A Drawn Battle.

en and Belden responds like a hero with a fifty yard punt that causes the Virginia lads to fill the air with all sorts of sulfurous phrases. The ball is now in the center of the field in Blacksburg's possession. By hard rushes the sphere is carried to Carolina's twenty-five yard line and secured by the 'Varsity on downs.

Belden punts and Carolina secures the ball. Again he punts and Best falls on the ball fifteen yards from Virginia's goal. The 'Varsity is held for three downs and it is Virginia's ball. Steady gains were made by Blacksburg's backs and the ball was forced to Carolina's twenty-eight yard line when time for the second half was called.

Blacksburg's team is heavy and well trained. The line stood like a wall and our light backs could make but slight impression upon it. Blacksburg's right guard's net weight is two hundred and twenty pounds and the rest are like unto him. We congratulate our men on being able to keep out of the way of these giants of the mountains and prevent their scoring. Carolina played on the defensive and Belden's long punts at critical moments doubtless prevented Blacksburg's scoring.

The star players for Virginia were Ingles Eskridge, Johnson and Treadwell. For the 'Varsity Wright and Whitaker carried off the honors, but Belden's full back work was a very brilliant feature.

The line up of the teams was as follows:

Blacksburg.		Carolina.
Johnson,	L. E.	Whitaker,
Starke,	L. T.	Wright,
Pelster,	L. G.	Neville,
Herbert, R. A.,	C.	Joyner,

A Fantasia of Football.

[From Town Topics.]

The football boy is in the field:
O, here's to his rosy hair!
He has gritted his teeth and he's out on the heath
With blood to spill and spare.
He has pads on his legs and muffs on his ears,
And a shield across his nose.
And he dives in the game with an eye of flame,
And massacres his foes!

O, hurrah for the lad with the lusty legs
And the glad, vociferous shout;
Football he can play in the orthodox way,
And kick your front teeth out.

The football boy is out for blood:
O, here's to his leathery jaw!
He can smash all his bones, break his face on the stones,
And then sing out for more.
He has brawn in his arms and thews in his thighs,
And muscle all over his frame;
He can knock you dead with a butt of his head,
And frolic on just the same.

O, hurrah for the lad with the iron chest
And the bayonet of snappy hair!
May he trample and pound all his foes in the ground
And make merry at their despair.

The football boy's again on deck:
O, here's to his ardor hot!
He would crack all your ribs, would his festive nibs,
Yes, just as soon as not!
Your chest he will crush with one soulful thump
Of his fairy foot, you bet!
And won't give a — if your whole diaphragm
He shatters, without regret.

O, hurrah for the lad with the livid jowl,
Who's out for grime and gore!
May he kill all his foes with a kick in the nose,
For that's what we're living for!

A Wonderful Invention

Zoology teaches that the hairs of the head are hollow, and contain an oil that gives them life. In clipping the hair with scissors, this hollow is left open, and the hair loses its life-giving properties. I have a Machine named the Singeing Machine, which removes the hair and at the same time closes up the hollow, causing the hair to retain its life-giving properties, and therefore stopping the hair from falling out or dying, and giving it a soft growth. Call and examine this machine and have your hair singed. Special attention given to dressing Ladies' hair, cutting done with exquisite and artistic skill. The old University Barber of twenty years' experience. The singeing machine is highly recommended by scientists throughout the country. Very Respectfully,
T. D. DUNSTAN,
Professor of Tonsorial Art.
