

LOCALS.

Mr. R. L. Gray, ex '96, came up for the German last Monday.

Mr. E. W. Myers, '95, attended the German on the 12th.

President Alderman will leave for Princeton on Saturday.

Miss Lake, of New York, is still visiting at Dr. Ball's.

President Alderman was in Raleigh early part of this week.

The team will go to Greensboro Saturday to play a second game with Guilford.

Commons opened its second month with one hundred and fifty men.

Miss Laura Payne of Washington, D. C., is visiting Miss Dot Manning.

Work on the '97 Hellenian has been begun by its energetic editor-in-chief, Mr. Darius Eatman, '97.

Mr. A. Burwell is the best authority on the advantages of being a stag.

Some much needed and radical improvements are soon to be made in the University.

Manager Carmichael went to Greensboro ahead of the team to make arrangements for the game today.

Gerrard Hall is to undergo thorough renovation and improvement, and when finished will be (if such is possible) a thing of beauty.

Mrs. Baskerville went down to Raleigh Tuesday with her sister, Miss Snow, who came up for the German.

Mr. Alf. Thompson, ex '99, was on the Hill last Saturday for the purpose of seeing the Guilford game.

The University will send a collection of pictures to the State Fair to be placed in the Educational Exhibit.

We are sorry to learn that Mr. Cheatham, '00, has been called to his home in Henderson, by the sudden death of his sister, and extend him our sincere sympathy.

Messrs. S. B. Shepherd, '97, C. R. Dey, '98, F. A. Gudger, '98, J. Webb, '98, C. S. Carr, '98, and T. N. Webb, '98, have been initiated into the Gimghouls.

The Y. M. C. A. Bible classes are getting nicely started.

The Y. M. C. A. is trying to make an engagement with Evangelist Weston R. Gales to come and conduct a series of meetings here. Mr. Gales is said to be a powerful worker.

Prof. Mechling reports that men generally in the gymnasium are making rapid improvement. He says, however, that there are a few, some ten or twelve, who are doing no good but are depriving themselves of advantages in a manner sad to see by going through their exercises in a lifeless sort of way.

Of course we don't want to be wasteful but we would like to have the raw edge taken off the atmosphere in the recitation rooms by a fire these mornings. The students can't pay any sort of attention when half their time is taken up freezing to death.

Wake Forest Student.

The first number of the Wake Forest Student is before us and is a creditable issue in every particular.

It is neat in arrangement and typographical make-up, and contains some well written essays and stories. The editorial department is without doubt the best feature.

We wish our contemporary success and shall anxiously await its monthly visits.

We notice in the list of papers presented at the meeting of American Association for the Advancement of Science the following of interest to U. N. C. men:

Section c. F. P. Venable, Professor of Chemistry: The use of the periodic law in teaching general chemistry. E. A. deSchweinitz, '82, Assistant Professor of Natural History, 1884-85; Value and use of formaldehyde as a disinfectant. Section c. Collier Cobb, '82, Professor of Geology: Origin of topographic features in North Carolina.

Dissecting room; time: 11:30 P. M.

1st Stiff—Well, how do you feel now?

2nd Stiff—Dreadfully cut up; that young fellow hacked my arm all to pieces.

1st Stiff—You should look at the humerus side of it.

2nd Stiff—Oh, saw it off, will you?

And then the other murmured softly. "Just tell them that they're sawing me."—Ex.
