Recent Additions to the Library

The library has recently come into possession of two sets of valuable reference books.

Mrs. M. E. Bridgers, of Wilmington, has given as a memorial to her husband, the late Col. R. R. Bridgers, a complete set of the National Cyclopaedia of American Biography. This work includes the names of many not mentioned in Appleton's. An index in each to each volume to all the preceding volumes makes the references easy to find. Dr. Kemp P. Battle is one of the contributors. Mrs. Bridgers has the thanks of us all for such an acceptable and useful gift.

Another biographical dictionary, of two volumes, the gift of Col. J. S. Carr, deals largely with men who have attained success in business, rather than with authors, statesmen and politicians. In America's Successful Men, the names of Paul C. Cameron, J. S. Carr and Thos. M. Holt, from North Carolina, are mentioned.

The Werner Company's gift of the supplement to the Encyclopaedia Britannica, four volumes of which have appeared, will supply much new matter not included in the original. This denation included a new edition of a Guide to Systematic Reading in the Encyclopedia Britannica, which may truly be called a key to the Britannica. In it specific references following proper introductory remarks, are given to various subjects in the Britannica, such as Readings for Young People, Reading in Science, Philosophy, History, Mythology, etc., Readings for the Teacher, the Lawyer, the Physician, the Farmer, the Geologist, the Chemist, the Public Speaker, etc.

Circular letters are being sent out asking for donations of historical and biographical pamphlets, etc.

A Wonerful Invention

Zoology teaches that the hairs of the head are hollow, and contain an oil that gives them life. In clipping the hair with scissors, this hollow is left open, and the hair loses its life-giving properties.

I have a Machine named the Singeing Machine, which removes the hair and at the same time closes up the hollow, causing the hair to retain its life-giving properties, and therefore stopping the hair from falling out or dying, and giving it a soft growth.

Call and examine this machine and have your hair singed.

Special attention given to dressing Ladies' hair. Cutting done with exquisite and artistic skill by the old University Barber of twenty years' experience.

The singeing machine is highly recommended by scientists throughout the country. Very Respectfully,

T. D. DUNSTAN,
Professor of Tonsorial Art.

relating to the history of N. C. and the South, and quite a nice collection is expected as a result.

The following accessions to the library may be mentioned:

Marley's English Writers, 3 vols.
Saintsbury's The Flourishing of a Comedy, Dictionary of National Biographies, vol. 50, Merredith's Essays on Comedy. Quite a number of bound periodicals have been added.

The Sunday School Times, publication of the N. C. Baptist Hist. Association, The Dial, American Journal of Sociology, Church Standard, the TAR HEEL exchanges, the First Battle by W. J. Bryan.

Messrs. J. S. and J. Carr, and Lipscomb spent last Sunday in Durham.

Judge James E. Shepherd arrived on the Hill last Sunday and has taken charge of the Law Department. Judge Shepherd will be on the Hill off and on for the next ten days, but after that will take complete control of the Law School until Dr. Manning recovers his former vigor.

Spalding's Base Ball Guide.

Spalding's Base Ball Guide for 1897, which has just been published, is especially interesting to college men, as it contains a complete record of all the games played by the leading colleges during 1896, and portraits of the most prominent college base-ball teams of the country. The new playing rules have the alterations and amendments printed in italics, which is a decided improvement, and the lists of averages of all the leagues and associations are very complete. Beside the college portraits, the book contains picture of all the leading teams of the country, embracing altogether nearly 500 separate photos. The Guide will be sent on receipt of 10 cents to any address in the United States or Canada by the American Sports Publishing Co., 241 Broadway, New York.
