A Wonderful Invention.

Zoology teaches that the hairs of the head are hollow, and contain an oil that gives them life. In clipping the hair with scissors, this hollow is left open, and the hair loses its life-giving properties.

I have a Machine named the Singeing Machine, which removes the hair and at the same time closes up the hollow, causing the hair to retain its life-giving properties, and therefore stopping the hair from falling out or dying, and giving it a soft growth.

Call and examine this machine and have your hair singed.

Special attention given to dressing Ladies' hair. Cutting done with exquisite and artistic skill by the old University Barber of twenty years' experience.

The singeing machine is highly recommended by scientists throughout the country. Very Respectfully,

T. D. DUNSTAN,
Professor of Tonsorial Art.

Dialectic Hall, University of N. C., November 6, 1897.

Whereas, in the ordering of an All-wise Providence, God has seen fit to remove from the sorrows of this world in the death of General Thomas L. Clingman, a member of the Dialectic Society, and WHEREAS we, his fellow-members, desiring to put on record a testimonial of our appreciation of his former services to his state in the capacity of representative in both bodies of the Federal Congress and his unusual ability as an orator and a leader of men, be it therefore—

RESOLVED, that as a mark of respect to his memory, we drape our Hall in mourning for a period of sixty days, And be it further

RESOLVED, that we spread upon a page of our minutes set apart for that purpose a copy of these resolutions and also cause copies of the same to be published in the TAR HEEL, the University Magazine, and the several State papers.
