YALE WINS, AND PRINCETON TOO.

Good Attendance and Much Enthusiasm at Danville.

YALE 19, CAROLINA 15. PRINCETON 9, CAROLINA 2.

The Game on Tuesday with Yale One of Hard Hitting and Great Excitement. Anybody's Game up to the Ninth Inning. On Wednesday Mangum Pitches Hard Against Princeton but Is Feebly Supported.

A crowd of more than five hundred viewed the game with Yale at Danville on Tuesday. It was one of heavy slugging and many errors. The day was chilly and the game was long drawn out lasting over three hours. It was, on account of the cold, a hard game for pitcher and fielders. Williams staid in the box for Carolina until the last inning, while Yale in the seventh substituted Fincke for Wallace.

Yale held the lead until the fourth when the 'Varsity tied. Connecticut again forged ahead in the fifth. The score in the sixth held a balance of three to the credit of Carolina. Yale, however, in the seventh piled up five runs and added three in the eighth.

Errors were about even with thirteen for the 'Varsity and six for Yale. Bailey did good batting with two doubles and a pair of singles. Williams got a single and a triple that scored three men in the sixth inning. Stanley's fielding at second was a feature of the game.

Below is given the game by innings:

FIRST INNING.

Yale. Williams in box for Carolina. Keaton gets first on balls and sees third on hit by Hamlin, who makes first. Keaton scores on Greenway's fly muffed at second. Hamlin makes third. Letton's fly pulled by McKee. Hamlin scores. Wear hits to right field and Greenway scores. Fincke out at first. Wear scores on low hit to left field by Camp, who steals second and reaches third on passed ball. Bartlett out at first.

Carolina. Wallace in box for Yale. Stanly is thrown out at first. Winston holds first on safe hit to centre field. Belden gets a two-bagger advancing Winston to third. Bailey gets two bags by long slide to second, sending in Winston and Belden. The crowd goes wild. Whitaker thrown out at first. McKee fouls out.

Yale 4; Carolina 2.

SECOND INNING.

Yale. Wallace hits safe to first and steals second. Keaton out by fly to McKee. Wallace makes third. Hamlin thrown out at first, Wallace scoring. Greenway makes first on safe hit. Letton thrown out at first. Carolina. Johnson walks. Rogers

Yale 5; Carolina 2.

THIRD INNING.

Yale. Wear fans out. Fincke base on balls. Camp makes first and Fincke second. Steals third. Bartlett first on balls. Wallace hits to Belden, makes first, scoring Fincke. Keaton hits high to Whitaker and out. Hamlin fans vainly.

Carolina. Belden hits to Camp, out at first. Bailey strikes out. Whitaker takes first on balls, steals second and reaches third on wild throw to second. McKee safe at first on Camp's fumble. Whitaker coming in. McKee crosses plate on Johnson's hit to short. Johnson steals second. Rogers out at first.

Yale 5; Carolina 4.

FOURTH INNING.

Yale. Greenway out by prettiest catch of the game on dead run by McKee. Letton out at first. Wear walks. Fincke hits to second. Wear out at second.

Carolina. Williams has three bags on long hit to centre. Stanly safe at first on hit to short. Williams put out at home. Stanly dives for third on Winston's safe hit to short. Winston steals second. Belden out at first. Bailey lifts high over left fence for a two bagger, scoring Stanly and Winston. Whitaker strikes out.

Yale 6; Carolina 6.

FIFTH INNING.

Yale. Camp makes first, steals second. Bartlett base on balls. Wallace advances both Camp and Bartlett. Keaton hits to left field bringing in two runs. Hamlin flies out to Whitaker. Greenway, Yale's best batter, strikes out. Letton scores two men by hit to left field. Wear strikes out.

Carolina. McKee out at first. Johnson thrown out at first. Rogers walks, steals second. Williams has four balls. Stanly safe at first on Camp's fumble. Three men on bases. Winston walks, forcing Rogers in. Belden out on high fly to Letton.

Yale 10; Carolina 7.

SIXTH INNING.

Yale. Fincke out at first. Camp captures first on balls. Bartlett hits to second. Camp and Bartlett both out on daisy double play.

Carolina. Bailey makes first and steals second. Whitaker hit by pitched ball. McKee reaches first and Bailey third. Rogers walks, forcing Bailey in. Williams hits long to centre scoring three runs and reaching third. Wild cheering. Stanley brings in Williams by hit to short stop, steals second and goes over the plate on wild throw. Tar Heel supporters cheer themselves hoarse. Winston out at first. Belden pops fly in pitcher's hands.

Yale 10; Carolina 13.

LEHIGH TIES

The First.

Wins on Monday.

More than a Thousand Spectators

View Monday's Game at Winston-Salem.

THE SECOND LEHIGH GAME.

The 'Varsity lost the second Lehigh game more by the old "Jonah" of listlessness than anything else. This game was played at Winston-Salem on Monday of this week, and was mainly successful from a financial point of view.

For an hour before the game, streams of carriages of all sorts were wending their way toward the ball park. The street cars were loaded down, and many pedestrians added to the large number on their way to see the game.

The crowd at the park was fully one thousand, and while the "white and blue" were to be seen everywhere, nevertheless the "brown and white" of Lehigh were not lacking.

All "Winston-Salem" seemed to be fired with base-ball enthusiasm, even the "Salem Academy" girls being allowed the priceless privilege of standing out in front of the main building and cheering the passers-by.

The game itself was on the whole very good. It was not so interesting from a Carolina point of view, as the 'Varsity was weak at the beginning of the game, and allowed Lehigh to make several runs and get ahead of them, and then proceeded to pull themselves together and play something like "Tar Heel" base-ball toward the end of the game.

Mangum again pitched a fine game, but his good work could not count for much, when he received such poor support. Bailey again played a "star" game for Carolina. While his throwing to "second" was not all that could be desired, his catching was magnificent, and he added two "three-baggers" and a single to his batting record.

Senior pitched good ball for Lehigh, though the 'Varsity "found" him very well, at times. He led in the batting for the "brown and white", getting two singles, and a beautiful home run in the fifth, by a long drive to deep centre-field. Capt. Carman did some fine work behind the bat, and the general fielding of his team was good.

Mr. Taylor of Greensboro umpired the game in a brilliant manner, not one of his decisions being questioned.
