A Wonderful Invention

Zoology teaches that the hairs of the head are hollow, and contain an oil that gives them life. In clipping the hair with scissors, this hollow is left open, and the hair loses its life-giving properties.

I have a Machine named the Singeing Machine, which removes the hair and at the same time closes up the hollow, causing the hair to retain its life-giving properties, and therefore stopping the hair from falling out or dying, and giving it a soft growth.

Call and examine this machine and have your hair singed.

Special attention given to dressing Ladies' hair. Cutting done with exquisite and artistic skill by the old University Barber of twenty years' experience.

The singeing machine is highly recommended by scientists throughout the country.

Very Respectfully,
T. D. DUNSTAN,
Professor of Tonsorial Art.

Carolina. McKee out at first from Robinson to Gillender. Johnson struck out. Rogers got first, hit by pitched ball and scores on Williams's two-bagger to deep centre field, but Pat was out by a drive to Huston in centre field.

Penn. 5; Carolina 4.

EIGHTH INNING.

Penn. Jackson safe at first on Johnson's error and stole second. Brown struck out, and Rogers took in Huston's fly, retiring the side.

Carolina. Winston safe by a slide to first and went to third on Belden's drive to centre field. Belden steals second. Honeycutt hit a pretty drive to right field but was out. Winston was called out on a slide back to third. Belden steals wild throw by Brown. Bailey hit a three-bagger to centre field and Belden tied the score.
