championship, yet we have the greatest team we have ever put out; it has met some of the finest teams in the country, and made the best record in the South.

Pretty Girl (suggestively)—I hear that kissing cures headache.
Freshman (guilelessly)—I never have headaches.—Princeton Tiger.

It is said that there is one instructor for every six students at Chicago University.

The boy got off the burning deck
And stood up at the bat,
And gasped as the inshoot caught his neck,
"Ye gods, where am I at?"
—Vanderbilt Hustler.

CAPTAIN OLDHAM.

At a meeting of the base-ball men on Tuesday, Mr. J. M. Oldham, '94, was elected captain of the base-ball team for the season of 1895. This was a very wise selection for many reasons. Oldham knows more ball than any other member of the team; his knowledge of the game, gained through four years playing on the 'Varsity team, with valuable experience in captaining the Rocky Mount team last summer, especially fits him for the position. It is of course needless to express our wish that he will return to college next year; should he do so, we predict that by his skillful management and the good example of his own fine playing, the '95 team will eclipse the brilliant record of '94.
