

LOCALS.

All the girls say that Prince Carr is a second edition of Apollo.

We hear that that Prof. Toy is learning to ride a wheel with a truly presidential twist.

Colonel Dempsie Grimes is to be sued, we hear, for injury done to fences while learning to ride the wheel.

Dr. M. D. King, a graduate of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, has located in the city. His office is in connection with Dr. Headen's.

Grapes are reported to be plentiful this year. Dr. Wilson's vine is said to be unusually full. Does anybody know for certain?

Mr. George Stephens, our great ball player is visiting on the Hill. He intends going into the insurance business in Charlotte and we wish him the greatest success.

Freshmen seem to have passed into insignificance now; nobody pays any attention to them, not even sophomores. We never saw such a peaceful time.

We are pleased to hear that Mr. J. D. Curry, pastor of the Presbyterian church, is improving and will soon be out. Mr. Curry has been suffering and confined to his room for about four weeks with a painful carbuncle.

It was feared that Mr. C. H. Johnson was threatened with serious illness, but we are glad to say that it has been averted and he is able to be out again after four or five days confinement in the infirmary.

Miss Winnie Skinner, who has been visiting on the Hill, has returned to Greenville. Miss Skinner has made many friends here by her charming manners and winning ways, all of whom are plunged into deep grief by her departure.

On Wednesday, 23 inst., Orange Presbytery convened here to continue in session one week. Thirty ministers are in attendance. Sunday all the pulpits in the village will be filled by special appointment from this number.

All the students are invited to attend the services.

We acknowledge the receipt of the American University Magazine for September.

The series of articles by Dr. Baskerville on the University is continued in this number and contains much that will be of interest and information to all U. N. C. men. In addition to this will be found a brief sketch of Dr. Winstou by the same writer. Dr. Baskerville is doing a good work by placing our University before the minds of the people and he deserves much praise and credit.

In this number the University of Virginia is also well written up. The writer of this article made one error, however, which we would like to mention.

The games played by U. Va. and U. N. C. are mentioned with the exception of the game played in the spring of '94, when U. N. C. won by a score 4-2. The omission we believe was not intentional. Atone-ment is made in part, however, when the writer concludes as follows: "In '95 we won from North Carolina in the championship game at Richmond on Thanksgiving day, though it was evident that the N. C. men put up the strongest game."
