A Wonderful Invention

Zoology teaches that the hairs of the head are hollow, and contain an oil that gives them life. In clipping the hair with scissors, this hollow is left open, and the hair loses its life-giving properties.

I have a Machine named the Singeing Machine, which removes the hair and at the same time closes up the hollow, causing the hair to retain its life-giving properties, and therefore stopping the hair from falling out or dying, and giving it a soft growth.

Call and examine this machine and have your hair singed.

Special attention given to dressing Ladies' hair. Cutting done with exquisite and artistic skill by the old University Barber of twenty years' experience.

The singeing machine is highly recommended by scientists throughout the country.

Very Respectfully,
T. D. DUNSTAN,
 Professor of Tonsorial Art.

The College World.

Hugh Jennings will coach Georgia's baseball players this year.

The societies of Virginia are in a squabble over the Magazine editors.

Tulane's inter-collegiate letter enterprise is meeting with much success and encouragement.

Every student entering the Kansas Wesleyan University is required to subscribe for the college paper.

The Columbia Musical Society will this year present "Cleopatra," an opera which is entirely the work of undergraduates.

Vice-President-elect Garret A. Hobart has presented $5,000 to Rutgers college, of which college he is an alumnus.

America has three hundred Universities and England ninety-four yet there are two thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight more professors in the latter than in the former.

The committee of college graduates who have had the management of the annual Yale-Princeton football game in hand for the past five years, after careful deliberation, have decided to urge the colleges to hold their annual games and all their athletic contests on college grounds.

At the meeting of Western university presidents in Madison, Wisconsin, which ended on January 7, a committee, consisting of President C. K. Adams of the University of Wisconsin, President A. S. Draper, of Illinois, and President F. H. Snow, of Kansas, was appointed to recommend rules for the regulation of football and of inter-collegiate athletics in general throughout the West.

The English college boys are now playing football on horseback.

A handball club will soon be organized at Yale and a special court is now being built.

Pitcher Dwyer, of the Cincinnati team, will coach the University of Virginia baseball team next spring.

Dr. Daniel G. Brinton, Professor of Archaeology and Linguistics at U. of P., has just advanced the theory that all savages are insane.

Franklin and Marshal College is in luck. Gen. J. Watt de Peyster recently gave our F. & M. friends the handsome sum of $30,000 with which to erect a new library building.

The Woman's College, of Frederick, Md., has been made the recipient of a gift of $20,000 by Mrs. Margaret E. Hood of that city. This sum is to be used as an endowment for a professorship to be named in honor of James Mefflin Hood the deceased husband of the donor.

One-half of 1 per cent. of the population of the United States are college graduates. From this comparatively small number are drawn 46 per cent. of the United States Representatives, 54 per cent. of the United States Senators, 62 per cent. of the Vice-Presidents, 70 per cent. of the Speakers of the House, and 90 per cent. of the United States Chief Justices.

Efforts are being made at Harvard to procure increased distinction in study. The great tendency of students to indulge in athletics for the sake of fame has induced the movement. The scholarships are hereafter to be open to competitive examination; heretofore they have been given to the needy.
