Damascus High School.

This school was established only one year ago but judging from the high quality of their Commencement exercises, held on Friday, the 17th. it is an excellent preparatory school.

The principals of the school are Messrs. W. C. Wicker, of the class of '95 and Herbert Scholz, A. M. of Elon College. They are assisted in the department of music by Miss Emma Harward.

The school is situated at Lindsay a few miles from the Hill and includes both sexes in its enrollment of over sixty pupils.

The exercises in the morning consisted of orations by the male, and recitations by the female members of the class. In the afternoon, Mr. H. H. Horne, A. M. '95 delivered an address on "What Education does for a Man." His address was thoughtful, well chosen and added a great deal to the occasion.

At night the exercises consisted of dialogues, tableaux and music.

They were much enjoyed by all who heard them. The head of the music department deserves much credit for the performance of her pupils.

Many of the students and towns people attended the exercises and all report a very enjoyable trip.

THE TAR HEEL congratulates the principals on their good work and wishes them much success with their school.

The Tale of a Night.

On a summer's night with a pale full moon
While all who were honest slept,
The band of "Theta" formed in line
And to the campus crept
Slowly they moved without a sound.
Devoid almost of life
Until behind them left their den
To come out for the strife.
Then there broke upon the air
A noise both loud and long,
As they disturbed our slumbers sweet
With drum and fife and song.
Proudly they marched to "column right"
And then to "column left"
While "cussed" and told by all around
They were of mind bereft.
But curses and anathemas
They did not mind at all,
Much more than that was needed
To fill their stock of gall.
But "Senator from the Lone Star State",
Their noble cohorts spied
With angry eye he glanced at them
And to his valet cried:
"Bring forth my implements of war,
Of fire, death and flame.
I'll run that "Theta" band of roughs
Right back from where they came,
I'll teach them I the ruler am
In these precincts at least.
I'll tear their brains from out their skulls
And throw them to the beasts."
Then out he came prepared to fight
And charged them crying, "Yield,"
And with unearthly cries and groans
He drove them from the field,
And thus the "Thetas" he dispersed
And drove them to their den,
All honor be to him, we say,
May they not come again.

Cathode Rays.

"If you could know my thoughts" he said,
"To me you would be wedded."
"I've used my headlights, Sir," she said,
And found that you're light-headed.
Ben Franklin.

'Tis better to have loved and lost.
The poet sings in plaintive rhyme
Of course it is, for then you can
"Make love again some other time."
Ex.

During last year 26,000 excuses were presented at Harvard, representing an absence from college duties of over 16,000 days.
